VETERANS OF THE WAR

Pouring Into Milwaukee Ready for the Opening of the Encampment.

The Cream City Opens Its Arms and Its Houses to the Guests.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 26.—The beautiful Cream City opens her arms today to the veterans of the republic. The first glimpse of the morning sun found her astir, under a canopy of banners and flags. There is scarcely a business house in the center of the city that is without its covering of red and white and blue. In the parks, and out in the broad thoroughfares of the suburbs the ground is dotted with white tents, which, within the next twelve hours, will be occupied by veterans from the North and the South, the East and the West. The doors of thousands of private residences have been thrown open to the visitors, the arrangements for feeding the multitude are complete, the citizens' committee has a guarantee fund of a quarter of million dollars, and if a single one of the 300,000 expected leaves the city in anything but a satisfied state of mind, it will not be the fault of the energetic men who have been laboring for months in order that the encampment of '89 may be the most successful from every point of view.

Today is being given up entirely to the reception of the delegations from abroad, and they are arriving by the train-load almost hourly. It is calculated that up to 10 o'clock fully 75,000 veterans had passed through the gates of the two depots since the arrival of the Californian delegation on Friday night with somewhere in the neighborhood of 10,000 sight-seers. The Californian post, with its carload of wine and fruit, is holding open house, as it did at Columbus and St. Louis.

The opening camp fire will be that of the Sons of Veterans, which takes place tonight, with Commander-in-Chief Warner presiding. Another interesting event of the afternoon is the reunion of the noted Iron brigade. Its famous leader, Gen. G. S. Bragg, will deliver the address of welcome, and Generals Fairchild, Dudley, Dames and other officers will participate in the proceedings.

A Woman Charged With Embezzlement.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 26.—Deputy United States Marshal Michael Hoy yesterday arrested Mrs. Anne Rowland, who is wanted at Washington on a charge of embezzlement. The woman was the late matron of a private sanitarium operated by Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, and one of the most distinguished physicians in this country. Mrs. Rowland was entrusted with the work of making purchases. The charge is that she bought her supplies on "tick" and pocketed the money. On July 31 she complained of feeling unwell, and took a train for Philadelphia, ostensibly to consult her physician, but not returning she was traced to Minneapolis.

Swedish Celebration.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 26.—The general committee of Swedish citizens appointed to arrange for the celebration of the 251st anniversary of the landing of the Swedes in America are making an effort to secure the Coliseum in which to hold the celebration. It is expected that Lecktor P. Waddenstrom, the famous Swedish divine, will be present.

Minnesota Items.

The board of prison managers met at Stillwater to open bids for half the available convicts, to be employed on the contract system, but no bids had been received. The thresher company made a proposition looking to the employment of such labor, and a general conference between Manager Fogle, of the thresher company, and the prison officials followed, the proposition being finally left for action at the next meeting.

Col. D. Priest, of Waseca, has fallen heir to about $200,000.

A man named Cameron, of Minneapolis, assaulted one Burns at the Stillwater race track and was fined $50 and costs by Judge Netheway. Cameron retaliated by having a warrant issued for McKenzie. McKenzie's trial will take place later.

The river is still rising at Taylors Falls, and the jam is continually increasing.

Frank Milan, who escaped from Stillwater prison, has not been found yet, though the search is still in progress.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

It has been decided to continue the Maybrick agitation in London, with the view of securing a full pardon for the unfortunate woman. Politics, however, have entered so largely into the case that no hopes are entertained that she will be released so long as the tories are in power.

The annual convention of the National Editorial association opens at Detroit tomorrow, and elaborate arrangements have been made by the citizens committee for the entertainment of the visitors. Nearly every state in the Union will be represented in the convention.

THE GREAT TRIAL.

The Men Accused of Complicity in the Murder of Dr. Cronin Arraigned.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—This is the day appointed for the trial of John F. Beggs, ex-Detective Coughlin, Patrick O'Sullivan, Martin Burke, John Kunze and W. Woodruff, the men indicted for the murder of Dr. Patrick H. Cronin. At an early hour the approaches to Judge McConnell's court were thronged, and there was so large a crowd on the outside that the presence of a large force of police was necessary to preserve order.

The prisoners, after breakfast, had lengthy consultations with their counsel, Senator Kennedy, of Wisconsin, Forrest and A. W. Browne.

At this writing the prisoners have not been arraigned, and the air is filled with rumors regarding the probable movement in their behalf. One report has it that a postponement will be asked for, and another that a separate trial for each of the accused will be demanded. Both motions will probably be denied. States Attorney Longenecker says the state is ready and will insist that the trial go on. It will probably take at least a month to secure a jury. All the accused will plead not guilty.

Great Strikes in London.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The strike which was begun by the dock laborers, and which subsequently spread to car men, has now extended to the Thames iron workers, and gas stokers threaten to join forces with strikers. There is also talk of compelling laborers in all trades quitting work to force matters to an issue at once. The iron workers strike adds 7000 to the number of unemployed men. They are as yet quite orderly. Shipping business is completely paralyzed, and mail steamers are leaving without cargoes.

ANOTHER ASYLUM STORY.

Charges Made Against the St. Peter Asylum --Found at Duluth.

Another story of inhuman treatment is being told, which, if true, will draw attention to the St. Peter asylum, and may possibly end in an investigation. The story has been told by Rev. D. S. Kemerer, a Methodist pastor at Ortonville. Several weeks ago he wrote to Corrections and Charities Secretary Hurt making complaint that a young lady of Big Stone county had been most foully dealt with. A year ago the young lady, a Miss Curtiss, Mr. Kemerer relates, was induced to leave home to accept a position in the home of a wealthy man at Minneapolis. While there she was criminally assaulted. After that she was sent to Duluth, and from there to St. Peter. Mr. Kemerer charges that the young lady was not sent to St. Peter as a lunatic, but that the authorities knew the facts and took charge of her to hide the wrong done by the Minneapolis man.

By records here it is found the girl came to Duluth in early spring. She went into a dressmakers establishment. Finally she became slightly insane and with her baby, born in shame, was taken to St. Luke's hospital. She did not appear before the judge of probate and was not sent to St. Peter from here. But little else is known of the case. Miss Curtis did not stay in the hospital long and returned to either Minneapolis or Ortonville from here. She was at first to be sent to the county jail, but the sheriff thought a hospital a better place than a jail. It was on May 10th when she was admitted to St. Lukes.

The girl claims, moreover, that her treatment at St. Peter was very immoral. She has signified her willingness to testify to their acts before the board of corrections and charities, but she has not yet been called upon to do so.

Iron Ore.

The weekly review of The Iron Ore Trade of the situation of the ore market is as follows: With more than 4,000,000 tons of ore shipped by lake and three months of navigation remaining, it looks as though the estimate made of a probable output of 6,000,000 tons would have to be increased by at least 1,000,000. A canvass of the ore dealers shows that in almost every instance production will exceed the original estimate—in some cases by fifty per cent. The bulk of ore, moreover, has been sold up, and there are a good many furnace-men who, having been caught napping last year, are looking for a surplus of raw material to provide for an emergency.

MR VAN HORNE SHOOTS BACK.

The Canadian Pacific railroad has been a target for slings and arrows all along its line, and has borne the pelting thus far without retorting in kind. But enough is enough, and President Van Horne evidently thinks the last stone slung by Judge Cooley more than enough. The other day, the chairman of the interstate commerce commission went out of his way to remark in substance that Canadian competition was an injury to American roads, and that the Chicago board of trade was short-sighted and wrong in interposing to block the scheme to throw the Canadian lines out of the race for American business. To this Mr. Van Horne rejoins sharply that Judge Cooley has apparently formed his opinion without giving the defendant a chance to be heard.

Whether this be so or not, the Canadian Pacific is incontestably entitled to a fair hearing, and Mr. Van Horne now demands one. He affirms that the Canadian Pacific is not and never has been an eager competitor for freight traffic between the Eastern and the Pacific coast states. "It has arbitrary rates to pay to its connections at both ends of its line, and these arbitrary rates leave too little profit to make the traffic worth fighting for." As to any disposition on its part to wilfully upset the working of the interstate commerce act, he declares, and calls upon Judge Cooley himself to bear witness that the Canadian Pacific road has lived up to the terms of this act more faithfully than the American through lines. In this assertion it is only justice to say that he is confirmed by the express evidence of the railway managers of New England at the recent hearing before the committee on relations with Canada. Whatever trouble had arisen from juggling and tampering with schedule rates had not come, it was testified, from the Canadian side of the line.

But Mr. Van Horne does not propose to stand on the defensive merely, and challenge dislodgment. He carries the war across the line with the charge that there is a patent hollowness in the complaints that have been made by the other Pacific lines of the effect of Canadian competition. The Canadian Pacific road, as he says, was used by them as a bugbear in their attempt to prevent the passage of the interstate commerce act and its use as a bugbear has been continued for the purpose of obtaining modifications of the act.

The most exaggerated and absurd statements about enormous subsidies received by the Canadian Pacific company from the Dominion government have been circulated in every possible form. The long and short of it seems to be that the Canadian Pacific should be excluded from competition with the American Pacific lines, because of its light capital charges as compared with theirs, but Mr. Towne, of the Southern Pacific, in his testimony before the senate committee, did not say, as he might truthfully have done, that the Canadian Pacific was built for cash by those who intended to permanently hold and work it; that no profits were taken out by construction companies or Credit Mobiliers, and that its bonds and stock represent actual cash invested, not subsidies, but cash from private sources; nor did he say that in the case of his own line (the Central Pacific) and in the case of some others of the Pacific lines enormous construction profits, were taken out, and that these enormous profits, which were divided up by construction companies and Credit Mobiliers, are now represented by the bonds and stock, upon which according to Mr. Towne, the interest and dividends are imperiled by the competition of the Canadian Pacific.

There is a palpable hit in this retort and Mr. Van Horne is justified in objecting to the misrepresentations that have been made ignorantly with malice prepense in regard to his road. By reason of these current popular impression on this side of the border is indistinct and inaccurate touching the extent of government aid, the present ownership and policy of the road. That the Canadian Pacific has largely benefited by the concessions and prior constructions on its lines will not be denied. That it would have been undertaken or completed without such aid will not be pretended. But many sections of its route are peculiarly difficult and costly, and in view of the character of the country traversed, and the lack of local business for years past and to come, it may fairly be held that the Canadian Pacific would have no advantage in competition with other Pacific lines, had these been constructed with the same strictness of expenditure and managed in the same way.

In addition to the legitimate advantage of its uninflated basis, it gains by its undivided control of a track spanning the continent, and the certainty of its policy and conduct. If American producers and consumers can profit by such superiority of organization and the low grades and short cuts of its lines following the great lake water ways, they should be free to do so. So New England and the Northwest think, at any rate, and Mr. Van Horne need not apprehend the application of the Cooley cut-off to his road without their consent.

The factional tussle in Hayti is over. Legitime has given up the ghost of his resistance and taken French leave of his country. Hippolyte rules in his stead over Port au Prince, and may hope to hold his uneasy seat by good luck for weeks and possibly for months. Minister Frederick Douglas is expected to start for Hayti as soon as our government learns who is the legal head of Hayti in case it has any.

The republican organization in North Dakota is so strong and united, its candidates so acceptable and its hopes so high, that it scarcely seems worth while for the democrats to offer it the show of opposition by putting up anybody for the mortification of seeing him knocked over. The republican state column will have some solid new Northwestern brick on top this year.

We think a wheat crop in the entire United States of 475 million bushels is a big thing, and we call wheat king. What do we consider a corn crop of 2500 million bushels, such as the statisticians tell us is to be harvested this fall? This is half a billion bushels greater than any corn crop ever grown, figures that far surpass comprehension. Truly with such a growth corn may be called king.

SOME NEW BOOKS.

Emerson the man bears the light of the closest scrutiny as well as does Emerson the author. This can be said of modern authors with less reserve and more truth than it could of authors of the past century. Emerson's life appeals to publicity, it can almost be said. He was anything but a public man, in the ordinary sense, yet what he did and the manner of his life were so in touch with what he thought and wrote that to know Emerson it is necessary to know how he lived. His living was as characteristic as his writing. His thought was embodied in his life; what he wrote was but the reflection of what he lived. Therefore, a book like this one of Edward Waldo Emerson's—"A Memoir, written for the Social Circlein Concord, Mass."—has a distinct value above that of the ordinary memoir of the average author. It is particularly valuable to the lover of Emerson. It gives a simple story of the simple yet profound life of that greatest of American philosophers and keenest of modern thinkers. The book is a simple narrative of a life among the most common-place surroundings and of facts devoid of individual or special interest. The book gives new views of Emerson, but does not change our estimate of him in the least. We are entertained to learn that he manifested a disposition to declaim when he was a very small boy, and so are relieved to know that the lecturing was not really a bore and a trial to him, as we had before feared. We are also rather deeply interested to get a graphic view of his personality, and learn what his method of composing poetry was. We are entertained to note the quaint but exceeding kind flavor of his converse ond dealings with his neighbors and those with whom he was obliged to associate. And we are withal grateful to the son who has so well performed the task of writing a memoir of such a father. [Boston, Houghton, Mifflin & Co.]

Robert Louis Stevenson and Lloyd Osborne have written a pleasant story—"In the Wrong Box"—which begins well, goes on swimmingly, but does not fulfill its promise as well as we are led to believe it will. The plot halts, impossible situations are introduced, or the reader is left to imagine a proper series of events to lead up to a climax that is thrust remorselessly upon him. Yet the story is a very good one, better than the majority of stories, if not better than the majority of Mr. Stevenson's stories, which we have come to expect will be very good indeed. The plot seems to have been adapted to the wants of the authors from chapter to chapter, and not to have been arranged upon any consistent plan, which may not, after all, be such a bad idea, provided it is done with the cleverness exhibited by portions of this book. [New York, Charles Scribner's Sons.]

Mr. Arlo Bates, of Boston, is a very clever newspaper man, and the same can be said of him as a novelist, with the "very" omitted. His "Wheel of Fire" is an entertaining story, not liable to keep timid people awake o' nights, but furnishing a very acceptable entertainment for a leisure hour or two, or for a summer day in the woods or on the lake. [Charles Scribner's Sons, New York.]

When Mr. F. Marion Crawford published "Sarasinesca" it was known that he contemplated a sequel. It has now appeared, and is called "Sant' Ilario," which is the name assumed by the younger Sarasinesca after he had attained his heart's desire, the beautiful widow Corona for a wife. Already this book is called Mr. Crawford's best novel. To agree with this verdict we should have to class "With the Immortals" as not a novel. "Sant' Ilario" is a novel entirely worthy the serious attention of those who care for the best of current literature. It is strongly conceived and strongly executed—that kind of a novel that rouses one and demands much of the intellect and the heart. It goes far to prove that Mr. Crawford is the best of living novelists, which distinction has been claimed for him of late with a frequency that gives promise of a popular verdict to be given a little later on. [New York, Macmillan & Co.]

"Fun From Life," is a collection of the best of the cartoons and sketches from "Life," that best of all humorous papers, printed upon fine paper and tastefully bound. There is material for many a quiet laugh in between the covers of the artistic, oblong volume. There is no text. The graphic artists have it all their own way, and they have acquitted themselves well. The book is one that one likes to have at hand at all times, and to use to drive away the blues frequently. It is published in New York by White, Stokes & Allen, and is sold in Duluth by the Duluth Book and Paper company.

JESSIE.

[Eugene Field in Chicago News.]

When I remark her golden hair
Swoon on her glorious shoulders,
I marvel not that sight so rare
Should ravish all beholders;
For summon hence all pretty girls
Renowned for beauteous tresses,
And you shall find among their curls
There's none so fair as Jessie's!

And Jessie's eyes are—oh! so blue
And full of sweet revealings—
They seem to look you through and through
And read your inmost feelings;
Nor black emit such ardent fires,
Nor brown such truth expresses—
Admit it, all ye gallant squires—
There are no eyes like Jessie's!

Her voice (like liquid beams that roll
From moonland to the river)
Steals subtly to the raptured soul
Therein to lie and quiver;
Or falls upon the grateful ear
With chaste and warm caresses—
Ah, all concede the truth (who hear):
There's no such voice as Jessie's!

Of other charms she hath such store
All rivalry excelling,
Though I used adjectives galore
They'd fail me in the telling;
But now discretion stays my hand—
Adieu, eyes, voice and tresses!
Of all the husbands in the land,
There's none so fierce as Jessie's!

ABOUT DULUTH REALTY.

The Situation in Local and Suburban Property Values.

Manufacturing and Building Outlook, Figures of a Week.

In real estate the past week there has been a good business, though the aggregate of recorded sales was less than for several preceding six days. There has not been any great rush after property, though anyone who had real estate at anything like market figures could find a ready purchaser. Transfers recorded in the week were 122, aggregating $346,174, a daily average of 20 and $57,700. For days they were as follows:

	No.	Total.
Monday	25	$137,775
Tuesday	21	74,342
Wednesday	24	52,067
Thursday	14	18,975
Friday	18	35,715
Saturday	20	27,900
Total	221	$346,174

With each week the outlook brightens, and the early beginning of work at the big car shops, the Imperial mill, the steel works and half a dozen other great enterprises, as well as the surety of such a crop of wheat as will set all the intricate wheels of that industry, banks, elevators, railway and shipping, to whirring rapidly, each pushing its dependent industries to energetic life, as well as the work on half a dozen new ships to be built by the American Steel Barge company, assures the Duluthian that he has not chosen wrong. Money grows easier than ever, and begins to pour west for the handling of the grain crop, of which Duluth banks are receiving a large share. For building purposes money here is had at 6 per cent on good business blocks, with the indications that a year or two more will see it at 5. As a consequence building is very active in all lines and much new work will be undertaken this fall. It is now estimated that building and permanent improvements of the year will reach a total of over $7,000,000, much of which has been for large manufacturing plants.

The situation in realty is about as last week, prices are firm all over town. Nothing is sold at a sacrifice. At Lakeside and about Lester Park the demand for lots for improvement continues good and there is considerable speculation near by. The general knowledge of the building of the cable road has put up hill property and acreage, and a sale has just been made in section 7-50-14 at $100 an acre. This sets values in that neighborhood at a good deal higher plane than before. There is no little inquiry for platted property above and near the terrace drive back of Seventh and Eighth streets in the center of town. But little is said of business property in central Duluth and the Second division, it being held in hands not selling.

As usual, West Duluth is the harvest field of the real estate man, and the situation there is one of especial firmness. Prices are kept up and are advancing slowly in all sections, most rapidly in one or two streets. That part of town is rapidly nearing the stage where a well-directed movement, backed by common sense, may raise prices on many a so-called side street where there is now little activity and cheap lots. All the outlying suburbs of West Duluth that have risen in value by the establishment of manufactures there are comparatively active. Most of them realize the need of hustling for themselves and will do some work in getting in employing establishments.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, causing distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet efficiently. It tones the stomach, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, banishes headache, and refreshes the mind.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would have a faint or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble was aggravated by my business, painting. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." George A. THINK OF THESE THINGS
—AND—
BUY BEFORE ANOTHER ADVANCE!

IF A PERSON WANTS A HOME, LET HIM BUY ONE OR MORE LOTS IN CROSLEY PARK AND THEN BORROW MONEY OF A BUILDING ASSOCIATION TO BUILD A HOUSE AND HE IS FIXED.

BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS

Have enabled thousands of laboring men and people of ordinary means to become land owners and capitalists. What a blessing they have been to such people in all our Eastern cities! It is the correct theory for the following reasons, viz.:

First--It enables people to deposit small sums at stated times in their own bank (for a building association is really a savings bank in which all depositors are stockholders, and all share pro rata the profits).

Second--By being required to pay small sums regularly stockholders form habits of economy and thrift, which are indispensable to the acquisition of wealth.

Third--It begets in people an ambition to get homes and acquire wealth for themselves and their families.

We have adopted the Building Association plan in the sale of lots in

CROSLEY PARK.

CROSLEY PARK PAVILION.

It is far better to buy good Duluth real estate when you can get it by easy weekly payments than to take stock in a building association for the following reasons, viz.:

First--In a building association, if you fail to pay on the very day the fine imposed goes a good ways toward cutting down your profits.

This is not the case if you buy lots in

CROSLEY PARK,

For if you are sick or out of town, or unable to pay for a period of four weeks after the payment is due, no advantage can be taken of you.

Second--Building associations, however well they may be managed, are liable to sustain losses, and in that event all the stockholders bear their share. In buying lots in Crosley Park there is no element of loss to be considered.

Third--A stockholder in a building association does not control his own interest, but is a sort of partner with all other stockholders and subject to the management of other men. If you buy lots in Crosley Park you control your own property absolutely and can sell and assign your contract at any time.

Fourth--The advance in values of Crosley Park lots will be far greater than the profits in a building association.

THE "BEACONSFIELD."

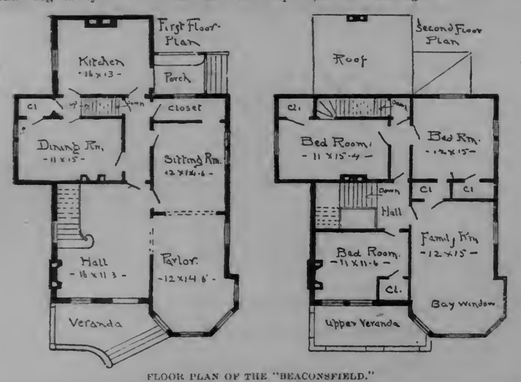
ONE of the most interesting houses thus far published in the Homestead Series, is the Beaconsfield. Those earnest, honest people who, by dint of toil and careful saving have accumulated a considerable sum of money, can easily make an investment in a house of this nature, not only for themselves but for posterity as well. Easily, because the cost is not great and the result magnificent. A structure of this nature, unfurnished, will not exceed $5000 in any locality, while the furnishing as hereafter described, will not exceed $1750, of a total complete of $6,750.

The house contains eight finished, full sized rooms, with three attic rooms quite available for finish and of comfortable living size. Before proceeding to give an idea of the interior we might take a rear view of the structure and afterward enter the piazza door of the kitchen. As in the facade, the stone work shows a little carving and one V shaped window on the second floor. The piazza makes an angle and projects seven feet beyond the line of the stone facing.

"THE BEACONSFIELD," A $5000 HOME.

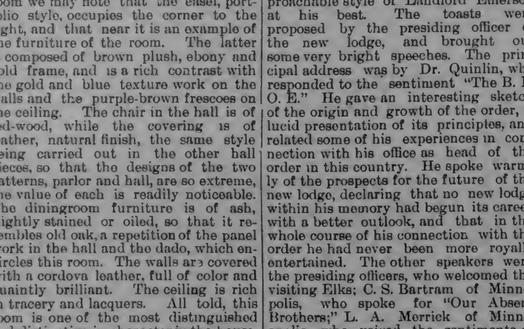
The kitchen occupies the semi-L in the rear and is hardwood finish throughout. There are two closets and a cupboard in the room, an opening on the right of the stove where dishes are passed through to the diningroom. Here also occurs a hot and cold water, copper, china sink and other features of value to the domestic and household. We enter the hall by way of the door on the left and the cellar on the right. There is a little closet-like entry between the kitchen, hall and diningroom, where garments may be hung, or upper shelves made, for things wanted at the moment, a handy and needed corner for no end of uses.

Upon entering the hall one notes at first sight the unique fireplace of marble, the marble mantel, mirror, chiffonier and the grand pilastered window, with its stained glass and sash drapes. The walls also are rich in gold and blue, the design being pretty and in relief, not full, but of the tracery pattern. These features, coupled with the warm-toned stained borders of the floor, and the oriental rug, show off not only the agreeable effect of a handsome room, but in quality and comfort it suggests a genuine homelike atmosphere. Everything here ready for use, the andirons, clock and other details suggest the possibility that some one is near at hand, and that the affairs of home are going on in their usual regularity. From the hall one enters the sittingroom to the right, and from thence he may enter to the diningroom, which is lighted from the cathedral window near the chimney, as seen in cut. While in the parlor or sittingroom we may note that the easel, portfolio style, occupies the corner to the right, and that near it is an example of the furniture of the room. The latter is composed of brown plush, ebony and gold frame, and is a rich contrast with the gold and blue texture work on the walls and the purple-brown frescoes on the ceiling. The chair in the hall is of red-wood, while the covering is of leather, natural finish, the same style being carried out in the other hall pieces, so that the designs of the two patterns, parlor and hall, are so extreme, the value of each is readily noticeable. The diningroom furniture is of ash, slightly stained or oiled, so that it resembles old oak, a repetition of the panel work in the hall and the dado, which encircles this room. The walls are covered with a cordova leather, full of color and quaintly brilliant. The ceiling is rich in tracery and lacquers. All told, this room is one of the most distinguished and distinctive in character in the house, and will surely please the good wife equally as well as the lord of the manor.



FLOOR PLAN OF THE "BEACONSFIELD."

The grand stairway, by easy steps, takes us to the second or chamber floor. Here are four good-sized rooms, a bathroom and a sewing or children's playroom. The strong points of these rooms is the flood of light which pours in from the few, but spacious windows, illuminating every part, and displaying the furniture and pictures to great advantage. As for the utility and practicability of appurtenances, the closets, storage, spaces in cabinet drawers and like accommodations, fully attest the architect's thoughtfulness of those who have to occupy and do the work in and about these premises.



THE HALL IN THE "BEACONSFIELD."

The upper floor possesses some features of use to the man of the house, if he be inclined to use billiards, for on the left is a projecting balcony which serves both for light and air as well as a smoker's resort. There are two other rooms on this floor, either of which can be utilized as servant's quarters. The chamber floors are all papered in various tinted cartridge papers, they being preferred to the chemical colored papers; and besides they absorb any excess of light, and of the fabrics of the bed spreads and like accessories.

In style, excellence of finish, comfort, and perfect construction, both in plumbing and furnace, as well as handiwork, no building could be more complete than the Beaconsfield.

NEW LODGE OF ELKS.

Duluth's Secret Fraternal Societies Receive an Important Addition.

Yesterday Duluth lodge, No. 133, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks was instituted at K. of P. hall, the work consuming the entire day from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. It was performed by the district deputy for this state, L. A. Merrick of Minneapolis, assisted by the grand exalted ruler of the order in the United States, Dr. Simon Quinlin of Chicago, who had been in town several days getting the preliminaries into proper condition for the institution of the new lodge. Beside these two gentlemen there was a full working force along from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Milwaukee, and other cities. From Minneapolis there were Neal Downey, A. T. Shaefer, O. M. Bachelor, F. M. May, James Wheeler, H. H. Folsom, D. A. Simonds, G. J. Heimrich, L. H. Kooper, George R. Seyton, W. W. Dunne, Fred Nimmocks and R. Stewart; and from St. Paul, A. M. Trembolan, C. E. Stone, Wm. Hendricks, M. E. Perry, W. R. Bagley and C. S. Bartham.

The new lodge starts with twenty-nine members, and quite a long list proposed for membership. After the lodge was instituted a business meeting was held and these officers elected and installed: Exalted ruler, George French; esteemed leading knight, W. V. Bingham; esteemed lecturing knight, W. N. Draper; esteemed loyal knight, George B. Haycock; secretary, Charles T. Abbott; treasurer, E. Z. Williams; tyler, F. A. Lewis; trustees, F. H. Quinby, C. E. Wheeler, W. C. Kilgore; chaplain, A. M. Smith; inner guard, A. M. Miller, Jr.; esquire, F. W. Partridge.

At 7:30 o'clock the company, increased by several ladies who came up from the Twin cities, sat down to an elegant banquet spread in the ladies ordinary at The Spalding and served in the unapproachable style of Landlord Emerson at his best. The toasts were proposed by the presiding officer of the new lodge, and brought out some very bright speeches. The principal address was by Dr. Quinlin, who responded to the sentiment "The B. P. O. E." He gave an interesting sketch of the origin and growth of the order, a lucid presentation of its principles, and related some of his experiences in connection with his office as head of the order in this country. He spoke warmly of the prospects for the future of the new lodge, declaring that no new lodge within his memory had begun its career with a better outlook, and that in the whole course of his connection with the order he had never been more royally entertained. The other speakers were the presiding officers, who welcomed the visiting Elks; C. S. Bartram of Minneapolis, who spoke for "Our Absent Brothers;" L. A. Merrick of Minneapolis, who voiced the sentiments of "Our Visiting Brethren;" Dr. William Alden, "The Duluth Fawns." There was a recitation of "Casey at the Bat" by Mr. Huebener of St. Paul, which was received with tumultuous applause, and was rendered in a very artistic manner. There were songs by Dr. Downey of Minneapolis, Dunn of Minneapolis, Daniels of Bay City, Doran and Agnew of Duluth, all well received. There were several short speeches, full of pith and wit, and the banquet came to a close at 11 o'clock in true Elk fashion—by the entire company joining hands and singing "Auld Lang Syne." Excellent music was furnished throughout the evening by Hoare's orchestra.

The lodge holds its first independent meeting Thursday evening, at which time the regular night and place of meeting will be fixed upon.

Indian Police.

The Nett Lake Bois Fortes Indians are to be policed, police headquarters being at Reservation Point on Lake Vermilion. Three officers will complete the force at present, which number will be increased in the future. Chas. Sucker, son of old Chief Sucker, will head the force. Each man will receive uniform, rations and $10 a month. The system, though started as an experiment here, is in successful operation on other reservations.

WITH THE RAILWAYS.

To Meet Officials of the Red Wing Road---A Bad N. P. Smashup.

New Chicago Train Service---From the North---Rail Notes.

F. W. Hoyt, president, and ex-Governor Hubbard, general manager of the Duluth, Red Wing and Southern road, will be in the city tomorrow. They come to confer finally with our people regarding the entrance of the road into Duluth and to see in what way we can aid them. The published statement that arrangements had been made to use the Eastern Minnesota tracks for twenty-seven miles and terminals is incorrect, at least just yet. There will be a public meeting at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at 10:30 tomorrow morning at which the officers will be heard. Circulars are being sent out by Messrs. Munger and Graves who are taking much interest in the road, and it is hoped that there will be a very large attendance of Duluth business men to discuss the subject.

The Red Wing people are very anxious to build to Duluth and feel under obligation to the city, but they ask a very large subscription to the stock of the road from whatever Lake Superior city it makes its terminus.

It is a special desire of all interested that there may at least be a large attendance of business men tomorrow, so that the railway people may have some public manifestation of the interest that Duluth surely has in the road. Messrs. Hoyt and Hubbard will present their views and it is desired that they may present them to as large a concourse of Duluth people as is possible.

The Northwestern Difficulty.

In a long editorial discussing the Northwestern rate situation the Railroad Gazette says: The real difficulty lies in the fact that this difference between a local and a proportion of a through rate is not merely a theoretical but a very practical matter. It is difference enough to destroy, in time, the jobbing trade of Chicago with the states of the Northwest, and the merchants of that city will leave no stone—legal or social—unturned to stop it. Already traffic men are anxious lest fifteen cents should come to be accepted as the proportion west of Chicago on business through from the seaboard to the Missouri river cities. We all know how hard it will be to keep low rates in force to St. Paul only, and if the demoralization should spread to Missouri river traffic, the roads would be obliged, for self-protection, to treat it there, as now to Minnesota, as applicable only to seaboard traffic, leaving locals as at present or but slightly reduced. This would make Chicago a "way station," about which the Western papers so often speak.

Another Wreck.

Two freight trains collided on the Northern Pacific railroad yesterday forenoon, a few miles out of Duluth, toward Northern Pacific Junction. Trains were delayed ten hours, but the wreck was cleared away early in the afternoon, and trains are running as usual. Two Northern Pacific freight locomotives are nearly ruined, for both were going at a good rate of speed. A number of cars of each freight train were derailed and ditched, their contents spilled and spoiled. Northern freight No. 21 was run into by an extra. The accident happened near Carlton and is said to have been caused by mistakes in reading signals. As near as can be ascertained both engines were badly broken and five cars from the regular train knocked from the track.

Not Money Enough.

People interested, though not financially, in the Port Arthur, Duluth and Western railway deny that the contractors are backed by a Scotch syndicate. Messrs. Middleton & Co. are backed by some Scotch-Americans of means, though the total working capital raised to date to carry on construction operations is about $200,000. This, of course, is not enough to build a railway, even through the easy country passed by the Port Arthur, Duluth and Western. The purchase of rails alone would absorb nearly all. There are bonuses aggregating $7000 per mile, but these cannot be had except on the completion of ten-mile sections.

The New Chicago Train.

The new Northern Pacific service between Duluth and Chicago was inaugurated yesterday. The train was well patronized, carrying about twenty-five passengers, many of whom were enroute for Milwaukee to attend the Grand Army encampment. There were five coaches, three of them Wisconsin Central—the baggage car, smoker and the vestibuled car, and a Northern Pacific first-class coach. Superintendent Green's private car made the run to Ashland. The vestibule car, "Lake Villa," is finished in antique oak and cherry, the upholstering in old gold plush and leather. Cars that are being built especially for this run by the Northern Pacific are not yet out of the shops, but will be ready for use in a short time.

Notes.

Eastern Minnesota trains are now running on time as usual.

The St. Paul and Duluth company will begin running trains over the new line to Northern Pacific Junction by tomorrow.

The Chicago-Pacific arrived here exactly on time this morning, carrying coaches well filled with passengers.

The Northwestern limited, No. 6, that leaves Duluth at 10 o'clock, went east in three sections last night.

CHILDRENS AID.

A Branch to be Formed in Duluth—The Society's Purpose.

At most of the city churches yesterday the congregations listened to remarks by either Rev. Savage or Rev. Dysart, agents of the State Childrens Aid society, and no little interest in the society and its work was aroused. At present there are probably 70,000 homeless children in the Union. These would either grow up the worst criminals and parents of criminals or respectable men and women. The society's aim was to make them respectable. To do this it furnished houses among people who were willing to adopt children until of age. Its mission is a good one, appealing to the Christian, the moral and the patriotic sense. If we do not care for the homeless we will be obliged to care for something worse.

It was hoped that room could be found in christian homes in Duluth for little ones of whom there are now forty, known to the society in Minnesota. A meeting will be held this evening at the parlors of Pilgrim Congregational church for organization of an auxiliary society.

MORE SHIPS OF STEEL.

The "104," New Range Lights, Marine Matters in General.

All steel for the construction of the steel whale-back McDougall's patent ship 104 has been ordered and will arrive here as soon as it can be turned out and shipped. She will be of the same dimensions as the 102 and 103, and of the same capacity, about 3000 tons. Her keel will be laid on the blocks from which was launched the 102, and construction will be pushed. The 102, 103 and 104 will give a tow of 9000 tons capacity, all ready for business this year, for 104 will be launched before November. The 103 will come off the stocks in a few weeks. The plan of placing machinery in the 101 and changing her lines has been discussed.

Notice is given by the lighthouse board that on or about September 1, 1889, a light of the fourth order giving a red flash every six seconds, will be exhibited from the structure recently erected on the inner end of the south pier at the entrance to the harbor of Duluth, Minn. The light will illuminate the entire horizon. Its focal plane will be sixty feet above the top of the pier and sixty-four feet above the level of the lake, and the light may be seen in clear weather thirteen statute miles.

Craig & Son have completed the removal of their shipyard from Trenton to Toledo. They have already laid the keel for a wooden propeller to be 200 feet long with 30 feet beam.

Chicago News: The statement was made at the West Superior convention that a uniform depth of eighteen feet would enable the construction of vessels twice the present size and the reduction of carrying charges in bulk one-half. As is well known, water transportation is the only competitor strong enough to keep railroad rates within bounds, and the whole country is vitally interested in securing a sufficient depth of water at the upper-lake ports.

The Northern King took out the bumper cargo from Two Harbors a few days ago, 2493 gross, or 2804 net, tons of ore for Cleveland. As a result she went aground Saturday night at the upper end of Lake George flats below the Neebish. She lightered 300 tons and is now off.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat is Strong on a Small Visible Increase--The Stocks.

Wheat opened weak and below Saturday, ruled steady with fair trading up to noon, when the posting of visible supply figures, showing an increase of only 74,000 bu, instead of 500,000 bu, as had been estimated, caused a firmer feeling, and prices firmed up. Private advices also noted that the "Vienna Wheat Congress" estimated the deficiency of European wheat crops at 213,000,000 bu, or 67,000,000 more than any previous estimates, this news started fresh buying, and prices stiffened up sharply. The close was strong at 1c above the opening.

Self-defense Against a Dangerous Foe.

Forewarned is not forearmed in the case of those who incur the risk of an attack from that dangerous foe, malaria, unprovided with a means of defense. But if those in peril are aided, sustained and reinforced with the great fortifying safeguard, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, miasma, prolific breeder of evils manifested in the shape of bilious remittent and chills and fever, ague cake, dumb ague and the calentura of the isthmus and Central American coast, is nullified and rendered harmless. Our western pioneer settlers and miners, dwellers in tropic lowlands, and visitants of and dwellers in malarious localities in this country and many quarters of the globe, have for years been acquainted with the fact and are constantly provided with this unparalleled defensive medicine and remedy. All disorder of the stomach, liver and bowels, rheumatic and kidney complaints and rheumatism are conquered by it.

THE VETERANS IN CAMP.

The Great Parade of the Veterans and the Militia This Forenoon.

A Conspicuous Trio at the Plankington House and G. A. R. Notes.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27.—At an early hour the visiting Grand Army posts and companies of the state militia began to assemble on the streets intersecting with Grand avenue, for the annual Grand Army parade. The army of visitors in the city was reinforced from daylight by at least 10,000 people from Chicago, the Northwest and the interior of the state, while large contingents came up on the steamers from Chicago. The signal for the column to move was given at 11 o'clock, the route covering a distance of two and a half miles. The sidewalks were packed solid with spectators; while the windows and roofs presented the appearance of a continuous line of heads and faces. The parade passed off successfully and was an event of more than ordinary brilliancy. Tonight there will be two camp fires and a war concert in the big tent in Juneau park, which has seating accommodation for 8000 people. Five hundred trained singers will render the old war songs.

Tomorrow the business sessions of the encampment will commence.

A Conspicuous Trio.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27.—Gen. Sherman, Mrs. John A. Logan and Corporal Tanner are the three most conspicuous strangers in the city at present. They are all domiciled at the Plankinton. Additional interest centers in the presence of the aged general in view of the fact that this is the last encampment in which he will participate, unless, peradventure, New York secures that of 1890. Mrs. Logan, with her snow white hair and ruddy complexion, has a smile and handshake for every one of the Boys in Blue. Corporal Tanner, too, is continuously the center of an admiring group of veterans who are in accord with his position on the pension question, and is liable to be talked deaf, dumb and blind before the encampment is over. Resolutions approving his administration of the pension office are to be submitted to the national encampment at its opening session tomorrow.

Accidents to Veterans.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27.—Louis Story, a member of Minneapolis post, fell ill while marching through the street last night, and now occupies a bed in one of the wards at the emergency hospital.

Ole Oleson, of East Lake, Mich., who was coming to the city with Manistee post on the steamer F. and P. M., No. 1, while sleeping on the harricane deck, rolled overboard at midnight and was drowned. He was 48 years of age, and leaves a family.

Where Next?

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27.—There is considerable canvassing going on for the locality in which the next encampment will be held. Chicago and New York are the most prominent mentioned, and the Western delegates, including those from St. Louis, are actively supporting the Garden City.

The American Society at Toronto.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 27.—The city is handsomely decorated in honor of the delegates to the annual convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which opened here today and will continue in session for a week. The event has brought to Toronto the leading scientists of the United States and the Canadas, nearly every state having a representative. There was a meeting of the executive council at noon today at the Queens hotel, when a large number of applications for membership were acted upon. Major T. W. Powell, presided, and welcomed the members of the council. Response was made by Professor Thomas Gray.

Cloud Burst in North Carolina.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 27.—A cloud burst yesterday over Rockingham and vicinity destroyed dams and damaged the machinery of Peedee Robordee of Great Falls, Midway and Ledbetter mills. The loss is estimated at $100,000. Five hundred hands are thrown out of employment. The track of the Carolina road for fifteen miles is more or less torn up.

On the Trail at Last.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Aug. 27.—Just three weeks ago the Rio Grande Western train was "held up" near Thompson Springs, Utah, and the passengers relieved of many valuables. Yesterday the first news of the robbers reached this city.

The First Convention.

HURON, S. D., Aug. 27.—Delegates from all the republican clubs of the state are gathering here today for the purpose of bringing into existence a state league of republican clubs. Tomorrow the first state republican convention will also be held in the city.

The Report Absurd.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 27.—Glass crockery men of this vicinity say the reports of a trust formed by the manufacturers of window glass, table glass and crockery are absurd.

BADLY WANTED.

Reimund Halzhay Needs a Long Term in State Prison or the Halter.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Early this morning Gustav Fleischbein of Belleville, Mich., who was shot twice by a highwayman yesterday afternoon, near Lake Gogebic, was not expected to live more than two hours. The wounds of two others shot are very slight. No trace of the robber. The description of the robber is the same as of the train robber who "held up" the Milwaukee and Northern train at Ellis Junction, May 28, and the Wisconsin Central train Aug. 7. The name of the man is Reimund Halzhay, and his residence is at Shawano, Shawano county, Wisconsin. He is wanted by the government, two railroad companies and others for murder and highway robbery. The rewards offered for his capture aggregate $2,500.

Newspaper Men at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 27.—Over two hundred prominent newspaper men have already arrived to participate in the annual convention of the National Editorial association, and the indications are that the event will prove to be the largest editorial gathering ever held in the United States. Elaborate arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the visitors by the citizens committee, including rides on the river and about the city, a reception at Senator Palmer's log house and stock farm, another at the residence of ex-Postmaster General Dickinson, and a visit to the International fair. There was a meeting of the executive committee this morning, and this afternoon the first regular session of the convention will be held. Mayor Joy will deliver the address of welcome.

Want to be Independent.

MONTREAL, Aug. 27.—During the last forty-eight hours the indignation expressed by Canadians over what they are pleased to style the Yankee outrages in Behring Sea, has taken a new phase, and this comes from the party in politics known as the advanced liberals, which is fast becoming a power in the Dominion. This new departure is nothing more nor less than a declaration of the independence of Canada.

Ohio Democratic Convention.

DAYTON, Ohio., Aug. 27.—The rank and file of the "faithful" of the state are gathering here this morning, attracted by the fact that the democratic state convention will be called to order this afternoon. James E. Campbell is in the lead for governor according to his friends while Lawrence Neil of Chillicothe, has fair support. The latter is an out and out tariff reformer, while Campbell is weak on that question.

Afraid the Police Will Interfere.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—There are fears of police interference in the fight between Dempsey and La Blanche which is booked to come off in the rooms of the California Athletic club tonight. The purse is $3500, the loser getting $500 as a solace. No notification from the authorities had been received up to 10 o'clock, but the fact that the fight is to a finish and the views recently expressed by the chief of police afford ground for apprehension.

The Lord Mayor Will Not Arbitrate.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The strike situation is unchanged. It is rumored that the printers intend joining it. Ships are being unloaded at Chatham and Southampton without interference. The lord mayor has refused to become an arbitrator of the differences between the men and their employers, fearing lest it might conflict with his judicial duties.

Less Wheat in Europe.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The department of agriculture is in receipt of a cablegram from its European agent in London stating that the international grain market, in session at Vienna, estimates the wheat crop of Europe lower than was expected. The crop in Russia and Hungaria is found to be especially bad.

A Mammoth Strike.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The strikers now number 130,000. Two hundred and fifty steamers are in the docks awaiting cargoes. Riverside factories employing thousands of hands are closing for lack of coal.

Suit Against the Sharon Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 27.—Mrs. Leonide Burling has begun suit against the Sharon estate to compel a return of $572,047, which she claims was paid by her husband to Mr. Sharon to settle debts of W. C. Ralston.

THE LOCKHART CASE.

The Hearing of Bob Osborn for Perjury Set for Tonight.

One phase of the celebrated Lockhart land case comes up this afternoon in the hearing before Judge Carey of Robert Osborn accused of perjury. This hearing has been set several times, and postponed for various causes. No less than three warrants for perjury have been served on Osborn, the last only about three weeks ago, though it had been issued for a year. The case was set for yesterday but postponed until tonight, when it is entirely probable it may be considered. United States District Attorney Baxter is expected on the scene at once.

The case is a peculiar one, and has an interesting history. Wm. Lockhart took up a homestead near what is now Ely in '83, he made some improvements, commuted and paid for pre-emption, and finally the land went to the hands of the Minnesota Iron company. Robert Osborn contested the entry, as he has many others, on the ground of insufficient improvement, fraud in entry, etc. At the instance of the defendant he was arrested for perjury in swearing in his complaint to facts the truth of which he did not know. Owing to a flaw in the papers this case was dismissed and he was arrested again, the affidavits of a couple well-known iron men of Duluth being attached to the service. A third warrant was lately served and will be heard tonight. Osborn states he will demand the relinquishment of his bondsmen.

At various times the general land commissioner has been flooded with documents and petitions setting forth claims in the case, and frequently reflecting on Osborn. He has been charged with the character of a blackmailer and a perjurer. These papers Osborn sought to have expunged from the records. The importance of the main case at issue—the legality or fraud of entry of Lockhart—is so great as to cause any slight incident to be made sharp use of by one side or the other.

UP, UP, UP THEY GO!

Grand Avenue Realty Creates A Lively Real Estate Furore.

How Tramps Tried to Rob the Allouez Telegraph Office.

The definite announcement that work is to at once begin at the Car works, and that 200 houses for the workmen are to be built, together with the knowledge that at the meeting of the stockholders on Thursday there is to be a reorganization of the company on a much broader basis and with a capital of $1,000,000, has had a very exhilerating effect upon the realty market. Prices and terms have everywhere stiffened, but Grand avenue has so far been the recipient of a large share of the benefit of the news. That property, and all other first-class business property to a slightly less extent, has been held very stiff since the first news of the proposed consolidation of the interests of the Car company and the Iron Car company of New York. Yesterday there was great demand for Grand avenue property, and sellers were indifferent unless their prices were accepted without argument or hesitation. The Spalding last night saw the liveliest real estate evening since it was opened. Nearly all the West Duluth operators were there, and probably not less than $25,000 worth of Grand avenue property changed hands. One lot sold yesterday for $2150, and another for $2200, while choice lots were held at $2500. When the Fifth division was put on the market in May the highest lots were sold for $1100, so that it is easy to see that the lucky ones who secured Grand avenue can count on a rise of more than 100 per cent for their investment in four months' time. That's the kind of a town West Duluth is. And the upward tendency has not yet been checked, and will not be at present. The great variety of fine properties lying just outside the small business center of the town have scarcely felt the rise as yet. They can still be bought at prices but little in advance of two months ago, and there are indications that the eyes of shrewd operators and investors begin to turn toward them.

The Superiors.

Monday morning a gang of tramps created quite a riot at Allouez station on the Northern Pacific road just outside the city limits. The two operators who sleep in the depot were aroused by the noise of a number of men who were endeavoring to force an entrance into the building. The men outside were ordered to discontinue operations but paid no attention to the command and the two besieged young men considering more substantial proceedings necessary, opened fire with their revolvers, shooting through the door at the disturbers. This did not seem to frighten or discourage the plunderers, and they worked away at the door, doubtless believing that the resistance of the inmates clearly evinced that valuables were stored within. One of the operators was struck with the idea of bringing the telegraph into service in the matter, and going to the key, he called up the Union depot in West Superior and quickly relating the circumstances to the operator, asked him to send a police force to the scene. The Union depot night operator acted promptly and in a short time half a dozen policemen arrived at Allouez by means of a switch engine. One of the tramps was captured and brought back to town, but the remainder of the gang made good their escape.

It is expected that the new hospital will be completed and ready for occupancy in about two months.

West End Notes.

A pipe leading to a hydrant at the corner of Garfield avenue and Michigan street burst last night, making a fountain which spurted into the air three or four feet above the sidewalk. The water was shut off before much damage was done.

A pile-driver of the St. Paul and Duluth railroad is at work on the track near Twenty-second avenue, driving piles to strengthen the track.

Work on Gas and Water company's trenches is going along quite fast, the diggers having nearly reached Twentieth avenue. The Michigan street sewer has reached Twenty-fourth avenue.

Mr. T. O. Hall left on yesterday afternoon's limited for St. Paul, Minneapolis and Granite Falls.

Joe Davis, formerly with H. H. Bell & Co., will go to Omaha tomorrow.

Mr. H. S. Lord has gone to Winona for a short visit.

Mr. John Hanson, of Hanson & Gjisdahl, with daughter Henrietta, went to Blair, Wisconsin, this morning.

Mr. F. S. Huber, an old and respected resident of the West End, dropped dead yesterday afternoon while working in his carpenter shop. The cause of death was heart disease. He leaves a wife and four children.

A CHANGE OF STREETS.

A Better Way to Reach the West End of the City.

The city engineer and the board of works have a scheme for a new public street, that they have just laid out on the plat, that will be of great importance and value to the western part of the city back of Rices Point. It will be remembered that Third street where it curves through the public park starts down the hill at Eighteenth avenue west at a 16-foot grade. The whole of that part of the city back of Third street and west of Nineteenth avenue is now practically inaccessible to street cars and other conveyance from the East End.

It is now proposed to remedy this difficulty. There is a natural shelf running along on a level back westwardly from near the junction of Eighteenth avenue and Third street, going about parallel to Piedmont avenue. It is proposed to open this way back into Brookdale or some adjoining division, thus giving a practically level road from as far east as Twelfth avenue west on Third street. This would give a chance for street car service to all that part of town. The street car company is already ordered to build on Fourth street as far west as Fourteenth avenue west and it would be a much more profitable investment to continue the road around for a long distance west.

L. Mendenhall and others have agreed to open a road through easterly from Third street at the east end of the park to First street, thus giving a direct and very easy graded road from the center of town to the far district referred to.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

Bricklayers are at work on the eighth and upper story of the Palladio building. It will be under roof in two weeks. The Chamber of Commerce has one story of brick work, besides the high brick gables yet to be raised, before the roof can be put on.

At a meeting of the Pythian Castle association last night a former vote was reconsidered and the plans of O. G. Traphagen accepted.

A large brick and stone building four stories high on Michigan street and 50x140 feet, is to be built on Superior street near Fifteenth avenue west.

The five fine brick dwellings on the corner of Sixth avenue west and Fourth street owned by D. Ogilvie are about completed.

There was no meeting of the Chamber of Commerce this morning.

Round trip tickets to Duluth from St. Paul and Minneapolis are being sold for $4.

The rehearsal of "Chimes of Normandy" that was to have taken place last night is postponed to Wednesday evening.

Two drunks were committed this morning at the municipal court and one paid a fine.

In the case of J. T. Rankin, charged with attempting to steal $100 from Tom Connors, the defendent was committed to jail in default of $250 bail.

Harvy Calloway, a Cornish miner who has only been in this country a short time, employed at the Tower mines, was brought from the range this morning and an examination will be held as to his sanity. He has been frantic at times and severely assaulted his father.

Chris Pfitzenmeirer and John E. Johnson took out first papers this morning.

Makes a Difference What Its For.

Over $30,000 was drawn from the State bank this morning on city checks. The officers of the bank only question the legality of the check presented to the bank yesterday by the city treasurer changing the place of deposit.

A Wave of Matrimony.

Officer McManus, the efficient policeman on duty at the West End, was married this morning to Miss Lizzie Ryan, also a resident of the West End. The police force made the couple a present of a $50 coal stove and a center table and they will begin housekeeping at once. This marriage of a Duluth officer is but the initial exodus from the realm of bachelordom in which are interested Dan Horgan, Ned Dwyer, Bob Smollet and John O. Hale. These gentlemen, so it is said, will lead brides to the altar in the near future.

Another Play.

The pleasing comedy of "Queens Evidence" is to be produced in Duluth by local talent, assisted by one or two persons from Minneapolis. The date for the production of the play has not yet been set, but it will be in the near future. Already the various parts have been selected.

Flood Losses.

It is probable the city will be called on to pay little over $12,000 because of the flood damage of a week ago. Simon Clark, the grocer, figures out his loss at $5000, there having been a much larger amount of salvage than was considered possible. I. Freimuth loses about $1700, here also the salvage being very large; The Eagle Spice mills lose $2419, and others smaller amounts. By far the greater losses were to street and sewer contractors whose ditches were open and flooded. These, not being flooded because of a defective dam, can get nothing.

An Expert Opinion.

Dr. Simon Quinlin, who came up from Chicago last week to institute the Duluth lodge of Elks, left for Ashland last night by boat. By virtue of his office as head of the order Dr. Quinlin has traveled over the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific and has been entertained and banquetted in many cities by rich lodges. Yet he said that nowhere had he ever been so royally entertained as in Duluth, and never had he been a guest at a banquet so plensing to the taste of the gourmet and so perfectly served as was the planked whitefish dinner served by Landlord Emerson at The Spalding.

They will go to St. Paul and there proceed to Wyoming, where Mr. Brassey will spend the fall months hunting.

EXAGGERATED.

A New York Story About J. A. Willard Proves to be Untrue.

A telegram from N. Y. this morning stated that John A. Willard, of Mankato, had been found insane on the streets there, that he had been at the Astor house for two months under treatment for the malady. Mr. Willard has been for several years heavily interested in Duluth, and is one of the heaviest stockholders in the magnificent Chamber of Commerce, now nearing completion. His agents and friends here doubt the truth of the published story. "Mr. Willard will be in Duluth in a couple of weeks," said one this morning, "and he'll surprise some of our people by the projects he has ready to carry out. I don't believe a word of the story published and I'm in a position to know."

That the story is not entitled to credence is shown by the fact that while it alleges that Mr. Willard has been at the Astor house in New York for two months, the fact is that he was in Duluth several days this month, he having registered at The Spalding August 8.

NEW NEW ENGLAND.

Newspapers in some of the larger Eastern cities and in the West have of late been writing some very wise words about New Enaland, prompted by the recent action of the state of Vermont, looking to some regulation of the emigration into the state. It is assumed by these wise-acre quill-drivers that the process of abandonment of farms is continually going on, and that the rural portion of New England is rapidly becoming a desert and a howling wilderness. Such an assumption is entirely erroneous. The fact is that the tide turned in favor of rural New England some years ago, and the statistics show, to whoever cares to inform himself accurately, that the farming interests are gradually increasing.

One paper, which is usually well-informed, says that "New England is at last awakening to the fact that if she desires to be more than a part of the history of the past, she must do something to check the ever increasing volume of emigration that has depopulated her towns and depleted the stony hillside farms that the sturdy old Puritan took such delight in causing to 'blossom like the rose.'" If this writer knew his subject he would be aware that New England awoke in the way he points out some years ago, and that there is now in all her towns and cities as keen an appreciation of the lively spirit of the day as exists in his own city, or anywhere in the West. Not only is it a fact that the farms of New England are being taken up with steadily increasing rapidity, but there is in about every city and town some citizens, organization which is working to advance the business of the place constantly. And this sort of effort is beginning to show fruits. There are many New England towns and cities which are having "booms" that compare favorably with the growth of the better class of growing Western cities. There are as many stagnant communities in the West as in the East, probably many more. The East, and particularly New England, is fully alive to the new commercial activity that has taken possession of the country, and will get its full share of the fruits. If anybody in the West thinks the East is asleep, or does not realize that the world is moving, it would be well for them to seek enlightenment before they stake money on that belief. New Englanders have not the dash and abandon in business that characterize the Western men, but they manage to arrive at the home plate in season to score, every time.

The West beats the whole world for push and enterprise, but it has not all the energy and push. New England farms have changed ownership during the two generations last past simply because the West offered a better field for their original owners. They are lying idle in large numbers, because increased transportation facilities made their product unprofitable. But the tide turned several years ago, and the new New Englanders have learned how to produce what the market demands. Today there are more farms worked than five years ago, and there is a satisfactory ratio of increase each year. It would be a useful object lesson for a doubting Westerner to take a trip through New England during September and October and attend the agricultural fairs. He would be obliged to own that the science of agriculture is better understood now in New England than in any other section of the country, and more scientifically practiced.

FROM DULUTH SOUTH.

The question of the extension of the Duluth and Red Wing road to Duluth comes directly before the city in the proposal now made by the managers of this road that Duluth shall be represented by two active members at least on the board of directors of the construction company and that $50,000 in the stock of this company shall be subscribed for. It is agreed that the full amount of this subscription shall be expended in survey and construction work from this end of the proposed line, extending south from the junction arranged with the Eastern Minnesota, thirty seven miles from this city. The operation of the section already constructed has been so successful, and promises so well for the future, that strong encouragement is given for the continuance of the line south and north to Sioux City and Duluth.

At the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce this morning the importance and value of this undertaking to Duluth and the profit to be reasonably anticipated from investment in the stock of the construction company were clearly presented by President Hoyt and General Manager Hubbard. Bonds and railroad stock issued to the holders of construction stock cover the investment very liberally, and the townsite and other privileges of the construction company should assure large additional profits. It was pointed out that the section already constructed had paid expenses from the time of the opening of the road and was now making money with the certainty of largely increased receipts in the coming months. Red Wing had given very freely in proportion to her means to advance the road, and it seemed fair that Duluth should now take some active steps toward Red Wing if the connection was accounted of value to her.

Colonel Graves spoke strongly in confirmation of the views of the railroad representatives, pointing out that no difficulty now existed in arranging for suitable terminal facilities, and that Duluth could not hope for profitable trade with southern Minnesota by way of St. Paul but must secure independent connection. Moreover, there was a rising question beyond that of profit. To make great manufacturing establishments successful at the head of the lakes cheap living for the workingmen was of vital importance, and the positive assurance of cheap food would follow from this connection with the garden of Minnesota. For iron ore and timber also, the line would be of value to the head of the lakes, beyond present calculation.

The importance of active interest to forward this connection with Red Wing and ultimately with Sioux City cannot be too strongly urged. The representatives of the road now in the city are awaiting the decision and what is done should be done promptly. Arrangement will be made at once for the beginning of the work from this end of the line, in case the amount called for is pledged. The lack of interest which can alone prevent the filling up of the subscription will be seriously disappointing to its promoters and to the workers at the other end of the line. What loss to Duluth may follow from such an initial failure cannot be measured. For Duluth then there must be no such word as fail.

The Superior Journal has introduced a novelty in journalism. It has discontinued its editorial column and introduced a "family medical department" in its stead. This is a more open and frank acknowledgment of the medicinal character of editorials than we ever remember to have seen before.

General Alger's election as commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic is a foregone conclusion. No other one mentioned for the place commands more than a local or scattering support. General Alger is the first choice of the majority, and the second choice of nearly everybody. Moreover he is the best man for the place, of the candidates named, as well as the strongest. It is safe to predict that the strongest and best man will win.

SEEN AND HEARD.

John Carroll, one of the largest contractors on public works in all Canada, has been in Duluth for a few days and is duly impressed with the city, its buildings and business, its prospects and present, its growth and "go-ness." "When you get the advantage of the big Canadian St. Lawrence canals now being built you will grow faster than ever," says he. "These canals are under way all along the line, and the government sees, what your own government does not, by the way, the advantage of finishing them and right off too. The work is further along than most people imagine. In four years at the most vessels of 280 feet length and fourteen feet draft will go from the ocean to Duluth and other upper lake ports. Fourteen feet isn't very deep, but it's within eighteen inches of the draft permissible through your own boasted lake canals and locks now and apparently four years from now, unless work progresses more rapidly than at present. You appropriate a million a year ago for the Sault canal and river. Why, man, I'm bidding now on $7,000,000 worth of work on the Canadian canals and there's more than as much now under way. Canada has a few people and a big debt but I believe she understands the situation in regard to lake commerce. When her Sault canal is completed she will have deep waterways clear through to the sea, while you have none east of Buffalo."

Mr. Carroll is the owner of a 5000-acre farm in east central South Dakota, on which he has 2100 acres of first-rate hard wheat. In common with his neighbors he has been shipping to Chicago. "I don't see," said he, "why I must ship there and what's more I ain't going to any more. My good wheat goes there and it's swallowed up in a mass of No. 2 which it raises a little but is depreciated itself a good deal. If I ship here I get lower elevator charges, higher grades and prices, better accommodation, quicker returns, and less freight rates. You can set it down that a great deal of blue stem and other good wheats will come to Duluth hereafter instead of Chicago as now. I've got 30,000 bushels myself and my near neighbors, interested in this move also, have five times as much more. Duluth is our natural outlet and we know it."

HOW TO BE RIGHT THOUGH LEFT.

[Carlyle Smith in Harper's Bazar.]

I never nursed a dear gazelle,
And trained it so's to ride,
But when I had it fit to sell,
The creature went and died.

I never had a business scheme,
And got it where 'twould pay,
But that some villain smashed my dream
And took my cash away.

I never asked a maid to be
My wife, of home the head,
But what, alas! she jilted me,
And with another wed.

I never had a plate of cream
But that 'twas sure to melt;
I never backed a Western scheme
But some one got my pelt.

I never had a single friend
I really thought to trust,
But what I'd ever to him lend,
And find him ever bust.

So I decline forever to join
The pessimistic set;
For me there must be tenderloin,
And I'll be happy yet.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. A Boston lady, whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But no could not prevail on me to change. I told him I had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, knew what it was, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other. When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

THINK OF THESE THINGS
—AND—
BUY BEFORE ANOTHER ADVANCE!

IF A PERSON WANTS A HOME, LET HIM BUY ONE OR MORE LOTS IN CROSLEY PARK AND THEN BORROW MONEY OF A BUILDING ASSOCIATION TO BUILD A HOUSE AND HE IS FIXED.

BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS

Have enabled thousands of laboring men and people of ordinary means to become land owners and capitalists. What a blessing they have been to such people in all our Eastern cities! It is the correct theory for the following reasons, viz.:

First--It enables people to deposit small sums at stated times in their own bank (for a building association is really a savings bank in which all depositors are stockholders, and all share pro rata the profits).

Second--By being required to pay small sums regularly stockholders form habits of economy and thrift, which are indispensable to the acquisition of wealth.

Third--It begets in people an ambition to get homes and acquire wealth for themselves and their families.

We have adopted the Building Association plan In the sale of lots in

CROSLEY PARK.

CROSLEY PARK PAVILION.

It is far better to buy good Duluth real estate when you can get it by easy weekly payments than to take stock in a building association for the following reasons, viz.:

First--In a building association, if you fail to pay on the very day the fine imposed goes a good ways toward cutting down your profits.

This is not the case if you buy lots in

CROSLEY PARK,

For if you are sick or out of town, or unable to pay for a period of four weeks after the payment is due, no advantage can be taken of you.

Second--Building associations, however well they may be managed, are liable to sustain losses, and in that event all the stockholders bear their share. In buying lots in Crosley Park there is no element of loss to be considered.

Third--A stockholder in a building association does not control his own interest, but is a sort of partner with all other stockholders and subject to the management of other men. If you buy lots in Crosley Park you control your own property absolutely and can sell and assign your contract at any time.

Fourth--The advance in values of Crosley Park lots will be far greater than the profits in a building association.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

To Open Next Monday For Another Year of Work And Study.

Free Text Books Adopted For The First Time, Its Features.

The fall term of Duluth public schools will open on Monday, September 2, next, and teachers are already returned from mountain and seashore, and from Eastern summer schools, where they have been passing the summer vacation season strengthening both body and mind, prepared to renew with fresh vigor the work of teaching the young idea. Superintendent Denfeld is actively completing necessary arrangements for reopening the schools. Mr. Critchett, the newly appointed principal of the High school, has moved here from Minneapolis, where he was principal of a large and successful school, and he is ready for work. He is a man of energy, love of teaching and has a reputation for imparting enthusiasm. He has a most admirable record as a teacher and the superintendent looks for a marked advance in the efficiency of Duluth's young High school. The nearly three-score teachers for the different schools are changed in personnel but little from last year, in but few cases have old teachers resigned or left. The force throughout is remarkably efficient and comprises as high a grade of ability, skill and love of the work as can be found in any city.

A very large attendance is expected this fall, the growth of the city being more than equalled by the growth of the school population. While the school board is constantly at work providing new buildings it can hardly keep pace with the demand for room. A year ago existing school rooms were increased by twelve with accommodation for nearly 700 scholars, this fall the same increase takes place, and work has begun on a third school of the same size, ready next fall. Still there is a call for school privileges in parts of town that believe they need houses. It is probable that all the schools, with one or two exceptions, will be crowded, and possible that in some half day sessions will be inaugurated for a time.

Free Text Books.

The free text book system, advocated strongly by Superintendent Denfeld, has been adopted and will be put in force at once. It is believed that by it the expense of books will be greatly lessened and will be borne by taxpayers in general rather than by the individual. "The school now provides ink and paper, and chalk, why should it not go the whole way." Says the superintendent, "and relieve the parent of the expense and trouble of providing books, especially when it can do so at a great saving of expense and bother?" The system, in use in the East, works satisfactorily and there is no reason why it should not here. Children are charged up with the books taken and any wanton damage, or loss entirely, is to be paid for by them. The city expects the first cut of the system to be less than $2000 and of this $1400 were appropriated last night. This system will be watched with interest by Duluth and other Western cities and on its success or failure here will many be guided.

The Lincoln School.

The new Lincoln school at Twenty-fourth avenue west and Fourth street, with its accommodation for 660 scholars, will be ready for service in a short time, and will be at once filled up. It is badly needed, though in a district where two years ago there was not a dwelling house. The Endion school, a picture of the elevation of which has been given in this paper, will soon be under way, and in a year will be ready to house its 700 scholars. On older city schools many improvements have been made during the summer.

The Board Meets.

At a special meeting of the board of education held last night considerable discussion was had of the merits of various heating and ventilating systems and a committee was appointed to visit Minneapolis schools and investigate. The resignation of Miss Earhart, as teacher was accepted. Miss Pearce was made teacher on Minnesota Point and Miss Hunt of the high school. Appointment of teachers for the Park Point school were authorized. Mr. Cohn, teacher of languages was given the use of the high school, rent free, for the session of 1890, in consideration of receiving public school teachers for half rates. His school will be, in some sense, under the sanction of the board.

THE COUNCIL.

Business Transacted at Its Regular Weekly Meeting.

The weekly session of the city council occured last night. West Fourth street, from Piedmont to Twenty-fifth avenue, will be graded. The estimated cost is $16,000, and the board of works was authorized to carry out the plans. A resolution was passed ordering the payment of $13,000 for two lots on Sixth avenue east, that must be condemned in order to put the avenue through from Superior street half a block; but the money is not to be paid until a list has been made showing the division of an assessment against the property benefited. The council approved the assessment for cuts and fills on New York avenue.

The resolution ordering the grading of Eleventh avenue west, which was left last week, was reconsidered and approved. It was ordered that notice be given E. B. Ringland and H. S. Wilson to drain certain properties in Portland. The board of works was ordered to build a retaining wall below Michigan street, a part of the cost to be paid by the Eastern Minnesota Railroad company.

When the question came up of making the Bell & Eyster bank custodian of public moneys a hitch occurred, although the council ordered the bank to furnish $400,000 bonds. Yesterday Treasurer Voss wished, in compliance with the order of the council at its last meeting, to deposit $16,931 with Bell & Eyster, and to accomplish it drew that amount against the State Bank. Cashier M. O. Hall refused to honor the check, and of this matter Mr. Voss notified the council last night. W. K. Rogers, M. O. Hall and the attorney of the State Bank were at the meeting, and in explanation of the affair said the council had no right to legally make one bank its depository. They wanted to test the validity of the proceeding. City Attorney Smith thought the council had this right if they so desired. Several aldermen thought the bank was decidedly wrong in dishonoring the city's check, when it had money on deposit. The bank will be sued for thus retaining a depositor's money.

Estimates to the amount of $8210 were reported and $32,361 was the sum of the estimates ordered paid.

LUMBER NOTES.

The C. N. Nelson Lumber company sent a crew up to the White Face river last week to attempt to bring out a drive of 8,000,000 feet for Cloquet.

The Corning Lumber company, mention of which has been made in The Herald is composed of Stevens & LaDue and Gordon Corning, of East Saginaw, and Arthur Hill and T. D. Merrill, of Saginaw.

Paul Blackmar's crack rotary mill at Barnum made its best record last week. In six days it cut 486,300 feet an average of 81,050 feet per day.

John C. Brown, of East Saginaw, has taken a contract to put in for T. H. McGraw, on Dead river, near Marquette, 200,000,000 feet of logs. The stream is so rocky that logs cannot be run and a logging railroad will be built to the mouth, where R. K. Hawley, of Cleveland, will erect a saw mill. The mill will be equipped with three band saws. Mr. Brown will put in from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 feet of logs yearly.

Childrens Aid Society.

There was a small attendance at the meeting last night at the Congregational church to organize a local board of the Childrens Aid society. Rev. E. M. Noyes was made chairman, and Mrs. Z. D. Scott secretary. Rev. Messrs. Dysart and Savage of St. Paul explained the objects of the society and the form of organization and answered questions asked by those present. Rev. E. M. Noyes and A. W. Bradley are members of the state board, and Mesdames C. A. Field for the Congregational church, T. B. Hoover for the First Methodist, Horace Davis for the Second Presbyterian and Z. D. Scott for the Baptist, have been appointed members of the local board. Other ladies will be appointed to represent the other churches of the city. The board will meet for organization at the First Baptist church Sept. 5, at 4 p. m.

Pictures People Like to See.

The lover of baseball will be interested in the full-page picture in Frank Leslie's Weekly this week, showing a player caught between the bases. It is an exciting and frequent incident of ball games beautifully brought out. Visitors to Lake George will enjoy the first page picture of the landing of the passengers. A beautiful picture of a beautiful woman, one of the bright galaxy of representative society ladies pictured weekly by Leslie's, is that of Mrs. Marshall Orme Wilson. The ocean race is also illustrated. Leslie's is full of pictures this week, all of them striking.

A Gentle Sport.

No gentleman admires a pugilist, and it is not stretching the truth very far to say that no gentleman will attend a prize fight. There are gentler sports more in keeping with refined instincts. One of them is fishing. What more enjoyable can be found than an hour with rod and reel when the fish rise well? If you want something of that kind go to White Bear Lake, Lake Chisago, and the trout streams thereabout. They are on the St. Paul and Duluth railroad—the Duluth Short line between St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and West Superior. For information address A. B. Plough, general passenger agent, St. Paul, Minn.

Be Merciful to Yourself,

And heed the appeals for assistance put forth by your liver, when the organ is out of order. Among these are distress in the right side and through the right shoulder blade, yellowness of the skin and eyeballs, furred tongue, sour breath, sick headache, and, above all, irregularity of the bowels. The mercy you extend to the afflicted organ is wisely shown by a prompt course of medication with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, most genial of alteratives, and the hepatic gland early reciprocates the deserved attention by resuming its secretive functions actively and regularly. Among the accompanying good results are renewed digestion, freedom from headaches, and a resumption of activity of the bowels. All bilious symptoms disappear, and appetite and sleep improve. Beneficent are the effects of the Bitters in malarial disease, kidney disorder, rheumatic ailments and nervousness.

A Worthy Enterprise and One of Duluth's Necessities.

Silverstone Brothers, of Milwaukee, who are well known for keeping the largest merchant tailoring establishment in the Northwest, and especially for giving everybody first-class satisfaction at most reasonable prices, will open a branch in our city on or about Sept. 7, comprising a most handsome and well-selected stock of cloths and cashmeres, with prices that will astonish everybody. It is a well-known fact that our tailors have been charging enormous prices, which kept tailoring within a certain limit in our city, and gave only a few a chance to wear custom made clothing. They not only promise to give us most reasonable prices, but will also give us first-class workmanship, first-class trimmings and a perfect fit. Being practical tailors, understanding their business thoroughly, they cannot help, under these conditions, to succeed. We wish them all the success possible, and hope they will not be sorry for having struck Duluth.

A Woman's Discovery.

Another wonderful discovery has been made in these closing years of the nineteenth century, by one of the best-known ladies of Minneapolis. She has discovered a railroad that is perfection. But let her tell it in her own words: "I cannot close this rambling letter without alluding to the charming ride we had on the Burlington road from Minneapolis to Chicago. If there is any road in the United States or elsewhere which has more luxurious or more perfectly comfortable sleepers, more beautiful, well-appointed dining cars, more appetizing, satisfying meals, or better attendance in all its departments, than this road, I have never seen it, and I do not believe it exists. The arrangements of the cars were all so perfect, and everything was so quiet, that I, for one, was sorry to leave them, and determined then and there to recommend the Burlington to any friends who in their journeyings might avail themselves of this route." CAUTION

W. L. Douglas' name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all Shoes advertised by him before leaving his factory; this protects the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If your dealer does not keep the style or kind you want, or offers you shoes without W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on them, and says they are just as good, do not be deceived thereby, but send direct to the Factory for you can get what you want by return mail, postage paid. Dealers make more profit on unknown shoes that are not warranted by anybody; therefore do not be induced to buy shoes that have no reputation. Buy only those that have W. L. Douglas' name and the price stamped on the bottom, and you are sure to get full value for your money. Thousands of dollars are saved annually in this country by the wearers of W. L. Douglas' Shoes. In ordering by mail state whether you want Congress, Button or Lace, London cap toe, plain French toe, or narrow cap toe, and be sure to give size and width you wear. I can fit any foot that is not deformed, as my shoes are made in a great variety of widths, sizes and half sizes, I guarantee a fit, prompt delivery and perfect satisfaction or money refunded upon return of the shoes in good condition.

Canadian Wheat Will Not Be Shipped Without Inspection.

New Wheat and its Inspection, The Markets Here and Elsewhere.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 27.—[Special.] -A new point has arisen in connection with the transferring of Manitoba grain in bond through Duluth elevators.

Recently the Duluth Board of Trade protested against this grain being inspected and weighed as an unnecessary tax which would have a tendency to drive business away from Duluth to Port Arthur and other Canadian points. The railroad and warehouse commission could see no legal way to waive inspection, as the law especially demands inspection on all grain in and out of public warehouses. The commission then agreed to the adoption of a suggestion that part of elevators at Duluth be set apart as bonded warehouse under the charge of United States customs officers, through which all Canadian grain would pass without inspection. That matter is now being arranged with the customs department.

Word, however, has just been received from members of the Winnipeg board of trade that their attitude in the matter has been misunderstood, and that instead of objecting to the inspection and weighing of their grain they desire to have it done. They believe it will be inconvenient and impossible to handle the business at Duluth without such inspection, and regard Minnesota inspection as a benefit rather than a detriment, as it will give them an opportunity to use both Canadian and American markets at their option. It frequently happens that wheat commands a much higher price at Duluth than at Montreal, so that Manitoba wheat can bear the payment of customs duty and still show a greater profit than it would if shipped to Montreal and sold there.

In view of this new phase in the situation, it is not probable that the present method will be changed to any extent.

The Market.

Wheat opened easier today with sellers below and considerable sales of cash new 1 hard. New wheat futures opened weak, with buyers holding off. Later trading became more active, with buyers at ½ advance. The last hour ruled very strong. The close was firm, with buyers at 1 above the opening.

Cash 1 hard, old, 83½. New 81. No. 1 northern, 76. No. 2 northern, 72. September opened at 80¼, ruled firm, at the close sellers 81¼. October opened at 80, was bid up to 81 at the close. December opened at 81, ruled strong, and in demand closed at 81¾. May in good demand closed at 86¾. Year 80½.

The New Wheat.

There is no little grain coming into store in Duluth now, the fine weather of the past few days having induced farmers to haul to the stations and to send forward. Still the grain that is coming forward is in no such quantities as might be expected, this being likely due to the weather and the threshing. Minneapolis, which expected to be getting in 200 or more cars per day, is receiving little more than half that many, while today's receipts here, fifty-seven cars, are the largest of the new crop season.

This wheat has a new feature for the inspector to consider. It has a soft and green kernel scattered through in small quantities, this green kernel being the result of the reseeding of large areas where the original plant was carried out by the wind. The new wheat generally is of very high quality, and as a result grain that last year easily went 1 hard will this year go scant 1 northern, such is the stiffening in grading. Green kernel grain is generally getting 1 northern grade. It is expected that the difference in price between 1 hard and 1 northern will be very slight, perhaps not over three or four cents.

Corn receipts continue fairly large, all that comes of course being last year's yield. Fifty-two cars or over 30,000 bushels came in this morning all from the southwest. There is now in store 700,000 bushels corn and the movement this way seems fairly established, though small so far. It will doubtless be for the coming crop year much larger than any previous season.

Flour Shipments.

Flour in store in Duluth grows rapidly less and is now less than half what it was a year ago. The total in store today is 60,922 bbls, a decrease for the week of 15,916, while there was here a year ago 135,376 bbls. The following is the detailed statement:

THE RED WING RAILWAY

Its Officers Talk of the Prospects and What it Wants.

Stock Subscriptions Needed to Complete Connection.

Ex-Governor L. F. Hubbard, general manager, and F. W. Hoyt, president of the Duluth, Red Wing and Southern railway, are in the city on business relating to the subscription by Duluth citizens of a $50,000 block of stock in the road to be used for the purpose of aiding in the completing of the Red Wing road to Duluth. Ex-Governor Hubbard and Mr. Hoyt were busy all the forenoon conferring with Duluth business men about the scheme, and maps were looked over and plans discussed until 10:30, at which time an adjournment was had to the Chamber of Commerce where a public meeting was held and the matter talked over.

Ex-Governor Hubbard said to The Herald:

"I think this is a road Duluth needs. It opens a new country, and will not be run in the interests of St. Paul and Minneapolis. If we get the local subscription to the construction company, as we expect, a very small sum, under the circumstances, we will begin work at this end of the line so that Duluth will reap the direct benefit of the investment. Our bonds will be floated in Europe, and our agents there assure us in the matter. We may be in Duluth several days."

Upon motion the meeting proceeded to organize choosing Col. C. H. Graves as chairman and Mr. Eliot Lord as secretary. The chairman, after a few words of introduction, presented President Hoyt who reviewed interestingly the progress of the railroad undertaking in the past two years and laid before the meeting the proposal of the construction company. With the expectation of making Duluth the northern terminus of the road stretching from Sioux City, it is felt that Duluth should be fully represented on the board of direction of the construction company, and that a subscription should be made at once to cover the expense of beginning work at this end. Fifty thousand dollars are asked for, payable in instalments, at the direction of the board, in return for stock of the construction company, entitling holders to bonds and stock of the railroad company in designated proportions.

President Hoyt's address was supplemented by the statements of General Manager Hubbard, confirmed and endorsed by Colonel Graves, Mr. R. S. Munger and others.

At the close of the discussion the following resolution was offered by Mr. R. C. Mitchell, and adopted without dissent.

Resolved, That this meeting looks favorably upon the proposition that Duluth should subscribe $50,000 in aid of the construction company of the Duluth and Red Wing road and that a committee of three be appointed to wait upon our public-spirited citizens and solicit their aid to this project.

The chairman stated that in view of the importance of the matter and the need of immediate action upon it, he would take a short time to consider the membership of the committee, before announcing it.

ITS CORNER STONE LAID.

Grand Lodge of Masons Performs the Elaborate Ceremony

Attendant Upon Laying the Corner Stone of Duluth Temple.

Today Duluth's new Masonic Temple was examined by Masons from all parts of the state, several hundred congregating here to assist in the unique ceremonies of corner stone laying. Every train from the south since yesterday afternoon has been crowded with members of the order of antiquity and many of the most noted men of the state were present today. The ceremonies which called them together—laying the corner stone of, with one exception, the most elegant society building in the state of Minnesota,—were not long and before noon were completed. An elaborate banquet and a very pleasant excursion on bay and lake carried out the entire program and already many of the visitors have left for their homes, to be followed by nearly all tonight and in the morning.

On the arrival of trains this morning the visitors were escorted by local lodges, headed by a band, to The Spalding, where breakfast was served. Promptly at 9 o'clock officers of the grand lodge of the state were taken to the old Masonic hall by the various Duluth commandery and lodges, and the ceremony of opening the grand lodge was quickly carried out. A line of procession was then formed, the march taking in Superior street as far west as Sixth avenue west, that avenue and Second street, ending up at the corner of Superior street and Second avenue east, the site of the new Temple. Here, after a stand was made, the formal letter of invitation of the grand secretary, venerable W. T. C. Pierson, of St. Paul, was read. An able address of welcome by Brother O. P. Stearns, on behalf of the various divisions of the fraternity at Duluth was then delivered and was received with applause by the many hundreds of Masons and visitors who blocked up the streets for a long distance and filled all available space on the floor of the great building. Brother C. H. Graves, of this city, followed with an address, in which he reviewed the local history of the order and gave many interesting facts. Following is the address:

Most Worshipful Grand Master: It is with great pride that the citizens of Duluth welcome you today to the laying of the corner stone of this Masonic temple, which is to be, without doubt, one of the most elegant and extensive structures as yet built in any city of the West by the Masonic fraternity. You will pardon us for pride in this achievement, when we ask for what else of 30,000 people between the Atlantic and Pacific does such a structure stand today.

Nothing could more strikingly illustrate the spirit of enterprise which pervades this community, nothing show more plainly that sublime confidence which our citizens have in the future of Duluth than this magnificent tribute to its present and to its future.

It is my pleasant duty on this occasion to present to you a brief address, which shall be mainly historical in its character. Duluth is yet so young, it may not be supposed that either the city or any of its institutions may yet lay claim to a history, but not only does the ceremony of today teach us how important are the beginnings, the very foundations of important works, but our city and the society which stands sponsor to this enterprise have not been without vicissitudes in their time, worthy of mention.

It is remarkable that one of the first institutions to be established in the infant city of Duluth, was a Masonic lodge.

On the 10th day of April 1869, when this hill side was almost entirely covered with trees, and the county road which has now been made Superior street, went over the ridges and down into deep ravines and across rough log bridges, a few of the faithful met at the residence of Brother Mayhew on Minnesota Point, and under a dispensation from the General Lodge of Minnesota organized Palestine lodge. The officers were:

Worshipful Master—J. B. Culver.
Senior Warden—J. D. Ray.
Junior Warden—Franklin W. Ely.
Senior Deacon—H. H. Eames.
Junior Deacon—G. G. Barnum.
Treasurer—A. M. Weller.
Secretary—Louis Berkleman.
Tyler—Horace Saxton.

On examination of the records I have little doubt that after these officers had taken their places there were few other members for them to rule over, for the lodge held its meetings faithfully every week, and the records mention as particular events the visits of a single brother from some other lodge: on April 16th Brother William Nettleton's name so appears, and on July 31st that of Walter Van Brunt; but applications for membership flowed in apace, and the record book naively states that nearly all were returned to the applicants by reason of their not having been residents of the town for the previous twelve months, as required by the statute. We can almost wonder how the town itself could have been recognized under such a rule, for most of you have heard our old friend Banning relate his visit here in the previous summer of 1868, when he met the citizens of Duluth in convention assembled and all of them seated on one log on the beach of Lake Superior.

On July 31st the first lodge meeting in a regular hall took place, and strange to say, the building stood at the corner of Superior street and Second avenue east, on the identical spot where we today lay the corner stone of this permanent Temple for the order.

On September 25th of the same year Palestine lodge received its first entered apprentice in the person of E. H. Foster, who is I believe with us in the interesting ceremonies of today. Next followed George Berkleman and J. R. Cary, and then the regular work went on. December 4th, Brother Hayes Mahan was the first passed to the degree of a Fellow Craft, and on the 7th had the honor to be the first Master Mason made in Duluth. It is also recorded that the lodge promptly got into debt, negotiating a loan of $350 from some trusting capitalist of the time.

December 18th it was resolved that Palestine lodge apply at the next communication of the Grand lodge for a charter, and the petition was signed by twenty brothers. I give the names of the charter members in full, because of the importance of that event, and because the mention of their names will recall pleasant memories to many of you:

Joshua B. Culver,	John G. Parker,
James D. Ray,	Edward E. Collins,
Franklin W. Ely,	Harvey Webb,
John F. McLaren, Jr.,	Henry A. Luchber,
Albert N. Selp,	William H. Feller,
Walter Van Brunt,	Francis Berguist,
George G. Barnum,	Henry G. Finkle,
Herman Oswald,	Andrew J. Sawyer,
Clinton Markell,	Stiles G. Trumbull,
James S. Campbell,	Edgar Nash.

On January 14th, 1870, the charter was granted and February 23d, the officers were installed:

J. S. Campbell, Worshipful Master.
J. D. Ray, Senior Warden.
F. W. Ely, Junior Warden.
J. F. McLaren, Jr., Treasurer.
A. N. Selp, Secretary.
W. Van Brunt, Senior Deacon.
G. G. Barnum, Junior Deacon.
H. Oswald, Senior Stewart.
C. Markell, Junior Stewart.
M. Horan, Tyler.

Among these names that of Joshua B. Culver, the first mayor of the city of Duluth, recalls a noble man of memory dear to all the early citizens.

His home farm of eighty acres covered what is now the very center of this city, and to his wisdom in council, energy in action and never failing public spirit, much of the prosperity of Duluth is due. Colonel Culver served his country with great distinction during the war of 1861, and was a polished gentleman of most courteous manner, but the singularly unselfish, kind and and conscientious character which he bore, and the ability with which he discharged all important duties were most remarkable. It is to us a great satisfaction that when away from home and friends, in a far distant city, he was stricken with mortal illness, brother Masons there cared for his last hours and tenderly bore him to us to be laid away among our sacred dead.

And next the name of J. D. Ray, whose continued cheerful presence here rejoices us today, as we hope it may for many a year to come. Genial Frank Ely, but a year ago stricken down by pestilence in his Southern home. McLaren, who tried to live away from Duluth but wisely gave up the error and returned. Markell, Barnum, Van Brunt and Collins, who are still at work among us and helping to raise this magnificent monument to our beloved order in our beloved city. Campbell, Berquist and Finkle, Sawyer and Nash, whom we have lent to the building up of other rising cities of the Northwest, all these names are part of the history of Duluth as they are part of Palestine lodge, and their lives but emphasize the fact that the true Free Mason is the good citizen, helpful to his neighbor and true to all the duties of his allotted place.

Fourth of July celebrations were inaugurated in Duluth by Palestine lodge in 1870, and we find a cheerful record of $478 added to its treasury by the patriotic effort.

This is soon followed by the record of its disbursement in charitable allotments to distressed brothers, and on Oct. 30th the first funeral lodge assembled, and paid the honor of masonry to the remains of Brother Louis Berkleman, first secretary of the lodge, and thus the brotherly work was fairly begun.

Feb. 16th 1872, a new masonic hall in Hayes block was dedicated in solemn and ancient form by Most Worshipful Master Grove B. Cooley and a number of Grand officers, in presence of thirty-five brothers and a number of visiting brothers and their ladies. I trust it is not wrong for me to divulge the record that on Feb. 18th, 1872, Brother J. H. La Vaque made his first motion to prohibit smoking in the lodge room. The peculiarity of this statement would hint at so many repetitions of this motion as to make the date of the first one a striking historical period. Thus early did the reformer appear, we trust his work was successful, and it probably was, for I find no charges filed against any brother for unmasonic conduct until December of that year.

From 1873 to 1879 was the time of dark days in Duluth, and they are nowhere more strikingly shown than in the records of Palestine lodge, whose life was to intimately a part of that of the community, but with 1880 the brightening days appeared, and in 1881 a lot of land, lot 25, West First street, was purchased for the sum of $300, for the lodge building. This was the beginning of the movement toward having a permanent home, which has not been allowed to die out, but persistently urged to this time. Its fruition may be seen in the massive structure that meets your sight today. The lot which cost $300 was sold afterwards for $6000, and its proceeds used in the purchase of the present site. The building is being constructed by the Masonic Temple association, when completed it will cost you $200,000. It will have an Opera house with seating capacity of 1000, with stage as large as any in this state and fully equipped with every modern appliance for the production of standard plays and operas.

The first story on Superior street will contain two elegant stores, the second, third and fourth stories will be arranged in the most convenient manner for offices. On the fifth floor will be club and banquet rooms, on the sixth floor will be a large lodge room 40x56 in size, with ante-rooms and smaller lodge and reception rooms, which will be for the use of the Masonic fraternity.

The work of arranging for and constructing this building has been done by the building committee of the association, composed of Messrs. O. P. Stearns, J. H. La Vaque and P. M. Graff. We feel under the deepest obligations to these gentlemen for their efficient and arduous labors, and I take this opportunity of expressing to them the hearty thanks of the fraternity and of this entire community for their services.

Palestine lodge numbers now about two hundred members, and another lodge has recently been formed, a child of the present institution.

Most Worshipful Grand Master: As we assemble today to lay the foundation stone of a great temple in one of the youngest of the cities of the new world, we turn for our model and inspiration to one of the oldest of all human institutions, Free Masonry.

The contrast is most impressive, and the lesson which it teaches us is sublime.

We rear here a massive and enduring structure, to be an ornament of a city whose great future none of us can foresee, but we must remember how in ages past the square and level have been used to test the foundation work of temples more magnificent, in mighty cities beyond the seas. Today those temples are but dust, those cities but memories of the past, but the heritage of Brotherhood and sympathy, elevating all motive and action to the high level of duty comes down undimmed by lapse of time, unchanged through all the centuries, our heritage from the Master Masons of old.

So we today assemble to pass on this priceless heritage to coming generations, and devoutly pray the Grand Master Builder of all, that so long as time may last, the noble principles of our order may be preserved to bless the race, and to ennoble by their spirit all the works of men.

After music the elaborate ceremony of laying the great redstone block in position was carried out. Its place was on the front corner of the building above the first story, above the redstone watertable that surrounds the entire structure, and on a level with the floor of the theater. The massive stone was easily lowered into its place, plumbed, leveled, squared, etc., in accordance with the usage of the Masonic fraternity, and the several articles gathered for insertion were put within, the corn, oil and wine was poured upon it, the words of the ritual were spoken and the ceremony was performed. In the soldered box placed within the stone were put the following articles: The proclamation of the grand lodge and grand council of the grand commandery; a copy of the city charter maps of Duluth; a brief history compiled from the earliest records of the lodge; a list of the members of the different lodges, all these documents to be engraved on parchment; a number of coins which have never been handled, these to be procured from the mint at Philadelphia; some fine samples of No. 1 hard wheat.

The benediction was then pronounced by the officer of the Grand Lodge, after which the procession reformed and returned to Masonic hall, where the proceedings were closed. After dinner an excursion was given the visitors and the session closed.

Many were the expressions of admiration at the beautiful building, part of which is already to the roof, and which will serve jointly as a Masonic temple and theater. Its longest dimensions are 138 by 140 feet, the Temple building being about 75 feet square and six stories in height. The accompanying cut gives a good idea of the appearance of the completed building. Its upper floors, as well as part of the upper floor of Temple opera, adjoining, are to be devoted to Masonic purposes, giving a floor space of 19,000 square feet. In this large space will be quarters for Palestine lodge, A. F. and A. M., the Duluth chapter of the Royal Arch, the Duluth Commandery, a very strong though young institution, and whatever new lodges and chapters may be formed. There will be also drillrooms, reading and reception rooms and all the needed paraphernalia of the order.

The Grand Lodge.

The entire ceremony was under charge of the grand lodge, which was represented by many of its officials. Among them were J. A. Keister, grand master; G. H. Davis, acting deputy master; W. T. C. Pierson, secretary; J. H. Thompson, treasurer: L. W. Folsom, senior deacon; J. E. Cooley, junior deacon; J. G. Moore, senior warden; C. D. Brice, junior warden; I. E. West, acting marshal; L. D. Boynton, acting chaplain; Alexander Fiddes, standard bearer; acting stewards, Geo. N. LaVaque and E. D. Hadley. The grand lodge marched in rear of the procession, which was headed by the grand commandery escorted by Damascus commandery, No.1, St.Paul. Members of the grand commandery as follows were present: Grand Commander W. A. Sanborn, St. Paul; deputy commander, L. C. Spaulding, Brainerd; treasurer, J. G. Macfarlane; warden, R. A. Gray, Duluth; past commanders, W. D. Cornish, St. Paul, and J. A. Schlener, Minneapolis; past generalissimo, R. C. Munger, St. Paul; past captain general, D. M. Baldwin, past commanders, J. C. Terry, St. Paul, and Dr. Allen, Duluth.

An Object of Interest.

Among the objects of interest shown to the visiting Masons and resident members of the fraternity today was an elegant Masonic jewel presented some twenty years ago to W. H. Nesbitt of this city by prominent Masons in Ireland. The jewel is a massive square and compass of diamonds set in silver, at the lower intersection of which hangs pendant a gold shield bearing the inscription "Presented to W. H. Nesbitt by Lodge 90." The occasion of the presentation was the elevation of Mr. Nesbitt to the office of provincial grand master of the order; the same position now held by the Prince of Wales.

Corner-Stone Notes.

Willis First regiment band serenaded the guests of The Spalding in the rotunda this morning playing several beautiful operatic selections.

The stone reached its permanent position at precisely 34 minutes past 11, and the exercises concluded at 12 o'clock exactly.

Brainerd Sir Knights who participated in the ceremonies were Superintendent F. Green, of the Northern Pacific, Captain W. P. Spalding and George Davis.

The upper story and roof of the city hall bristled with the omnipresent photographer, and Alderman Long did a rushing business with a detective camera.

Contractor Agnew made special provision for the convenience of newspaper representatives.

The benefit of a good band was amply shown today. Prof. Walker's tooters did make the most "sllonious" music.

TO MURDER A WITNESS.

An Attempt to Kill One of the Witnesses Against Suspect Burke.

A Gang Sets Upon an Inoffensive Man and Nearly Kills Him.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—A desperate attempt was made last night to assassinate Gus Klabre, the tinsmith who last week identified Martin Burke as the man for whom he soldered together a tin box on May 6, which it is supposed contained the clothing of Dr. Cronin.

At 8 o'clock last night he was walking eastward to his home on Ohio street. When within a block of his home, he was assaulted by ten or a dozen young men. They knocked him down, beat him about the head with some blunt instrument and threw him over a low fence to the ground below, a distance of twelve feet. He struggled to his feet, calling for help and ran toward home. His brother and a servant girl heard his screams, and they ran out toward him. His assailants sprang over the fence after him and pursued him almost to his door. His mother heard one of the pursuers shout with an Iris hbrogue—"Give it to him!"

That remark is the only clue to the assailants. He fell as he entered his door.

Klabre became unconscious before anything could be learned from him as to the assault, and up to a late hour was still unable to speak or recognize anyone. His family say he had no enemies unless he had made them by his statements in the Cronin case. No arrests have been made in the case.

He Will be Shot at Sight.

HURLEY, Wis., Aug. 28.—Scores of men are scouring the woods for the desperate robber and murderer, whose deeds on the line of the Milwaukee and Northern and Wisconsin Central railways, and on the highways of Shawano county have made him a terror to this part of Wisconsin. His desperate deeds of the past five months show that he is a man of nerve, is heavily armed, and knows how to handle his weapons. It will therefore be no surprise if, after his cold-blooded murder of one passenger and the mortal wounding of another on the Gogebic road yesterday, he is shot down on sight. Holzhay is the Jesse James of Wisconsin. His desperate acts would fill a book.

An Ocean Racer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The steamship City of Paris, which arrived this morning, has broken the record again, beating her own best time from Queenstown by 3 hours and 49 minutes. Her actual time (reckoning by Greenich time) from Queenstown to Sandy Hook was 5 days, 19 hours and 18 minutes.

Going Back to Work.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Shippers and merchants are pressing the dock companies to yield to the demands of the strikers, declaring that they are driving trade to other ports. An increased number of men are at work today. The mail steamers are being loaded slowly. Some of the carmen have resumed work. It is rumored that the dock companies have yielded to the demands of the strikers.

Failure at the West End.

Late yesterday afternoon the furniture store of Fred Bayha was closed by attachment made by William H. Britts. Mr. Bayha has not yet made an assignment, as there is considerable hope of a compromise with creditors. Mr. Bayha was seen last night but could not give the amount of his assets or liabilities, but said that if the stock was sold at a reasonable price there was no doubt but that dollar for dollar could be paid.

The Superiors.

Mrs. Frink and daughter Minnie arrived here from Marquette, Mich., and will make Superior their future home for the present. They will be the guests of Martin Pattison and family.

Secretary Holmes was here Sunday and through his recommendation J. Shipp was elected temporary secretary. He will correspond with state secretary of the Y. M. C. A. J. H. Lewis who it is expected, will have the new lodge fully established by September 10th. Sufficient funds have been guaranteed to support a general secretary, and the meetings of the Y. M. C. A. will be held in the temporary building which has been built for that purpose, on Tower avenue.

LAWYERS IN COUNCIL.

The Twelfth Annual Convention of the American Bar Association at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Prominent judges and members of the bar from a score of states occupied the main floor of the Clark street Methodist church block this morning, when the twelfth annual convention of the American Bar association was called to order. This is the first time the association has met elsewhere than at Saratoga, and the interest manifested in its proceedings was demonstrated by the large number of lawyers from this state, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, who occupied seats in the section reserved for invited guests.

Preliminary to the proceedings the delegates were introduced by Hon. Lyman Trumbull. Addresses of welcome were delivered on behalf of the Illinois state bar by President Ethelbert Callahan; for the Chicago bar by President Francis Lackner. Hon. David Dudley Field, president of the America Bar association, responded in eloquent terms, and the machinery having thus been set in motion, Judge Field assumed the chair, called the convention to order, and delivered the annual address, in which he reviewed at length the legislation of congress and of the several states during the past year. When he had concluded the council went into executive session.

This afternoon United States District Judge Henry B. Brown, of Detroit, will speak upon "Judicial independence."

HELENA MENACED.

A Big Fire Threatens the Safety of Montana's Capital City.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 28.—Colorado Gulch, which extends into Helena, and which is heavily timbered, is on fire twelve miles from here and flames are progressing in this direction. The fire started about noon yesterday. In the Gulch were a number of saw mills. These were quickly wiped out, as well as the homes of several ranchers.

At 6 o'clock last night the wind shifted and carried the flames eastward to Colorado Gulch, which goes half around Helena, starting at Broadwater hotel and ending at Chinatown. The fire is traveling toward Chinatown, swept by a strong wind, and should the wind not change by noon it will have reached the city. The air is full of cinders, and the heavens south and east of the city present a livid appearance.

THE LATEST.

Gathering of the Newest Traffic Convention at the Sault.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—The international traffic convention met this afternoon at 3 o'clock. There is a much larger attendance than was expected at any time previous to the opening. There is an afternoon and will be an evening session with a session tomorrow morning. Tomorrow afternoon the entire party goes on excursion to government improvements at Hay Lake channel east of here.

OHIO DEMOCRATS.

The State Convention is Opened With Praise of Cleveland.

DAYTON, Ohio., Aug. 28.—Ten o'clock was the time for the opening of the democratic convention. The delegates were seated and the hall was packed at 10:15 when Dr. Norton rapped for order. Dr. Norton made a brief address outlining the purposes of the convention. He He made the speech the vehicle for a caustic criticism of the republican party, and especially of Governor Foraker. Hon. M. D. Harter, of Richland county, was named for permanent president, Lewis G. Bernard, of Hamilton county for secretary and Peter Weidner, of Montgomery for sergeant-at-arms, was recommended for election by committee on organization. They were duly elected along with vice president.

The nomination for governor was next in order. Hon. Samuel F. Hunt made the opening speech, placing in nomination Hon. James E. Campbell, of Butler county, Hon. M. A. Foran, Cleveland, presented the name of Virgil P. Kline, of Cuyahoga county. Hon. Frank C. Dougherty was placed on nomination by Lawrence T. Neal, of Ross county.

With these three candidates nominations closed and the first ballot proceeded. It resulted: Campbell, 372; Neal, 252; Kline, 149. It required 396 votes to nominate. Several changes were made and Campbell was nominated on the first formal ballot.

A Paving Assessment.

The assessment for paving West Michigan street was opened this afternoon at the board of works office. It calls for the payment of $140.91 for each lot, or a total assessment of $22,419.32. The sewer assessment is not included in this amount. It is of about the same amount though a little less per lot.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

Several sidewalk bids were opened at the public works office this afternoon.

The Northern Pacific railroad is already feeling the return of Henry Villard's push and energy to the management—the Union depot ticket office has a new office table, the requisition for which was sent in several years ago. Today's slight fall of rain held off just long enough to allow the Masons to complete their ceremonies.

Nearly all pine-paving blocks for First avenue west have been sawed and are now being delivered. The avenue will be paved to Third street in a few days.

The subscriptions to Walker's military band fund now amount to to over $500.

There are 215 cases on the district court docket for September.

Sam Miller and John McKurze took out first papers this morning.

Coal Prices.

Duluth people would do well to buy their winter coal this week. The price will almost surely be advanced by next Monday forenoon twenty-five or fifty cents a ton. At present prices, which are a notch below last year, coal is comparatively reasonable, and $6.25 and $6.50 per ton is all people who buy this week must pay.

IS FOREIGN CAPITAL WANTED HERE?

The New York Press has sent out inquiries to men of note in all parts of the country to learn what they think of the extension of foreign investments in American business enterprises. The number of such enterprises owned outright by foreign syndicates has more than trebled, it is said, in the past ten years. Great farms, stock ranges, breweries, publishing houses and other leading lines of investment are now controlled by foreign capital which has entered the field so quietly and undemonstratively that until within the past year or two general attention has not been drawn to the extent of the control. Is this influx to be welcomed or is there a menace in it to American interests? That is the question which The Press asks.

In the replies there is some division of opinion but the great majority think that the more foreign capital we can draw in, the better. It is pointed out that the field for the employment of capital is so broad and as yet so imperfectly developed that there need be no fear that home capital will not find profitable employment in new lines if displaced from old ones. The influx lowers the interest rate and swells the amount available for productive use. Moreover, as a member of the firm of Marshall, Field & Co., says: "These English investments have already brought over some of the best of British subjects to America. Where the treasure is the heart is also. When they do come to live with us, the investments cease to be English and are positively American." To the common complaint of the drain of profits out of the country A. Shuman, head of one of the leading Boston houses, responds, "Well, but isn't the country just so much richer and isn't the market expanded because of the stimulating influence of this outside capital? What if the profits do go abroad, doesn't the capital remain here? It has to and we may well allow the exportation of $300,000 in the shape of profits on a working capital of $6,000,000. Doesn't that leave America ahead just $5,700,000 on this little financial transaction?"

So far from dreading an increase of the influx, Wharton Barker of Philadelphia thinks that there is more reason for apprehending a falling off. "The loss of fifty millions in gold last year," he says in The American, "points to an important conclusion regarding foreign investments in this country. It signifies that they did not increase. If new investments were made, old ones were closed out. It may be estimated that the immigrants brought us as much gold as our tourists to Europe took away from us—perhaps fifty millions for each class. Then we have to account for the annual payment of interest on the debts we owe Europe, and this very probably is fairly represented by our loss of gold. It looks, as we have said, as though the country had not received an increased investment line from foreign capitalists. They too have been at a stand in their judgment whether we were going to do well or not."

So in substance Americans of experience in affairs reason, and the collection of opinions is certainly worth making and interesting. The main objections raised to the use of foreign capital here are to the foreign control of great landed interests and to the stimulus given to the building up of trusts by putting great sums of money at the disposal of syndicates and rings. Mayor Hart of Boston thinks that it may be advisable to restrict outside investment sufficiently to prevent the acquirement of great estates here, but, as he says, "after all it is the foreigners themselves who need to feel most anxious as to the outcome of their speculations in Western mortgages. They will learn in time that they are dealing with a people quite as shrewd as themselves. From honest investment there is nothing to fear. When it comes to shrewd manipulation we can easily take care of ourselves." This seems to be the opinion of most, who hold, as Mr. Shuman puts it bluntly and pithily, "let our friends on the other side bring over all the money they want; then, when it begins to look as if they meant to gouge us, let us legislate a little, and show them the power of a popular government by pinching their toes in the trap they set themselves." To this conclusion then the inquiry comes. Foreign capital is wanted here and the nation has the will and the brain to see to it that whatever comes here shall be rightly used.

The corner stone of the new Masonic Temple was laid this morning with impressive ceremonies under charge of the Grand Lodge of the state, and the features of the occasion are fully reported in our news columns. This temple will be unmatched in the Northwest with one exception and will stand a noble monument of the Masonic order and a notable addition to the array of imposing and sightly buildings which now adorn the city and are increasing so fast. Duluth is rightly proud of her work this year.

The shipping of lumber Eastward is beginning in the usual large way that characterizes Duluth in all undertakings. It is now estimated that fully 15,000,000 feet will be sent East from this city by water during the year. That the Eastern buyer has so numerously and so successfully found his way to Duluth this year is a matter of congratulation. He cannot come too often. Duluth is anxious to increase her lumber trade with New York and the East generally.

TWO SEASONS.

[William H. Hayne, in Harper's Bazar.]

In your dear eyes, half blue, half gray,
Autumn is subtly blent with May.

One tint is full of spring-tide cheer,
And one brings grave November near;

Yet both—supremely pure and true—
Are seasons that my heart lives through.

Will Build a Warehouse.

The Minnesota Packing company has evidently come to stay. For four months it occupied Armour's storage house, but now has taken its quarters at No. 23 West Michigan street. In an interview with a Herald reporter one of the firm said: "We wish to inform the public that in the near future the Minnesota Packing company, of St. Paul, will erect a warehouse and cold storage of its own and make Duluth one of its permanent wholesale points. Until the building is erected the company has secured quarters at 23 West Michigan street and will there carry a full line of smoked and cured pure kettle rendered lard. The company receives here each week several cars of fresh beef, mutton, pork, loins, veal, and everything pertaining to the trade. Everything is fresh and wholesome, for the company's plant is one of the best in the country. We have come to stay, and as our prices are low as any, dealers will do well to come to us.

Be Merciful to Yourself.

And heed the appeals for assistance put forth by your liver, when the organ is out of order. Among these are distress in the right side and through the right shoulder blade, yellowness of the skin and eyeballs, furred tongue, sour breath, sick headache, and, above all, irregularity of the bowels. The mercy you extend to the afflicted organ is wisely shown by a prompt course of medication with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, most genial of alteratives, and the hepatic gland early reciprocates the deserved attention by resuming its secretive functions actively and regularly. Among the accompanying good results are renewed digestion, freedom from headaches, and a resumption of activity of the bowels. All bilious symptoms disappear, and appetite and sleep improve. Beneficent are the effects of the Bitters in malarial disease, kidney disorder, rheumatic ailments and nervousness.

Suit Against a Canal Company.

FERGUS FALLS, Aug. 28.—Suit is to be commenced against the Detroit and Pelican Lake Canal company for obstructing and interfering with the flow of the Pelican river. This is a stream connecting a long series of lakes of which Detroit lake is one. At Detroit there is a large summer hotel and to make it more of a resort the Northern Pacific Railroad company and the hotel dredged the river and put in a series of locks to regulate the flow. These operations have seriously affected the water powers on the river and the mills at Pelican Rapids and Elizabeth have suffered.

Alumni Reunion.

WINONA, Aug. 28.—The alumni reunion and quarter centennial of the state normal school opened today. Students are arriving on all trains, and the unusual importance of the centennial celebration insures the largest attendance ever yet had at the pleasant alumni gathering.

A. C. Kidder, postmaster at Farmhill, was instantly killed Monday by a kick in the chest from his horse, which he was driving attached to a sulky.

The house of Matilda Forkey, near Faribault, was fired early Tuesday morning during her absence. It is supposed thieves applied the torch to cover up their robbery.

There is a neighborhood war at Green Prairie, Morrison county, and matters have gone so far that those interested in the feud now try to burn down barns belonging to the other faction.

SCROFULA

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly humps or swellings in the neck; which causes running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. It is the most ancient of all diseases, and very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. If you suffer from scrofula, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, my little boy, three years old, being a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. We all took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and all have been cured of the scrofula. My little boy is entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. THINK OF THESE THINGS

BUY BEFORE ANOTHER ADVANCE!

IF A PERSON WANTS A HOME, LET HIM BUY ONE OR MORE LOTS IN CROSLEY PARK AND THEN BORROW MONEY OF A BUILDING ASSOCIATION TO BUILD A HOUSE AND HE IS FIXED.

BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS

Have enabled thousands of laboring men and people of ordinary means to become land owners and capitalists. What a blessing they have been to such people in all our Eastern cities! It is the correct theory for the following reasons, viz.:

First--It enables people to deposit small sums at stated times in their own bank (for a building association is really a savings bank in which all depositors are stockholders, and all share pro rata the profits).

Second--By being required to pay small sums regularly stockholders form habits of economy and thrift, which are indispensable to the acquisition of wealth.

Third--It begets in people an ambition to get homes and acquire wealth for themselves and their families.

We have adopted the Building Association plan In the sale of lots in

CROSLEY PARK.

CROSLEY PARK PAVILION.

It is far better to buy good Duluth real estate when you can get it by easy weekly payments than to take stock in a building association for the following reasons, viz.:

First--In a building association, if you fail to pay on the very day the fine imposed goes a good ways toward cutting down your profits.

This is not the case if you buy lots in

CROSLEY PARK,

For if you are sick or out of town, or unable to pay for a period of four weeks after the payment is due, no advantage can be taken of you.

Second--Building associations, however well they may be managed, are liable to sustain losses, and in that event all the stockholders bear their share. In buying lots in Crosley Park there is no element of loss to be considered.

Third--A stockholder in a building association does not control his own interest, but is a sort of partner with all other stockholders and subject to the management of other men. If you buy lots in Crosley Park you control your own property absolutely and can sell and assign your contract at any time.

Fourth--The advance in values of Crosley Park lots will be far greater than the profits in a building association.

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

The Veterans are Attending Strictly to Business-Matters Today.

Womens Relief Corps and the Organizer of the Organization.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 28.—[Special.]—The West Side Turner hall was filled to overflowing at 10 o'clock this morning, when the first business session of the Grand Army encampment was called to order by Commander-in-Chief Warner. In accordance with the strict rules of the organization the proceedings were conducted with closed doors. The ground floor was reserved for the various state delegations, while the upper portions of the building were allotted to veterans who were able to prove their identity with the organization.

Including the national and past national officers and the council of administration, about 700 delegates were in attendance. New York led the roll-call with 46, Pennsylvania was next with 45, and Ohio third with 40. Three delegates each from Louisiana and Mississippi responded to their names, and Alabama was likewise represented by a trio of battle-scarred veterans.

After the usual opening exercises the commander-in-chief began his opening address, congratulating the members of the order upon its constant growth and the renewed interest manifested in its success.

A large number of important matters will come before the encampment for its consideration. It will reiterate its support of the dependent pension bill, and congress will be asked to amend the pension laws in three important particulars. These are, first, that pensions be granted to all disabled survivors of rebel prisons, for the reason that from the nature of things they are unable to furnish the medical evidence of hospital treatment, if they had any while imprisoned; second, that the limitations placed upon the arrears of pensions act, that claims be not considered unless filed prior to 1880, be removed so that all veterans equitably entitled to arrears be permitted to secure their money; and third, that all widows of veterans be given a reasonable pension, regardless of the fact that the husband's disability may be of a different character than that which caused death. All these propositions, it is believed, will be adopted, and a committee appointed to urge them upon congress. Resolutions will be submitted providing that the rates of fare to be charged those attending national encampments be determined and accepted before the location of the encampment is finally made.

A warm time is expected over a resolution submitted by the department of Massachusetts, depriving all post department commanders of the right to vote in the national encampment. This would disfranchise a large portion of its membership. The same department wants the closing features of the ritual of 1883 restored to the ritual for the coming year. A large number of propositions from other posts are also on the calendar.

The Womans Relief Corps.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 28.—Next in importance to the national encampment is the annual convention of the Womans Relief Corps. The proceedings of the body were formally opened last evening with an open meeting in the High school building. Mayor Brown delivered the address of welcome and there were speeches by Governor Hoard, Gen. Lucius Fairchild, Commander-in-Chief Warner and National President Mrs.

CHARITY RUSK CRAIG.

Charity Rusk Craig. This morning the business sessions were opened at Immanuel church. Over 300 delegates, representing the departments of twenty-eight states were in attendance. Mrs. John A. Logan and Miss Clara Barton were accorded seats of honor on the platform. Mrs. Craig presided with Miss Jennings as secretary. After the opening exercises to which visitors were admitted, the doors were closed and the delegates went into executive session.

The Chief Organizer.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 28.—The chief organizer of the G. A. R. was Dr. B. F. Stephenson, who had been surgeon of the Fourteenth Illinois, serving in the armies of the West. After the war closed Dr. Stephenson talked with some of the men who had shared in his army experience about an order which, like the Masons and Oddfellows, should be social and beneficial, and should be composed wholly of veterans of the civil war. As a result of these talks and some correspondence with comrades at a distance, Dr. Stephenson announced the creation of the department of Illinois, with himself as commander. On April 6, 1866, he issued a charter to Decatur post, No. 1, department of Illinois, and the Grand Army of the Republic became a fixed fact.

Shot and Shell.

Nashville, Tenn., wants the encampment in 1890.

Indianapolis is looking for the encampment next year.

The Sons have their annual at Paterson, N. J., in September.

George W. Peck, of Pecks Sun, is chairman of the press committee.

Col. C. K. Pier, secretary of the general committee, was an Army of the Potomac man.

Wisconsin had four "war governors"—Alexander W. Randall, Louis P. Harvey, Edward Salomon and James T. Lewis.

Washington wishes the encampment in 1890. The hundreds of thousands of comrades who rally to the encampments will certainly wish to see Washington again.

SPORTING NOTES.

The Chicago ball team leads the league in home run getting.

John L. Sullivan is spending the season at Crescent Beach, Mass.

The various lodges of Elks in Ohio will play a series of ball games for the championship of the state.

Tom Eck and a band of female bicyclists, backed by George Bell, a St. Paul man, will tour Europe.

An effort will be made to arrange a four-round boxing match between Jake Kilrain and Peter Jackson.

George Kerr, the tennis champion of Ireland, is in America to arrange a series of matches with Pettit, the American champion.

Baseball has made such an advance in England that nines from the cities of Richmond and Seyton are playing a series of games.

The racing yachts Puritan and Titania are to have a race. Lord Dunraven wants to race the Valkyrie for the America's cup in 1890.

There is a scheme on foot to get the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and Indianapolis ball clubs into a prize series after the season closes.

A new rowing association, to embrace all the Eastern clubs, will be formed. It will be modeled after the Mississippi Amateur Rowing association.

The Brooklyns may win the American association championship games, because the most of their ball games the last of the season are played at home.

The Omaha team, the probable winner of the Western association baseball pennant, is the temperance club of the association. There's not a drinker in it.

Baseball games played yesterday by the National league:

At Pittsburg—Pittsburg, 1; Indianapolis, 5. Second game—Pittsburg, 8; Indianapolis, 3.
At New York—New York, 3; Washington, 13.
At Philadelphia—Philadelphia, 6; Boston, 13.
At Cleveland—Cleveland, 11; Chicago, 12.

At Denver—Denver, 2; Sioux City, 16.

By American association:

At Columbus—Columbus, 5; Athletic, 10.
At Cincinnati—Cincinnati, 10; Louisville, 4.
At Baltimore—Baltimore, 8; Brooklyn, 7.

A Chicago Verdict.

H. E. Rounds in The Inland Printer, describing the visit of the Wisconsin editors: Duluth, the wonderful city of 50,000 active, wide-awake people, built up under many discouraging circumstances, was reached in a short time, an hour or more later than had been expected. To fully realize Duluth as she is, one wants to re-read Proctor Knott's celebrated speech delivered in congress only eighteen years ago—a speech which made both the witty and eloquent Kentuckian and Duluth famous—and reflect that, not only has the city been built within that time, but that for several years stagnation amounting to a decline seized her; then a reaction took place, and the resident people and newcomers tumbled over each other in their haste to build and push things. A banquet up in the elegant seventh-story diningroom of The Spalding was the feature, which was (please supply adjectives ad. lib.) "bang up" as regards menu, style and everything. It is a striking and peculiarly American city and has a great future ahead without doubt.

Dismissed the Third Time.

The hearing in a jury case against Robert Osborne was set for 5 p. m. yesterday before Judge Carey. At 5 o'clock the judge, the defendant and his witnesses were on hand, but no prosecution. After waiting until 6, Judge Carey ordered a dismissal. At 7:20 United States District Attorney Baxter arrived from St. Paul and was surprised, as he understood the hour to have been fixed at 8 o'clock. This is the third time the case has been dismissed.

The Money Will Be Provided.

President Hoyt and General Manager Hubbard, of the Red Wing road, are still in town. A paper has been prepared for subscriptions to the stock of the construction company, but it will not be circulated today. The matter has been talked over in an informal way with the Duluth capitalists and enough money has been promised to make up the required $50,000.

Minnesota Car Company.

The stockholders of the Minnesota Car company met in annual session today, but on account of the absence of Messrs. Anderson and Ettenger no meeting was held. It was adjourned until such time as they could be present, probably a few days hence.

Bad Bread vs. Bad Whisky.

In the race for the championship in crime producing, bad bread is a good second, if it does not hold its own with bad whisky. A Woman's Discovery.

Another wonderful discovery has been made in these closing years of the nineteenth century, by one of the best-known ladies of Minneapolis. She has discovered a railroad that is perfection. But let her tell it in her own words: "I cannot close this rambling letter without alluding to the charming ride we had on the Burlington road from Minneapolis to Chicago. If there is any road in the United States or elsewhere which has more luxurious or more perfectly comfortable sleepers, more beautiful, well-appointed dining cars, more appetizing, satisfying meals, or better attendance in all its departments, than this road, I have never seen it, and I do not believe it exists. The arrangements of the cars were all so perfect, and everything was so quiet, that I, for one, was sorry to leave them, and determined then and there to recommend the Burlington to any friends who in their journeyings might avail themselves of this route." For tickets, rates, and any information, apply to your local agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

A Strikingly Beautiful Baby.

One of our leading ladies, in calling the other day upon a neighbor, who glories in a remarkably beautiful baby, said, "Excuse my comparison, but your baby reminds me of the wonderful success I have had in making bread and cake lately with the Unrivaled Baking Powder; the loveliness of your baby suggests the success I have had with that powder." REAL ESTATE.

West Duluth Still Climbing Upward—The East End—Notes.

The upward course of values of West Duluth realty has been the wonderment and the despair of the real-estate pessimists ever since the first move in response to the news of the establishment of the works of the Minnesota Car company. Notwithstanding the fact that the appreciation has been steady and sure, and that prices have not yet reached a point where the most careful and conservative would not be warranted in buying for investment, there are still many who profess to look upon the growth of West Duluth as a real-estate "scheme," and predict that there will be a "slump." Per contra, the converts to the theory that West Duluth has a great future are being constantly added to. When it is considered that prices for choice lots have not yet reached a figure so high but improvements pay 12 per cent net. It is evident, therefore, that as the growth of the town warrants higher rentals, as it will, value will appreciate correspondingly. One of the biggest real-estate men summarized the whole situation last night in the remark: "West Duluth is certainly going to be a great city." Perhaps there are but few, even among enthusiastic West Duluthians who fully realize this. Yet it is as evident as anything not already accomplished can be that preconceived estimates of the future of this town must be revised upon that basis. Not only is there to be a large and lively manufacturing town, but a great city. Does it take courage to believe it? Just remember that on the 28th of August, 1889, The Herald told you the news.

The Spalding lobby was again crowded with real estate men last night, and nothing could be heard but talk of "dirt." The most conservative estimate of yesterday's sales in West Duluth puts the total consideration at over $100,000 for platted property alone, while deals in acreage, one of which alone amounts to $60,000, have been consummated. At noon today not a Grand avenue lot could be had for less than $2500, and by the close of the week it will take $3000.

S. L. Merchant, with the permission of Mr. Harrison, has cut a roadway from the junction of Twenty-fourth avenue west and Tenth street, westerly through Brookdale division, and built a bridge over Millers creek, so that visitors can drive into the property. He is now clearing his upper forty acres of 32-50-14 in order that the Boulevard roadway may meet with no obstructions.

East End property is attracting the attention of investors and those who wish to build. There are many indications that it will rise in value soon, and shrewd observers are quietly picking up whatever offers at present prices. If anybody intends securing good East End property at present prices it will be well to emulate the wise virgins who arrived in time to attend the wedding.

A Gentle Sport.

No gentleman admires a pugilist, and it is not stretching the truth very far to say that no gentleman will attend a prize fight. There are gentler sports more in keeping with refined instincts. One of them is fishing. What more enjoyable can be found than an hour with rod and reel when the fish rise well? If you want something of that kind go to White Bear Lake, Lake Chisago, and the trout streams thereabout. They are on the St. Paul and Duluth railroad—the Duluth Short line between St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and West Superior. For information address A. B. The three wise men of Gotham
Would not have been so wise,
Had they not sought
for knowledge,
And used their ears
and eyes
In getting information
Of every sort and kind,
Instead of going through the world
Like men both deaf and blind.

And you can be as wise as they,
If you but choose to buy
The Soap that's called the SANTA CLAUS—
Its good effects to try.
Because 'twill help you through your work
At such a rapid rate,
That you'll have time to master all you care to undertake.

All Grocers sell SANTA CLAUS SOAP.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat Prices Good and Trading Large—The Receipts.

Wheat opened easier below last night's close, ruled very dull to noon, when it became strong and active, with sharp buying. Receipts are increasing every day, and the quality of the wheat arriving is very fine. Some disappointment is expressed in regard to a good deal of it failing to grade No. 1 hard, as expected by shippers, this is mainly caused by reason of quite a perceptible quantity of soft wheat mixed through the hard Scotch Fife wheat, which under Minnesota standards, drops it to the grade of 1 northern. It is most excellent milling wheat, and ought to sell close up to the price of 1 hard, as stated yesterday.

The following were the ruling and closing prices. Cash 1 hard, old, nothing doing. New, sales early at 81¾, later at 82. No. 1 northern, sales at 77. No. 2 northern, scarce at 73. September opened weak at 80¾, ruled firm, closed easy at 81½. October opened late at 81¾, ruled dull and closed at 81½. December, first trading was at 81½, ruled firm at 82¼, near the close eased off to 82. May, dull, was held at 88, closed 87. Year wheat, 81.

The Receipts.

Today's receipts of wheat are 67 cars, nearly all of which comes off the Northern Pacific road, Manitoba road wheat not yet having begun to arrive in any quantity. There were also 14 cars corn. Receipts into elevators, reported today, were 34,258 bu wheat and 18,568 bu corn. Shipments were 1248 bu wheat and 25,000 bu corn.

Chicago Close.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—1:15 p. m. close.—Wheat lower: cash, 78; September, 77½; December, 78 11-16. Corn, lower; cash, 33½; September 33½; October, 33¼.

Minneapolis Close.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 28.—Closing quotations: No. 1 hard, August, 78¾; on track, 80; No. 1 northern, August, 75¾; September, 75; December, 75½; on track, 76@78; No. 2 northern, August, 72; on track, 73@76.

SHIPPING LUMBER.

Several Million Feet Now Going East and Lots to Go.

This morning the shipment of 3,000,000 feet of lumber from the C. N. Nelson Co., of Cloquet, began. It is the first installment of a great deal of lumber to be shipped this year to Tonawanda, N. Y., lumber firms by the C. N. Nelson and other companies in Duluth and vicinity. This company alone expects to send there 9,000,000 feet and various items of other sales to Tonawanda and Troy wholesalers have already been published in The Herald. Large shipments East will also be made by Williston, Charnley & Co., of Mesabi. It is probable that fully 15,000,000 feet of lumber will be shipped from Duluth to the East by water this year, a much greater amount than in any preceding season. Last year only 5,000,000 were sent East by water.

The big lumber barge Wabnipitae is expected here in about a week. She will carry down a load of 2,000,000 feet of the Nelson lumber. But for low water the big barge would take more, in fact she has carried out of Duluth the largest lumber cargo ever carried on the lakes—2,500,000 feet, and would equal it now were there sufficient depth of water in the St. Clair.

Lumber dealers of the Duluth district are catering more and more to the Eastern trade, and it will become a larger feature in our trade henceforward. It is to the East, as The Herald has frequently remarked, that Duluth must look for its best and larger market in lumber. A little endeavor, a little cutting of stock to suit Eastern demands, and the business is done. The Eastern dealers want our lumber, and there isn't the slightest doubt in the world that Duluth wants to sell them.

Michigan's Popular Ex-Governor Elected by Acclamation Yesterday.

Facts and Figures About Last Year's Work of the Grand Army.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 29.—The sessions of the National Grand Army encampment were promptly resumed at 10 o'clock this morning. Interest in the proceedings centers largely upon the choice of a location for the next encampment and the great naval engagement which takes place tonight will be the event of the week. All the arrangements have been completed, and barring accidents it will be a gigantic success. Tomorrow the exodus of visitors will commence in earnest.

The Naval Display.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 29.—The great naval battle that takes place this evening will in reality be an encounter between the naval and land forces, the former including besides the government steamer Michigan and the revenue cutters a large volunteer force of steam barges, sail craft and tugs. Some will anchor in the bay and others cruise back and forth, all of them keeping up a continuous volley of firing. Land forces will include the militia with mortar pieces stationed at short distances along the shore shooting shells and maroons. Lasting one hour 200 shots per minute will be fired. Three thousand shells will be used for the mortars, 5000 pounds of ammunition for the artillery and infantry, besides the ammunition furnished for the government guns. The signal of victory for the land forces will be the blowing up of an old hulk and a brilliant pyrotechnic display will follow. Twenty thousand people will view the battle from Juneau park while the lake front on either side of the park will be solid with spectators.

The Sons of Veterans.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 29.—Sons of Veterans, the order growing out of the Grand Army, now number from 50,000 to 60,000 members, with the following divisions, or departments: California, Colorado, Connecticut, Dakota, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, West Virginia and Wisconsin. The members of this body are not boys, but men. Membership is restricted to those over 18. There are now about 2500 local societies. In 1880, a division of Sons of Veterans was formed. A split soon occurred and until last April there were two bodies Commander Marks at the head of one, Gen. Abbot of the other. The differences were not great but it was impossible to bring them together. Finally Messrs. Abbot and Marks effected consolidation. The order is represented here in numbers and is growing in strength daily. It is recognized at this encampment as never before, mainly because of this fusion.

Gen. Warner's Report.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 29.—The report submitted to the delegates, by Commander-in-Chief Warner, at the twenty-third National encampment was devoted to an eloquent eulogy of the Grand Army and its purposes. The present membership of the order, he said, aggregated 410,686, divided among 6711 posts, and forty-two departments. The greatest gain was in Missouri, 3,652. The death roll had been heavy, 4696 veterans having passed away during the year. Since 1871 the order had expended $2,000,000 in charity, of which $250,000 had been distributed within a year. Action tending to draw the order closer to the Sons of Veterans as well as to the order of Military Telegraphers was urged, and the pension question was dealt with at length. Gen. Harrison gave cordial assurances of his warm interest in the question of pensions and expressed an earnest desire that generous pensions to the defenders of the Union should be granted. The report went on to give in detail the work that had been accomplished by the Grand Army pension committees in eight years. The clerical force in the pension office had been increased from 752 to 1589, in the adjutant general's office to 167. There were 166 additions to the list of surgeons and fifty-two in other departments. These additions had necessitated an extra expenditure of $2,000,000 yearly. The report concludes by recommending that the work be pushed with vigor for the year to come.

Commander Alger.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 29.—At last night's session of the encampment, Gen. Russell A. Alger of Michigan, was elected commander-in-chief for the ensuing year. Judge Veazey of Vermont and Gen. Consigny of Iowa, were placed in nomination, but both withdrew and Alger's election was made by acclamation. A. G. Weissert of Wisconsin, was elected senior vice commander without opposition and John F. Lovett of New Jersey was chosen junior vice commander by vote of 182 to 127 for H. E. Tanner of Connecticut.

G. A. R. Notes.

Veterans are beginning to leave for their homes today.

The report of the commander-in-chief was received warmly.

The flag of Norway floated at half mast on the Norden flag-staff on Monday, in memory of Mr. Forssell, deceased, but the failure to place the red, white and blue above caused Americans to ask the reason why, and the patriots were pacified by taking down the yellow cross on blue. There was no blood shed.

Miss Agnes Bury has returned from her short visit to her home in Hudson, Wis., and will be on hand for school work on Monday.

Mrs. G. A. Schulz is in Duluth visiting with the Wieland family.

Mrs. Julia A. Wood, poetess and writer, mother of Judge A. De Lacy Wood, is in the city visiting with her son and his family.

TWO HARBORS, Aug. 29.—[Special.]—A. R. Forssell, assistant foreman of the ore trimmers, stumbled over a pile of ore at 11:30 p. m. Sunday night, into the slip between the ore docks, and was drowned. Mr. Forssell was about 32 years old. His parents reside in Sweden.

George Jacobs had his left leg broken on Monday while attempting to place a belt on the shafting, the pulley being in a difficult place to operate on, and defective in working.

250 Want the Place.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The retirement of Post Chaplain George W. Collier went into effect today, and the President has no less than 250 applications from ministers of various denominations who are willing to fill the vacancy. On Saturday there will be a vacancy in the quartermaster's department occasioned by the retirement of Maj. C. H. Hoyt, and there is a lively scramble for his shoes by two-thirds of the first lieutenants of the line and not a few civilians.

The Second Day.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The second day's session of the convention of the American Bar association, was opened this morning with an address by Professor Simeon E. Baldwin, of Yale university upon "The Centenary of Modern Government." A discussion followed and a number of committee reports upon "Interstate Debts, Credits and Collections," "A National Bankrupt System" and "Uniformity of Commercial Paper" were then presented. The convention closes tonight.

Boiler Inspectors.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The annual convention of the National Steam Boiler inspectors of the United States and Canada will commence at the Tremont house on Saturday next. The date originally set for the convention was Sept. 11, but this was changed in consequence of the number of delegates that are in attendance on the Grand Army encampment and did not desire to make a second trip to the West.

South Dakota Republicans.

HURON, S. D., Aug. 29.—A republican state league has been organized by electing Col. Foster, of Frankfort, president; C. F. Hackett, of Parker, secretary; Frank J. For his gallant service, Commander Morris was given a vote of thanks by congress and a sword.

A Great Trip.

This morning the steamer Dixon took out a party of Duluth young men who are to make such a trip as has seldom been taken by white men. They go from here to Grand Portage on the international boundary, where they provide themselves with guides and canoes and travel up Pigeon river and the lakes and rivers along the boundary for a distance, when they branch southward and bring up at Ely after a canoe trip of considerably over a hundred miles through a wild and uninhabited country rich in natural scenery, big game and fish. Those who go are R. M. and James C. Hunter, Henry A. Smith and George Mackenzie, late teller of the Merchants National bank. They will be absent nearly a month.

TRAFFIC CONVENTION.

What Was Done at Sault Ste. Marie Yesterday.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—The traffic convention has finished its labors and the delegates are now looking at the government improvements at Haylake, the excursion there being given by the local chamber of commerce.

The work of the convention was short but sharp. About fifty delegates from the West with a few from the East were present. Resolutions were passed setting forth the effort being made to prevent Canadian lines competing with American roads, and the harm to the Northwest if Canadian roads were to be shut out of the race for business, pledging the efforts of the convention and its constituents to oppose such discrimination against Canadian lines, and asking representatives of the Northwest in congress to fight any revision of the interstate commerce law.

Speeches were made by H. W. Seymour, of Sault Ste. Marie; A. C. Raymond, of Detroit; S. D. Love and Dr. Day, of Minneapolis; and others, in which Judge Cooley, Amos J. Cummings, Chas. A. Dana, and New York railroad men, were handled without gloves.

If the convention voiced the feelings of the Northwest, as it probably did, the effort to prejudice the public against competition for western trade by Canadian lines will be met with a sturdy fight for justice to foreign lines by the business men of the entire Northwest, aided by manufacturers and shippers of many Eastern cities.

TANNER'S PENSION WORK.

The Deputy Commissioner of Pensions Himself Draws a Fat Wad.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Some figures have just come to light in the matter of increased and rerated pensions. It appears that during the month of August Commissioner Tanner has paid out $75,000 in seventeen rerated cases. Richard Whiting, of St. Louis, draws the largest amount, $12,251.59. Hiram Smith, deputy commissioner of pensions, has himself been rerated and gets $6035.72. Cardenio Bruce, of Kansas, gets $6341.72; John S. Fay receives $6341.85; Henry Funkin receives $5231.05.

Commissioner Tanner bases these awards on a recent decision of Assistant Secretary Chandler in the case of Henry Schmidt, in which the secretary ruled that a man might be pensioned for double disability.

All Together But Woodruff.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Judge McConnell this morning decided that all defendants in the Cronin trial must be tried together with the exception of Frank Woodruff. He said that in view of Woodruff's confessions it would be manifestly unfair to allow him to go on trial with the others. All defendants then took exception to the ruling of the court refusing them separate trials and the judge granted twenty days in which to file bills of exceptions. The attorneys for various defendants then expressed themselves as ready to proceed with the trial.

The Cherokee Strip.

WICHITA, Kans., Aug. 29.—Ex-Speaker John G. Carlisle is in this city, having arrived from his trip to Mexico a couple of days ago. Being asked to express himself on the subject of the Cherokee strip Mr. Carlisle said: "I think there is no question that it will be opened to settlement, but just when I am not able to say, although I think congress will settle it this winter.

English Races.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—At York August meeting today the Great Yorkshire stakes was won by Mr. C. Perkin's colt Chitaboh. Mr. W. L. Anson's colt Lockhart won the Gimcrack stakes.

Mead, president Pennsylvania Coal company, and Walter Farguson, of the South Shore road, arrived here this noon via the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railway from Marquette. The party took dinner at The Spalding, after which they drove about the city viewing the improvements of the past year and those now in progress.

FIELD CASE DISMISSED.

Justice Field's Case is Now Out of Court---The Pope is Ill.

More of Behring Sealers---General Telegraph News of a Day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—The United States circuit court has been officially informed that the charge of murder against Justice Stephen J. Field has been dismissed by the Stockton court. Judge Sawyer accordingly dismissed the habeas corpus proceedings in the case of Justice Field and said:

"We are glad that the prosecution of Mr. Justice Field has been dismissed, founded as it was upon the sole, reckless, and, as to him, manifestly false affidavit of one whose relation to the matters leading to the tragedy and whose animosity toward the courts and judges who have found it their duty to decide against her, and especially toward Mr. Justice Field, is part of the judicial and notorious public history of the country. It was, so far as Mr. Justice Field is concerned, a shameless proceeding and, as intimidated by the governor of the commonwealth, would have been a lasting disgrace to the state. While a justice of the supreme court of the United States, like every other citizen, is amenable to the laws, he is not likely to commit so grave an offense as murder, and should he be so unfortunate as to be unavoidably involved in any way in a homicide, he could not afford to escape if it were in his power to do so, and when the act is so publicly performed by another, as in this instance, and is observed by so many witnesses, officers of the law should certainly have taken some little pains to ascertain the facts before proceeding to arrest so distinguished a dignitary and attempt to incarcerate him in prison with felons, or to put him in a position to be further degraded and perhaps assaulted by one so violent as to be publicly reported, not only then but on numerous previous occasions, to have threatened his life."

THE POPE'S HEALTH.

His Holiness Suffering from General Debility—The Succession.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Private letters from Rome, coming from strongly Catholic believers, state that the pope's health is wretched. He can only walk aided by several assistants. His voice at times leaves him entirely, and the worst feature is that it is all general debility, as his holiness has really no disease. His incessant hard work is rapidly telling upon him, and his 80 years cannot stand the constant strain.

Cardinal Rampollo and Mgr. Perrochi are the favored possible successors. Italy is doing her best to bring forward Mgr. San Felice, whose noble work when Naples was plague-stricken will not soon be forgotten. He is naturally the court favorite and is warmly supported by Cardinal Hohenlohe. Cardinal Lavigerie has no chance, on account of the brusqueness of his manner.

The Black Diamond off Again.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 29.—The Black Diamond left here yesterday, ostensibly on a trip up the coast to refit, but it is said that she is really off on a sealing cruise into Behring Sea, where her owners believe they have a legal right to hunt seals. The action shows what the popular feeling is here in regard to the United States jurisdiction of Behring Sea and her power to enforce it.

Another British Sealer Seized.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—A letter was received from an officer of the United States steamer Richard Rush by steamer St. Paul, which arrived from Alaska Tuesday night, stating that on August 6 Rush captured the British sealing schooner Lily of Vancouver, while taking seals in Behring Sea. The schooner was searched and 300 skins were found, which were placed on board the Rush. A prize crew of one man was placed on board and the Lily sent to Sitka. The seized sealers will have their cases tried in the Alaskan district court.

Letter-Carriers to Organize.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 29.—A large number of letter-carriers from different sections of the country are in conference here today with the view of perfecting the organization of a National Letter-Carriers association, to embrace all the states and territories. Among the other subjects to be discussed are the organization of a United States Letter-Carriers Mutual Insurance association, and the petitioning of congress in favor of an increase of carriers' salaries, the pensioning of carriers after a continued service for a number of years, and the providing of substitute carriers with a fixed salary during their period of probation. The support already promised the movement is said to be very encouraging.

A Wisconsin Central Feeder.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 29.—Articles of incorporation were filed at Madison yesterday by the Milwaukee, Bay View and Chicago Railway company, with $100,000 capital stock. The plan is to build a road from Milwaukee to Chicago. It is understood that the line is projected in the interests of the Wisconsin Central.

The California Wine Product.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—The Merchant and Viticulturist estimates that the wine product of California will not exceed 12,000,000 gallons this year. This is a reduction of 8,000,000 gallons from early estimates. The reduction is due partly to damage by sunburn and mildew. The same paper estimates that the state will produce 1,000,000 gallons of brandy this year.

Helena Saved.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 29.—The fires which have prevailed near Helena have subsided, and there is now no danger to the city. There were timber fires near Anaconda Tuesday traveling so rapidly that game in the mountains came down to the valleys for protection, and two bears actually came to the town site.

Murdered and Robbed.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The murdered and robbed body of John E. Wise, of West Ohio street, was found near his home yesterday.

Sioux Falls Visitors.

The date of arrival of the crowd from Sioux Falls, Pipestone and St. Cloud is the morning of Sept. 3d, next Tuesday. They will be here, as stated, two days. All arrangements for reception and entertainment are made, and include the use of the Barker for excursions, carriages to ride about the city, and a banquet. Several committees will see that all details are carried out.

Mellette first and the rest nowhere was the caucus verdict of South Dakota republicans. It only remains for the convention to put its seal on the verdict to ratify the gift of the governship, for it is a republican gift this year, as nobody can deny.

Any man might covet the honor just bestowed by acclamation on Gen. Alger. To be commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic a man must have proved himself worthy and to be judged worthy by such judges is an unfading laurel crown far more splendid than the inheritance of kings. Such rank is the stamp that certifies true gold and rank not so won carries no such certificate.

The encampments of the Grand Army of the Republic year by year revive sad and stirring memories, and while ranks dwindle and steps falter, the impressiveness of the successive reunions grows deeper rather than fainter. Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war, and the grandeur of this army of the people was never more signally shown forth than on the day which Corporal Tanner proudly recalls, when like the subsiding waves of the ocean, "this great belted band of blue broke on the shores of peace and sank away into the quiet ranks of citizenship, and the world knew it no more." Of all armies this surely is first in peace, first in war and first in the hearts of its countrymen.

The list of the seventy-two men "whose combined wealth equals the national debt" has been copied and commented on abroad almost as much as in this country. In the breast of the editor of The Saturday Review it has excited the gravest fear for the future of this country, which a leading Wall street operator is trying to reduce by cutting down the total more than one-third. His figures, aggregating only $6693,000,000, are vouched for by The New York World as the best estimate yet filed and will stand till some of the mortal seventy-two die, fail or expand.

What the final outcome of the Behring sea muddle will be it is vain to predict, but a present result is evident in the precipitation of the movement toward Canadian independence. The advanced liberals accuse Great Britain of subverting Canadian interests to the imperial policy of dilly-dallying when action is demanded, and The Montreal Herald, their recognized organ, comes out flatly in advocacy of the independence of Canada in preference to her remaining any longer the catspaw of imperial politicians. This is, it is true, a bid for party success rather than a grave move toward separation from the mother country, but it is a sign of the times, nevertheless, not to be disposed of with a sneer, and when the ball is set rolling in this audaciously careless way, nobody can say where it will stop.

The fallen fortunes of the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe road have made it expedient to revive public confidence, if possible, by a change of heads by which a change of policy may be inferred. This change may be of form rather than of substance, but if it answers its purpose, in regaining lost confidence, the road will profit by it. The expedient was worth trying at any rate, and it remains to be seen how far it will meet the expectation that prompted it. President Strong is a railroad manager of deservedly high reputation before he became president of the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe. The policy of the road was shaped before he took charge of it, and its misfortunes in bulk cannot justly be laid to his charge. But a scapegoat is called for, and he stands first in line by reason of his official position. Mr. Manvel, the general manager of the St. Paul and Manitoba road, who succeeds him, is an excellent choice, and has a better chance of success in bringing the road back to its former standing than his predecessor could possibly have. But he has a hard row to hoe, and will richly deserve success if he succeeds where Mr. Strong has failed.

Probably a great majority of people who have considered the matter at all have looked upon the projected Duluth and Winnipeg railroad as opening to Duluth the great wheat region of Manitoba, British Columbia and the Saskatchewan valley, opening an avenue to market for the lumber of the northern portion of Minnesota, and providing transportation for coal from the head of navigation to the Northwest. These are reasons enough to justify the building of the road, but they are not all, and the event may prove that they are not even the most important. From an article elsewhere in today's Herald it will be seen that the prospect is excellent for the opening of an iron ore region of great extent and value. This view of the matter makes this new line of tremendous importance to Duluth, and substantially guarantees for us the future control of iron-mining and iron-working interests in the West. What this signifies no one can predict with any degree of accuracy—only that it is one more piece of evidence that Duluth is the American city of destiny. The feature about this development of iron mines near the line of the Duluth and Winnipeg which is the most encouraging and important is that the iron properties are not speculative. They are to be developed by their present owners, we understand, and are not simply prospected to be sold to capitalists. The owners have satisfied themselves as to the quantity of ore and its quality, and are ready to contract for means to market it. When the matter is considered it is seen that there is extremely little of the purely speculative spirit in the development of this city and the country tributary to it. Everything that is done is for legitimate development of some of the great resources which nature has provided.

SEPTEMBER MAGAZINES.

"The Dominion of Canada is a device to keep the peace between those whom nature has allotted an irrepressible conflict." So says the writer of an article called "La Nouvelle France" in the September Atlantic, which will be the subject of discussion in the United States, and of something more than discussion in Canada. "The Isthmus Canal and American Control," by Stuart F. Weld, is a consideration of the policy promulgated by the United States government in its desire to control the Inter-Oceanic canal; the magazine runs toward political questions, since Mr. Frank Gaylord Cook has an article on "James Wilson." Still another sketch, of the "Americans at the First Bastille Celebration" (by J. G. Alger), completes the more important articles.

Harper's Magazine for September is an extremely interesting number. Theodore Child contributes a timely article on "The American Artists at the Paris Exposition," which is illustrated by nineteen engravings from prominent pictures. Mr. Child is the writer of another interesting article, entitled "Holy Moscow," with excellent illustrations by De Thulstrup. James Lane Allen's "Kentucky Fairs" is as interesting as his previous papers on Kentucky and the Kentuckians. Following Dean Lichtenberger's article on "The Religious Movement in Germany," in the August number of this magazine, M. Edmond de Pressense throws light upon "The Religious Movement in France." John Lillie contributes an entertaining sketch of "London Mock Parliaments."

The complete novel in Lippincott's Magazine is contributed by Edgar Fawcett, and is one of the most grotesque and gruesome romances of the period. This number of the magazine contains the fourth and final installment of George W. Child's "Recollections," in which the reader is introduced to some of the rarest and most interesting manuscripts and letters in Mr. Child's large collection of autographs. Mr. Charles C. Binney explains and advocates the "Australian Ballot System."

Professor Joseph Lovering is the subject of the biographical paper in the Popular Science Monthly for September, and a portrait of him furnishes the frontispiece. Mr. Huntington Smith seeks to serve the cause of free trade by presenting what he calls the "Ethical View of Protection;" and Mr. Wells discusses "Recent Economic Changes." Miss Olive Thorne Miller contributes a pleasant paper, "A Study from Life," in which she gives an account of the habits of a black-headed lemur. Professor Huxley's paper on "The Value of Witness to the Miraculous" is reprinted from the Nineteenth Century; and there are papers on the "Surface Tension of Liquids," the "Wastes of Modern Civilization," "Modern Aspects of Geology," the "Rights of Property" and other subjects which fall within the scope of this very valuable magazine.

The leading article in the September Forum is an appeal to the American people by Thomas Hughes, author of "Tom Brown at Rugby." Mr. Hughes asks that American sympathy be given to the cause of England as against Ireland, in the same way that English sympathy, under the leadership of himself along with John Bright and other Englishmen, was given to the Union cause in America as against the Confederacy. Other political articles are, "The Spoils of Office," by Goldwin Smith, and a defense of Henry George against his critics, by Thomas G. Shearman. There are two articles on social science topics —"A Remedy for Social Ills," by Washington Gladden, and "The Outlook for Industrial Peace," by Prof. A. T. Hadley, of Yale university. Charles F. Beach, Jr., of the New York bar, makes a defense of trusts. The Rev. Dr. J. R. Kendrick writes of the conflict between Catholicism and our public schools. Mrs. Helen E. Starrett, principal of the Kenwood institute, at Chicago, is as bold a reformer in the field of domestic economy as any political economist is in the field of political economy.

TODAY'S ANNIVERSARIES.

1350, Edward III defeated the Spanish fleet of forty ships and captured twenty-six.

1782, The Royal George, a man-of-war of 108 guns, was lost off Spithead. While keeled over to repair a pipe a sudden gust washed the sea into her ports and she went down with all on board, about 600 people.

1855, A railroad collision took place at Burlington, N. J., through which twenty-one persons were killed and many injured.

1880, The steamer City of Vera Cruz foundered off the coast of Florida, sixty-eight lives being lost.

HORACE I, 18.

[Eugene Field, in Chicago News.]

O Varus mine,
Plant thou the vine
Within this kindly soil of Tibur;
Nor temporal woes
Nor spiritual knows
The man who's a discreet imbiber.
For who doth croak
Of being broke,
Or who of warfare, after drinking?
With bowl atween us,
Of smiling Venus
And Bacchus shall we sing, I'm thinking.

Of symptoms fell
Which brawls impel,
Historic data give us warning;
The wretch who fights
When full of nights
Is bound to have a head next morning.
I do not scorn
A friendly horn,
But noisy toots—I can't abide 'em!
Your howling bat
Is stale and flat
To one who knows, because he's tried 'em!

The secrets of
The life I love
(Companionship with girls and toddy)
I would not drag
With drunken brag
Into the ken of everybody.
But in the shade
Let some coy maid
With smilax wreathe my flagon's nozzle—
Then, all day long,
With mirth and song,
Shall I enjoy a quiet sozzle!

A Ticklish Question.

ST. Judge McClure states that he has received application from a number of Celestials to become citizens and he wishes advice from United States authorities. The district attorney has not yet decided what advice he will give in the case. It is, he says, a question full of difficulties and he will give it due consideration.

THINK OF THESE THINGS
AND
BUY BEFORE ANOTHER ADVANCE!

IF A PERSON WANTS A HOME, LET HIM BUY ONE OR MORE LOTS IN CROSLEY PARK AND THEN BORROW MONEY OF A BUILDING ASSOCIATION TO BUILD A HOUSE AND HE IS FIXED.

BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS

Have enabled thousands of laboring men and people of ordinary means to become land owners and capitalists. What a blessing they have been to such people in all our Eastern cities! It is the correct theory for the following reasons, viz.:

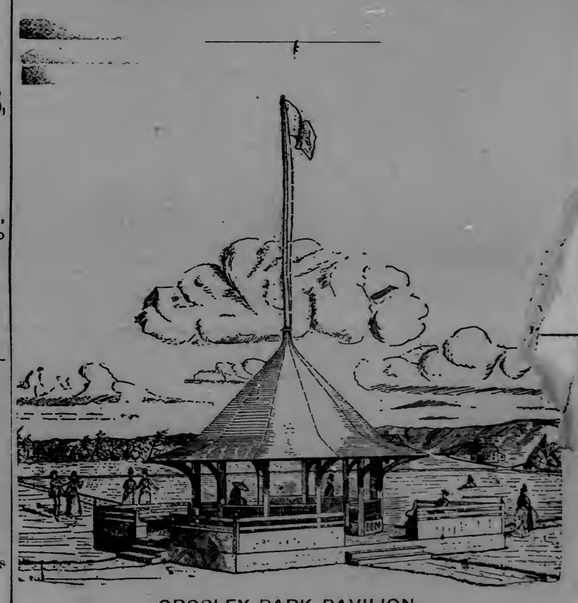
First--It enables people to deposit small sums at stated times in their own bank (for a building association is really a savings bank in which all depositors are stockholders, and all share pro rata the profits).

Second--By being required to pay small sums regularly stockholders form habits of economy and thrift, which are indispensable to the acquisition of wealth.

Third--It begets in people an ambition to get homes and acquire wealth for themselves and their families.

We have adopted the Building Association plan in the sale of lots in

CROSLEY PARK.



CROSLEY PARK PAVILION.

It is far better to buy good Duluth real estate when you can get it by easy weekly payments than to take stock in a building association for the following reasons, viz.:

First--In a building association, if you fail to pay on the very day the fine imposed goes a good ways toward cutting down your profits.

CROSLEY PARK,

For if you are sick or out of town, or unable to pay for a period of four weeks after the payment is due, no advantage can be taken of you.

Second--Building associations, however well they may be managed, are liable to sustain losses, and in that event all the stockholders bear their share. In buying lots in Crosley Park there is no element of loss to be considered.

Third--A stockholder in a building association does not control his own interest, but is a sort of partner with all other stockholders and subject to the management of other men. If you buy lots in Crosley Park you control your own property absolutely and can sell and assign your contract at any time.

Fourth--The advance in values of Crosley Park lots will be far greater than the profits in a building association.

VALUABLE ORE BODIES.

Rich Deposits of Iron Reached by the Duluth and Winnipeg.

Work Being Pushed---Allen Manvel's Position and Successor.

Anything of importance connected with the Duluth and Winnipeg road is of interest in Duluth, especially at this time, and the fact that the road will become a large handler of iron ore is of great importance. While the few who have paid particular attention to the matter well know that there are deposits of iron at and near the line of the Duluth and Winnipeg of as great richness, if not extent, as those of the Duluth and Iron Range (which will handle nearly 900,000 tons this year) this knowledge is not at all general. It is nevertheless true.

The rich iron belt that runs between Ely and Tower in a direction a little south of west, and extends eastward from Ely to the international boundary, has been thought to end at Lake Vermilion. This, however, is far from the true state of the case. West of Lake Vermilion and the phenomenal mines of the Minnesota Iron company the ore body trends more to the south and passes in a southwestern direction almost if not quite to the Mississippi river. A little west of the Minnesota mines the ore bodies known as the Vermilion range, on which are all present developments, and the Mesabi range join, making a vast body of ore of great richness.

Messrs. Grillitt and Smith, who are owners of a large tract of this rich mineral land, have been in Duluth for a day or two looking up business and conferring with officials of the Duluth and Winnipeg. They have already made arrangements for a branch line to their mines and the contracts for a ten-mile section, to reach from the main line to the head of the ore bodies, has already been signed, or will be in a day or two. These ore bodies outcrop four miles from the line of the road and about 100 miles, via the surveyed line, from Duluth. Samples of the ore, as well as assays made, all show remarkable richness and a fine quality of ore. Many of the assays have a showing of 68 per cent metallic iron, while some are as high as 70 per cent, fully as good as any ore in the Vermilion district. It is also so low in phosphorus to come within the bessemer limit. It is a much softer quality of ore than that mined at the Minnesota mines and resembles the Chandler or several Gogebic ores in many respects.

When it is considered that the Duluth and Winnipeg reaches not only this property but many others, and that short spurs will tap a great iron district it may easily be believed that it will become a great ore shipping road and Duluth will further increase as an iron ore manufacturing point. Practically the entire business of the Duluth and Iron Range is in its ore traffic, 30,000 tons of which go over its line weekly. Projectors of the Duluth and Winnipeg looked upon it as a wheat, lumber and coal road. With ore added its business is hard to calculate.

Work on the Line.

There is energy enough on the line of road to suit the most fastidious. "I'll cover it with men as thick as they can 'stand'" said General Manager Shaw last night. Instead of putting 200 men on the fifty miles of line the contractors will have 4000 at work. Instead of completing ready for trains to the Mississippi by December it will be done in ninety days or less. One day this week 500 men were sent up the Mississippi from Aitken to begin work on the line at the river. Four thousand men strung along fifty miles of line will be 80 men to the mile. When the character of most of the work is considered it will not be doubted that this force will complete the work in short order. Rails are purchased and will be delivered at the end of track in a very short time. Rolling stock, of which the road possesses not a wheel as yet, is being bargained for, and it is quite probable that a good share of it will be built in Duluth. The Mississippi river has been set as the terminus for operations this year. Whether it will be such remains to be seen later on. It is not at all improbable that construction may be pushed beyond the river this year, as it certainly will be next.

MANVEL PREFERRED.

Allen Manvel, of the Manitoba, Made President of Santa Fe.

The reorganization of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad company assumed definite shape yesterday. President W. B. Strong retires and will be succeeded by Allen Manvel, now the first vice-president and general manager of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba road. Mr. Manvel's step to the presidency of the Santa Fe system, in many respects the most remarkable road of today, is so great a stride forward that all his Northwestern friends will rejoice. Mr. Manvel will take office on September 9th. He is a fit successor to such a man as Mr. Strong, being a man of great personal popularity and possessing excellent judgment and ability in the management of railroad affairs. He began his career on the Rock Island in 1859, serving successfully as purchasing agent's clerk, paymaster, purchasing agent, to which last was added the duties of assistant superintendent. He went to the Manitoba road in 1881 as assistant general manager and general superintendent. He became general manager in the same year and has continued to perform the duties of that office up to date, though he has since been made first vice-president of the company.

Mr. Strong's resignation causes no surprise. It has been expected for several months. The very fact that George C. Magoun was made chairman of the new board of directors was regarded as practically a guarantee of his departure. Mr. Magoun is an industrious banker, being a member of the firm of Kidder, Peabody & Co., but a stranger to the railroad business. Nevertheless he has evinced a decided inclination to be the autocrat of all the company's operations. The financial affairs of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe are deplorable. When the "reform" board was elected at the annual meeting it was promised that there would be a revival of the road's prosperity, but the affairs of the company have apparently become more complicated.

It is believed that Mr. Manvel's retirement will elevate Traffic Manager W. S. Alexander to the vacant place of vice-president while either A. L. Mohler or P. P. Shelby, now of the Montana Central, will be general manager. The coming traffic manager is expected by some to be J. A. Hanley, of the St. Paul and Kansas City road, though this is doubted in other quarters. That many changes will take place no one doubts, for, in addition to those already in view, Mr. Manvel will cause a few, as he will take valued assistants with him. It looks as if the entire officiary of the Manitoba system would be overhauled.

SPORTING NOTES.

Considerable money was bet in Duluth on Dempsey, the loser of the Dempsey-LeBlanch fight in San Francisco, Tuesday.

Lord Dunraven, owner of the English yacht Valkyrie, has published a card in British papers throwing the blame of failure of his boat to meet American craft this year entirely on the New York Yacht club.

Next season's ball games in the National league will be played with two umpires. All the teams are in favor of it.

The Pittsburg ball team is working hard for fourth place in the league.

The professional oarsmen of this country will hold a meeting at Boston next month for the purpose of forming a national association. A regatta will be given each year and small dues will be charged the members, who will be divided, according to their performances and ability, into classes.

Even money is being bet on the Killen-McAuliffe fight that takes place in San Francisco next month.

The Conley-Cardiff fight is attracting great interest among Ashland sports. Conley is the favorite in betting.

GRAIN GRADES.

Old Grades Re-established by Formal Vote —Few Additions Made.

At a meeting of the state railroad and warehouse commissioners held yesterday afternoon at St. Paul the chief business was the establishment of "Minnesota grades" for the coming crop year. Old grades were re-established, with very few changes and additions. These latter were the same proposed by Chief Inspector A. C. Clausen a week ago. The rules for no grade wheat and no grade corn were abolished. The changes and additions were as follows:

Change rule for No. 3 oats so as to read: "No. 3 oats shall be all oats that are slightly damp or slightly musty," etc.

Northern white wheat, No. 1 northern white wheat shall be sound, well cleaned, plump and composed of the northern varieties of white wheat.

No. 2 northern white shall be sound, reasonably clean and composed of the northern varieties of white wheat.

No. 3 northern white shall comprise all northern white wheat fit for warehousing, weighing not less than fifty-four pounds to the measured bushel, and not sound enough or otherwise unfit for the higher grades.

Rejected northern white shall be northern white wheat fit for warehousing, but unfit for higher grades.

No grade grain shall comprise all and any grain that is in a heating condition, too musty or too damp to be safe for warehousing, or that is bin-burnt, exceedingly dirty or otherwise unfit for store.

SCHOOL MATTERS.

Teachers' Examination—Preparing for the Annual Opening of Schools.

An examination of teachers of St. Louis county took place at the high school this morning. There were a number of teachers and applicants present and the examination will be continued tomorrow.

Superintendent Denfeld and his assistants are very busy preparing the various city schools for business and will be all ready to start the full machinery of school work next Monday. There will be many more Duluth young people attending schools and colleges out of the city this year than ever before and that the number is increasing rapidly year by year, is evidence of the growing desire for higher education among Duluth people. A dozen or more have already left for the East and between now and October many times that number will go.

Uniform Rank Anniversary.

Tomorrow evening the four Duluth divisions of the Uniform Rank, Knights Pythias and the Old Superior division will celebrate the twenty-ninth anniversary of the establishment of the Uniform Rank. At 7 p. m. the Duluth divisions will assemble at their respective armories. Twenty minutes later, headed by Walker's band, they will march to Eighth avenue west along Superior street. Here they will be joined by the Superiorites. At 7:30 the battalion will form and march down Superior street to Eighth avenue east, countermarching to the Hunter block, in front of which a dress parade will be held. After breaking ranks the Sir Knights will feast themselves in the armory, while Walker's band will give a concert on the street. At the conclusion of the banquet the Superior division will be escorted to the train.

Will Build a Warehouse.

The Minnesota Packing and Provision company has evidently come to stay. For four months it occupied Armour's cold storage house, but has now taken its quarters at 23 West Michigan street. In an interview with a Herald reporter their manager here said that in the near future the Minnesota Packing and Provision company will erect a warehouse and cold storage of its own and make Duluth one of its permanent wholesale points. Until the building is erected the company will continue to do business in its new quarters, 23 West Michigan street, and will there carry a full line of smoked and cured meats and pure kettle rendered lard. The company receives here each week several cars of fresh beef, mutton, pork, loins, veal, and everything pertaining to the trade. Everything is fresh and wholesome, for the company's plant is one of the finest in the country. They have come to stay, and as their prices are as low as any, dealers will do well to call and see them.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

Work on the Chamber of Commerce building has been delayed somewhat lately by lack of material. Yesterday work began by stonecarvers on the florlated carving that is to surround the building at the second story. It will make a handsome and unique style of ornamentation.

The thirty-fourth annual meeting of the Minnesota General Congregational association will be held in Park Congregational church, St. Paul, on Sept. 17, 18, 19 and 20. Rev. E. M. Noyes, of this city, is a member of the business committee.

The G. A. R. is considering the advisability of purchasing the southeast corner at Second street and Second avenue east on which to locate a memorial hall and lodge room.

At the concert by "Blind Tom" last evening at the Academy of Music there was a fair-sized audience, which was entertained with several selections with great skill. He is to give another concert tonight.

The steamer Barker made her regular excursion to Fond du Lac this morning, crowded with pleasure-seekers.

The first annual picnic of the Unitarian society was given today, being an excursion up the river to Fond du Lac on the steamer Liken. A large party went on the boat.

The close law regarding deer-shooting is being openly and frequently violated nowadays, and a good deal of venison is being eaten in Duluth.

The pile driving for the St. Paul and Duluth freight depot will be completed today.

The movement of coal out of Duluth this season is not so active as last year, yet the outlook for a big business this fall was never better.

BUCKED THE BRIDGE.

A Schooner Tries to Knock Out the Northern Pacific Drawbridge.

The Northern Pacific bridge across St. Louis river was closed for repairs from early this morning until noon. The schooner Wayne was being towed at West Superior by the tug Record early this morning, and in coming through the southerly draw of the long Northern Pacific bridge the signal lights were wrongly read, and the boat was towed under the heavy iron structure, which was half closed. The Wayne's pilot house struck the draw and knocked it out of plumb about three inches, so that the turntable would not work.

As a result all Northern Pacific trains were run over the St. Paul and Duluth tracks until 10 o'clock. The Eastern Minnesota transferred its passengers to West Superior. The 9:30 limited over the Northwestern was forty minutes late, being obliged to run around by West Duluth and enter the Union depot.

Be Merciful to Yourself,

And heed the appeals for assistance put forth by your liver, when the organ is out of order. Among these are distress in the right side and through the right shoulder blade, yellowness of the skin and eyeballs, furred tongue, sour breath, sick headache, and, above all, irregularity of the bowels. The mercy you extend to the afflicted organ is wisely shown by a prompt course of medication with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, most genial of alteratives, and the hepatic gland early reciprocates the deserved attention by resuming its secretive functions actively and regularly. Among the accompanying good results are renewed digestion, freedom from headaches, and a resumption of activity of the bowels. All bilious symptoms disappear, and appetite and sleep improve. Beneficent are the effects of the Bitters in malarial disease, kidney disorder, rheumatic ailments and nervousness.

CAUTION W. L. Douglas' name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all Shoes advertised by him before leaving his factory; this protects the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If your dealer does not keep the style or kind you want, or offers you shoes without W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on them, and says they are just as good, do not be deceived thereby, but send direct to the Factory for you can get what you want by return mail, postage paid. Dealers make more profit on unknown shoes that are not warranted by anybody; therefore do not be induced to buy shoes that have no reputation. Buy only those that have W. L. Douglas' name and the price stamped on the bottom, and you are sure to get full value for your money. Thousands of dollars are saved annually in this country by the wearers of W. L. Douglas' Shoes. In ordering by mail state whether you want Congress, Button or Lace, London cap toe, plain French toe, or narrow cap toe, and be sure to give size and width you wear. Duluth Market Steady Up to Near the Close---Other Points.

Wheat receipts today are slightly less than yesterday, and the large movement seems to have hardly begun. Wheat is believed to be a good purchase by most dealers and especially by the farmers who are naturally and always bulls in the situation, but this feeling could hardly make any difference in sending wheat forward for most of the farmers are in such shape this year that they cannot hold back grain for a rise. The fact seems to be that they are taking all advantages possible of the good threshing weather and are getting out as much as possible. The movement to Duluth during the past few days has averaged nearly 35,000 bu per day. There is still some complaint of the grades given, much of what would have last year gone gladly to 1 hard being cut a grade or two. As last year the sharpness of grades was let-up on this is but to be expected. Receipts for the week will show a large increase.

All elevator companies have been busy making imptovements in machinery and houses getting ready to handle a large crop, though it is clear enough that the aggregate capacity of the head of the lakes will not nearly be utilized. Wheat freights to Buffalo are ranging about where they have been for some time, at 2½ cents and no room is being chartered, except an occasional small lot on line craft.

Local Markets.

Wheat has been strong and steady nearly all day. Both cash and futures opened at yesterday's close, some concessions were made on October and December on early transactions, but the declines were quickly recovered, and buyers predominated. The close was weak below the outside quotations.

Cash, new, 1 hard, in good demand at 82; No. 1 northern, new, in good demand, 77; new, 2 northern, at 73; August, dull, nominally at 82; September opened and closed at 81½; October opened late at 81, followed by sales at 81⅜, closed at 81½; December opened at 82, sagged off to 81¾, recovered to 82, ruling steady at that until near the close dropped to 81½ and closed at 81¾; May at 87; year, nominal at 81.

The Minneapolis Close.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 29.—Closing quotations—No. 1 hard, August, 79; September, 79; on track, 79@80. No. 1 northern, August, 79½; September, 79¼; December, 77½; on track, 76@78. No. 2 northern, August, 73; September, 73; on track, 74@75.

Chicago Close.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—1:15 p.m. close—Wheat, about steady; cash, 78; September, 77 10-16; December, 79 3-16. Corn steady; cash, 33¾; September, 33¾; October, 33⅜.

Are About Duluth.

Chief of Police Doran telegraphed officers at Mason City, Iowa, last night that William Newbowers and Mrs. William Velthoff, who eloped from there last week, were in this city. Orders were at once telegraphed to arrest them. A dispatch received from St. Louis states that Newbowers is wanted there. Newbowers and Mrs. Velthoff have been carrying on a liason for some time. The elopement had been long planned. Mrs. Velthoff has been married eighteen years and is the mother of seven children. Two girls are now with her and are aged respectively eight and three and one-half years. The man went to Ely, where the woman and children were to join him. Both will be taken back at once, one to St. Louis, the other to Mason City.

MUNICIPAL COURT MATTERS.

Carl Carlson was brought before Judge Morris this morning charged with being the father of Mary Filjestrand's child. He said he was willing to marry Mary, and she, producing a license which she had procured this morning from Clerk Pressnel, informed his honor that it would be agreeable to her, so he pronounced them man and wife.

Thomas McCarthy, a hack-driver, was brought before the police court this afternoon, and the law forbidding teamsters from driving on the Northern Pacific dock will be tested. Other drivers were also arrested and will be tried.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

A large cargo of red sandstone is being unloaded today at Quinby & Omeis's dock on Lake avenue. It is from Portage Entry.

MARINE MENTION.

More New Vessels—General Port and Vessel News.

Capt. James Davidson, of Bay City, is in Buffalo with his big steamer the Majestic. This will give Buffalo the opportunity to see the largest wooden carrier on the lakes. Capt. Davidson is building four large vessels. Two are steamers, one of which will be launched about December and the other next season. They will carry about 2500 tons. The others are schooners to be used as consorts to steamers. One will be launched in about a month and the other later on. They will carry 1800 tons of ore or 2000 tons of coal, which he considers quite enough for a tow barge to carry under the present condition of our harbors. Vessels above that size are liable to be expensive in the matter of harbor towing, especially in such ports as Chicago. None of the four crafts is sold as yet.

Capt. Furey, well known here, is on the Northern Light this trip. It is probable that he will command the fine steamer on her next trip.

The Nyack will take a full cargo of grain and flour out this evening.

There seems to be a general increase of passenger traffic on the Canadian boats. The Ontario, of Beatty's Sarnia line brought in a big list last evening. She was a few hours late in arriving.

The Italia which was in port recently, had a 100,000 bushel wheat cargo from Detroit on a recent trip.

W. D. McDonald, of this city, has been appointed first mate of the fine steamship Pascal P. Pratt, and left to take his berth in that steamship this morning.

J. F. Patten, president of the Duluth Electric Light and Power company, returned this morning from St. Paul and vicinity.

MASONIC AFTERMATH.

Many Prominent Masonic Visitors Still in the City—At the Building.

A large share of yesterday's Masonic visitors staid over last night and are here today, so much pleased are they with Duluth and its hotels and people. Most of them had either never been here before or had been here so long ago that the city was entirely new to them. They were enthusiastic in its praise and as well in praise of the order in the city which is building such a magnificent temple. Those who are here today are being shown about the city and carefully looked after and if they do not come again it will not be the fault of local lodges. Among those who are here are several of the leading officers of both the Grand lodge and Grand Commandery.

A pleasant impromptu dance took place at The Spalding last night in honor of the visiting Masons and their wives and friends. The beautiful dining-room was comfortably filled by Duluth people and visitors, and a most enjoyable evening was passed to delightful music. There were between 80 and 100 people on the floor. Both the First regiment band and the Minneapolis cavalry band, here with the Grand lodge and Damascus and Zinc commanderies, rendered some very fine selections last evening at The Spalding and St. Louis hotels. The Minneapolis musicians did not go home until this morning.

At the Temple work is going on as if nothing had happened to break the routine. The large blocks, weighing seven tons, that are placed as a portico over the Monticello granite pillars of the front entrance, are in place and stone work is rapidly rising. It will be carried up to the base of the third story where brick will take its place. Over a hundred men are now at work on the building. In the theater part the lathing, much of it very intricate and slow work, is nearly done, and the rough coats of plastering are on ceiling and part of the walls. Floors are being laid in the auditorium and galleries and all over the building work progresses rapidly. The large quantity of woodwork in the galleries is cut into so many small pieces of varying shape that carpenter work has been a hard and careful job.

First-Class High Schools.

The following list of high schools has been prepared by the state high school board, comprising the schools that will be entitled to a share in the state appropriation of $400 each as "first-class" high schools: First-class—Alexandria, Anoka, Austin, Duluth, Hastings, Lake City, Mankato, Owatonna, Red Wing, Rochester, Spring valley, Stillwater.

Duluth's Exhibit.

Secretary Phelps, of the Chamber of Commerce, is at St. Paul, superintending the erection of St. Louis county building and arranging the exhibit of the city and county. Already carloads of products, chiefly iron ore and woods, have gone forward from here, and more are to go. John Mallman has returned from the north woods where he made a second expedition working up ores and the results of his trip are many. Several Duluth artists will probably enter a few pictures for competition at the fair which promises to be the best held in the state.

THE HOTTEST DAY.

Today the Warmest of the Season, and Not so Very Hot, Either.

"Yes, it is a little warm today," pleasantly said Sergeant Fallon this afternoon when a Herald reporter quizzed him regarding the temperature. "Wait a moment and I'll get the exact figures," said the man of forecasts and flags, maximums and minimums, and he mounted to the roof of the building, returning a moment later with the announcement that 84.2 was the shade figure. A hasty look revealed the fact that it was the hottest day of the year, beating the record of July 21 by .4 of a degree, the record for that day being 83.8.

The hottest August days since the record has been kept here were the following: 1874—Aug. 9—86°, 1875—Aug. 9—83°, 1876—Aug. 9—89°, 1877—Aug. 8—94°, 1878—Aug. 8—92°, 1879—Aug. 31 88°, 1880—Aug. 9—85°, 1881—Aug. 2—93°, 1882—Aug. 12—84°, 1883—Aug. 19—85.7°, 1884—Aug. 14—83°, 1885—Aug. 11—81.3°, 1886—Aug. 27—92.1°, 1887—Aug. 9—94.2°, 1888—Aug. 25—95.2°, 1889—Aug. 29—84.2°. July 13, 1878, was a little warm, 96 being the figure. Although this is a warm day, the monthly August maximum has never been as low as this year since the station was established. Up in the frigid regions of Minnesota and Qu'Appelle the Canuckers are shaking out their furs today and shivering under a chilling wind and a temperature of 32° above. It is not probable that Duluth will catch a cold wave for several days to come, as the barometer rather points to a continuance of the present kind of temperature.

WEST END NOTES.

TO SAVE THEIR BLUSHES

Private Secretary Halford to Defend the Charms of Beauty

From the Desecration of the Gaze of Dude Cigarette Smokers.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—[Special.]—The announcement that Private Secretary Halford intends to bring suit against a firm of cigarette manufacturers to restrain them from using the photograph of his daughter in connection with the sale of their goods is likely to embolden a good many prominent people to take a similar course. At intervals for two or three years past speciously worded advertisements offering to ladies who will forward their photograph to certain designated places have appeared in many leading papers. These advertisements have emanated from the firms in question, and many of the photographs received proved to be those of society beauties or the daughters of prominent people. What is more to the point, many of these miniature photographs have gone back with other limbs and other busts and other positions than those of the original.

One case created a sensation in Milwaukee some time ago. A prominent society belle responded to one of these advertisements and was dumbfounded a few months later when her companion, in opening a package of cigarettes in her presence, drew out a photograph in which she was represented as lounging on a couch in a negligent attitude, her lower extremities encased in tights and the charms of her bust exposed to full view. The head and features were perfect, and nobody who had seen the young lady in question could have any hesitation in deciding upon the identity. In this case it took some time and labor to verify the young lady's protestations that she had not been photographed as the picture indicated and a scandal was narrowly averted. There are scores of towns and cities of which the same story is true, and hence the contemplated proceedings of Secretary Halford become a matter of national interest.

Arrested for Embezzlement.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 30.—Alfred Broad, formerly treasurer for the W. W. Steele Packing company, was arrested at Ionia, Mich., yesterday and brought to this city on a charge of embezzlement. It is claimed that his stealings will run from $10,000 to $40,000. Broad is over 50 years of age, and stood high in the community. He denies the charge, and says he did not keep the books, and if there is any crookedness other parties than he are the guilty ones.

Home Again.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30.—The homeward rush from the encampment commenced in earnest this morning although many of the visitors will linger and several days must elapse before the city presents its wonted quiet appearance. WARNING TO REPORTERS.

What a Man Might Do, but Usually Doesn't, With $10.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Gwynne R. Tompkins, a reporter for an evening paper, was sent to Saratoga several weeks ago to report the races. He had $10 in his pocket and a small weekly salary looming up in the future. Yesterday he astonished his employers beyond measure by telegraphing his resignation as a reporter of horse races and said incidentally that he was worth $25,000.

His first venture at the races was on the fourth day, when he put all he had—$10—on Remsen, at odds of 50 to 1, and won. He waited a few days and put $10 on Boccacia. This time he won with odds of 39 to 1 in his favor. The next day $50 went on Prather when it was 12 to 1 against this horse. Of course, Prather had no alternative but to win, and so on from day to day. But he kept his head, and his paper was in daily receipt of careful reports of the races.

Elyton's success netted him nearly $8000. He bet $500 on Honduras, a 2-year-old, who was not down when the entries were posted, and it was not decided to start him until the last moment. The odds against him were 12 to 1, but he came out ahead, and Tompkins pocketed $6000, earned in about two minutes of desperate expectation. With this fair start Tompkins has purchased the speedy racers Irene and Hildebrand, and expects to make something more with them in the fall races.

WILL CLAIM HIS FORTUNE.

A St. Paul Laborer Inherits $15,000,000 From His Father in Australia.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 30.—Charles T. Watrous, a young man who has resided in St. Paul for the last six months, during which time he has been employed as a common laborer, has suddenly changed his mind as to the necessity for working. By the death of his father in Australia he inherits property estimated to be worth £3,000,000 sterling, and has departed for the antipodes to claim his vatt estate.

Watrous was in financial straits when, glancing over the list of unclaimed letters, he saw his name. The epistle, when secured, proved to be an announcement of the death of his father, J. B. Watrous, known the world over as the Australian bonanza king, at Sydney, New South Wales. Young Watrous became estranged from his family seven years ago through an unfortunate liaison with a ballet girl known as Hobart Town Polly. Watrous married her in Melbourne and the couple came to San Francisco, where Mrs. Watrous died while filling an engagement at the Bella Union theater.

Sailors Injured.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30.—During the naval engagement last night a cannon on the United States revenue cutter Fessenden was discharged prematurely and two sailors, John Schulze of Detroit, and Charles Mottshead of Montreal, were seriously injured. A mortar exploded on one of the mortar boats and two sailors, Frank Sayles of Milwaukee, and S. S. Rock of Thiensville, were painfully but not seriously injured. William Bates, 18 years of age, was also injured by a premature discharge of a mortar, and William Sill of Racine received painful injuries in hip and ankle.

The Prize Crew No Good.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 30.—The schooner Pathfinder arrived from Behring Sea last night. Capt. Cleary reports that his vessel was boarded by the revenue cutter Rush in Behring Sea, July 29. Lieut. Tuttle took 854 sealskins that were on board and all guns and ammunition and then placed a quarter-master of the Rush on board with instructions to take the schooner to Sitka. After the Rush left the Pathfinder headed for Victoria despite the protest of the prize crew.

Brown, of New York, and Grand Consul Fort will be banquetted at the Palmer house.

Parliament to Adjourn.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Parliament will probably adjourn tonight unless the Irish members are obstreperous and force the session over another day. It has been a long and exciting session to all the leaders as well as to many of the rank and file, and the prospect of a vacation is regarded with more than ordinary satisfaction. Lord Salisbury will go abroad without delay. His growing obesity is said to be developing into dropsy and Prince Bismarck's physician has been asked to participate in a consultation regarding his symptoms.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—When the Cronin case was called this morning, in the criminal court, before Judge McConnell, the states attorney announced the readiness of the prosecution to proceed with the trial of the cases without further delay. A special venire of fifty jurors was ordered to be at once issued, returnable at 2 o'clock, to which time a recess was taken.

Corporal Tanner Talks.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30.—A greater part of yesterday was devoted to Corp. Tanner and the pension question, and much feeling was shown on the subject. There was an animated discussion on the subject which lasted three hours. At last Corp. Tanner took the floor, and in an impassioned speech declared that he not only courted but demanded an investigation of his administration. The following resolution was adopted:

That we thank the President of the United States for the appointment of our comrade, James Tanner, as commissioner of pensions, and that notwithstanding the assaults upon him, we declare our complete confidence in his integrity and our approval of his avowed purpose to do all that is possible for the veterans of the war, and with him we ask for the fullest investigation of the management of his office.

It was decided to appropriate $1000 annually for the maintenance of the Grant cottage on Mount McGregor. Hearty approval of the action of the commander-in-chief and the department comrades, who had endeavored to secure a one cent rate to the present encampment was expressed, and the committee having charge of the encampment to be held next at Boston was instructed to early secure a pledge from hotel keepers that no higher rates than that given to the traveling public be charged to the delegates. In the event of refusal the adjutant-general was authorized to change the location of the encampment at least three months before the date to any locality where reasonable rates could be secured.

The Closing Session.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30.—The closing session of the National encampment was held today. The call to order was made at 9 o'clock, so that business might all be disposed of by noon to enable delegates to leave the city for their homes after dinner. Unusual pains were taken to make it as difficult as possible for reporters to get their reports of the proceedings.

CRONIN CASE.

State Attorney Longenecker Wants to go Ahead at Once.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—There was no diminution in the number of eager spectators that thronged Judge McConnell's room at the Cronin trial this morning. Half an hour before the opening of court every available seat in the vast chamber was taken, and hundreds of spectators were denied admittance by the bailiffs. There was confidence on the part of attorneys for the defense that the state would make a confession of weakness in a fight for delay, but in this they were sadly disappointed by the promptness with which States Attorney Longenecker announced his readiness to proceed with the prosecution of the case. As soon as court opened the attorney for O'Sullivan and Kunze filed a motion for immediate trial.

JIM HILL TO RESIGN.

Rumors of His Resignation are Again at the Surface.

It has frequently been rumored that James J. Hill, president of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba will retire from his position. The rumor comes to the surface more strongly substantiated than ever. The resignation will, it is claimed, take place at the adjourned annual meeting on Sept. 12.

The Manitoba road has been losing money for some time, while its exponses have been increased by extensions and feeders. At a meeting of the directors held about three months ago he was forced to acknowledge the fact that the company was hard up. He also was forced to borrow to meet interest coupons. To the expressed desire that he step out he has been president but has received no salary. The road continued to lose money, however. Mr. Hill's friends aver that he will resign with no regret, but will devote his time in future to travel and a general supervision of his vast interests. His desire to be at the head of a transcontinental line, the reckless way in which extensions have been built, poor crops and above all, the sharper competition of the Northern Pacific under late management, have much to do with the late poor success of the great Manitoba company.

NO SECOND FIDDLE IN HIS.

An English Traveler's Stand for Duluth and What Came of it.

A good story of one man's obstinacy and its results is going the rounds. It occurred on the Omaha the other day. On the north bound train from Chicago were two sleeping cars, one well filled with Minneapolis passengers and the other with a few Duluth bound people in it. A few miles the other side of Eau Claire the Minneapolis sleeper developed a severe case of "hot box," and was sidetracked. There being but two or three passengers in the Duluth car the superintendent ordered it run through to Minneapolis and the Duluth passengers transferred to a day coach. There was no "kick" on the part of the very small contingent except from one, an Englishman, who told the conductor that he was satisfied with his car and didn't propose to change. The Minneapolis passengers crowded into the Duluth car and the train was made up anew. In vain the conductor told the obdurate traveler of the causes for the change—the O. E. T. would not budge—he had paid for his berth in that car to Duluth; and was going to stay there until it took him to Duluth.

The conductor wired to the superintendent and got the terse answer: "Send the sleeper with the kicker to Duluth, transfer Minneapolis passengers to a day coach." Thereupon those for the Twin cities filed out casting maligant glances at the bull-headed Englishman. A Minneapolis lady remarked, "It doesn't take long for us to make up our mind; we're going to Minneapolis and we'll go in the day coach." To this the Englishman rising gracefully, responded: "It didn't take me a moment to make up my mind; I had it made up from the start. It doesn't make any real difference in a case of emergency what kind of a car I travel in, and I have several times been compelled to ride in a box car, but now I am going to Duluth and I won't allow that place to play second fiddle to Minneapolis if I can help it. Good day, ladies!"

Assessments Confirmed.

The final assessment for improving Fifth avenue was confirmed before Judge Ensign this morning. It amounts to $2,988.16. The first assessment for New York avenue amounting to $15,319.57 was also confirmed. The Duluth and Iron Range company enter protest against their property on which the depot stands—being included in the assessment list.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

The latest bank to make a detailed statement in the columns of The Herald is the Bell & Eyster band, and its figures are remarkably fine. They emphasize the excellent condition of Duluth's financial institutions, as heretofore shown.

H. H. Hart has made his report on the alleged Curtiss outrage case. He has fully investigated the affair, and cannot find evidence to support the charges made. Secretary Hart believes that all the trouble arose from the disordered state of the young lady's mind. This ends the case. The girl's friends here, who believed that she had fully recovered from the temporary insanity brought on while here, are now inclined to think her mind is still deranged.

WEST DULUTH CAR WORKS

Active Preparations for Beginning the Work of Building Iron Cars.

Good Reading for the People Who Believe in West Duluth's Future.

Today all the machinery in the rolling mill at the Car works is running. The wood-working machinery was started on Wednesday. Everything works well, and the machinery is now very nearly ready to begin its work. And there is to be work enough for it, as soon as it is ready. There is now 500 tons of iron on its way to Duluth to go into the construction of the patent iron cars. This material consists of iron tubes for the car sills, which is their distinctive feature, and malleable iron. This will make fifty cars. Other shipments of iron material will be forwarded as rapidly as it is needed. The bill of lumber needed has been proposed by the superintendent, and it will be at once shipped. The demand upon these works for these cars is likely to be much larger than was recently anticipated because of the burning of the works at Huntington, Pa., where they have been building on contract. The company has been notified that the officials of the Duluth and Winnipeg railroad will look to it for a supply of freight rolling stock. Altogether it looks very much as though the Car works were to have their capacity to produce large numbers of cars tested at the very outset. The officials realize this, and are leaving nothing undone that will ensure the prompt fulfillment of the large orders which are to be given, and have been given. During the past two months these works have been visited by many men interested in similar plants in other parts of the country, including expert engineers and others who are peculiarly well qualified to give an authoratative opinion, and they have without exception pronounced the plant to be one of the best in the country, and in many respects superior to any now in operation. It has been built by men who have spent nearly their whole lives in practical direction of works of the kind, and the result is that Duluth has without doubt the model car works of the country, and in a very short time there will be ten completed cars sent out of the works daily.

The stone for the foundation of the village hall is being put on the ground. The excavation is about completed.

Judge Neff imposed fines of $3 each on two peddlers, yesterday, who had no licenses, and remanded Thomas Hagerty to the grand jury for larceny from the house of Mrs. George Holland.

A horse, owned by the West Duluth Manufacturing company and ridden by Edward Simpson, fell into the Gas and Water company's trench last night about 10 o'clock. Simpson was quite badly injured in the leg. The horse was pulled out by bystanders by means of a derrick after about forty-five minutes' hard work. The horse was not very badly injured. Between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues there were no lights whatever. Suit for damages will probably be brought soon.

J. H. Fox, agent American Express company, will take a month's vacation from Sept. 1, and visit Minneapolis and other cities. He will be relieved by Ed Frost of Duluth.

St. Paul is trying hard to find out who owns its streets, and hopes to succeed before Christmas. A city council with nothing to give away is poor indeed.

General Sherman says that his speaking days are over, but he always has something to say when called upon, and who can pack more in one sentence than he does in addressing the Grand Army: "Let us venerate the flag and love our country and love each other and stand by each other as long as we have heads on our shoulders and legs on our bodies." What old soldier has ever given a more solid nugget of counsel to his fellow soldiers than this?

As may be seen by figures in another column Duluth received less than 5,000,000 bushels of wheat in the crop year now closing and shipped less than 6,000,000. It is a bad showing, but Duluth isn't afraid to make it. There's no denying the fact it was our off year in the wheat business and Duluth might as well admit the fact. But there is one consolation in the small figures—they will give such an elegant opportunity for comparative statements during the next twelve months.

The Sault Ste. Marie convention stoutly protests against any interference with free international railway transportation, or as Chairman Flower puts its demand that "no congress or railway commission shall be permitted to join hands with the frosts of winter, which close our great water ways of commerce, and lay an embargo on our traffic or send it several hundred miles out of its natural channel to pay tribute to any place, corporation or confederation whatsoever." This is fair notice to congress that Mr. Flower proposes to rise and mutiny if the Cooley cut-off is applied to the Canadian lines. We sympathize with his feeling, but if congress should dare to cross his demand, we shall want to know more definitely what he proposes to do if victorious, before following him into the imminent deadly breach.

The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table, Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, celebrated his eightieth birthday yesterday. Since the day when his joke shook the buttons off the printer's boy, he has never dared to be as funny as he can be, but he has furnished wit and humor enough, notwithstanding his caution, to stock a regiment of professional paragraphers. His four score years have whitened his head and cramped his alert step, but his spirit is as buoyant as ever and the fine fire of his mind burns undimmed. He looks at the world now chiefly through the panes of his study windows, but he does not see through the glass darkly. His old age is as sunny and sweet as his youth. His elixir of life is all his own and not drawn from a guinea pig. We wish him confidently many happy returns of the day.

The latest astonishing proposition of this astonishing age is that of Claus Spreckels, the sugar king of El Dorado, to build an annex to the White House at Washington of hardened sugar. It appears from Mr. Spreckels's statements that while experimenting to discover a process for hardening beet sugar for export, he hit upon a device that converts the sugar to a condition in which it is harder and whiter than marble and insoluble in water. He shows his faith in his discovery by offering to build the addition from the designated plan at half the cost of marble and submit the completed work to a committee of experts. If any valid objection is raised by any one of the committee he agrees to remove his sugar house at his own expense and restore the grounds to their former condition. Mr. Spreckels should be encouraged to build a primary school of his stony sugar and if it bears the heat and the rain and the children's teeth for a year, he will need no other advertisement. His block sugar may be more lasting than brass, but something smaller than the President of the country should be used to test the new sugar stock scheme.

How the proposed reorganization of the Atchison and Topeka road will make it earn its interest charges remains to be seen. A cut of wages all round is talked of, but such cutting is not always saving, and discharging tried employes for the sake of making a flourish of the new broom will not go far to restore shattered confidence. Mr. Manvel has taken a big load on his shoulders and the man who puts on the harness cannot count himself happy till he puts it off. Time may work wonders with the Atchison property, but it will take time to do it. One man cannot transform the situation in a day or a year, no matter how smart he may be. And it will take more years than one, as an expert observer remarks, before Mr. Manvel can learn what his predecessor now knows. It will be a grave injustice to the president elect, if impossibilities are expected of him, for he cannot work miracles, and it will be little short of a miracle if the road is kept out of the hands of a receiver.

An honest confession is good for the soul. But no one would expect a St. Paul paper to speak of the "Commercial Imperialism" of Duluth. The St. Paul News does, and then proceeds to demolish it by a story of the inauguration of transit rates on wheat and flour by the Northern Pacific from the West through Minneapolis to Chicago. This transit is to be good over the Wisconsin Central. But The News goes on to say that heretofore non-transit roads have made rates as good as transit, and of these roads the Wisconsin Central was one. What difference is it going to make in Duluth receipts whether the stuff goes forward on transit or non-transit roads, providing rates are the same? Then too, a return to the old and now exploded condition of shipping 450 miles to Chicago when 150 miles would reach Duluth, is altogether too much like a return to the dark ages of earlier traffic condition for a business road like the Northern Pacific to undertake it.

THE LADY OR THE TIGER.

[Chicago News.]

The clock struck nine, and Pontifex was studying what to do.
Five dollars was his worldly wealth—his marriage set for two.

"Which shall it be?" he pondered, as with the cash he played;
"The girl against my luck at cards—the tiger or the maid?

"Five dollars pays the parson, but when the knot is tied
My rope is run, there's nothing left to give the new-made bride.

"But with a glorious winning, culled from the tiger's lair,
No present were too handsome to give my lady fair.

"Yet, if I lose—ay, there's the rub—'tis a far easier thing—
The bride-elect may wait in vain the lover and the ring."

He tried his luck, the tiger won, and yet I think the maid
Was happier far than if the youth in better luck had played.

FINE FRESCO WORK.

As Good Fresco Artists Here as in Much Larger Cities.

It is a matter of congratulation that there are now in this city fresco artists as good as those to be found in any Western city. Messrs. Berentsen & Thompson, who were formerly with Bradstreet, Thurber & Co., of Minneapolis, the recognized leaders in art decoration and furnishing in the Northwest, have just established themselves in Duluth and ask a share of the work in fine art frescoing and mural painting heretofore done by out of town artists. Both came here to execute some first-class work for the Minneapolis house, but seeing a chance to identify themselves with a business unrepresented here, they severed their connection and started on their own hook. They refer to Mr. R. H. Lee, at whose East End residence they have lately done some chaste and artistic work. Their studio and office is No. 419 Stenson building, corner Superior street and First avenue east.

THINK OF THESE THINGS

—AND—

BUY BEFORE ANOTHER ADVANCE!

IF A PERSON WANTS A HOME, LET HIM BUY ONE OR MORE LOTS IN CROSLEY PARK AND THEN BORROW MONEY OF A BUILDING ASSOCIATION TO BUILD A HOUSE AND HE IS FIXED.

BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS

Have enabled thousands of laboring men and people of ordinary means to become land owners and capitalists. What a blessing they have been to such people in all our Eastern cities! It is the correct theory for the following reasons, viz.:

First--It enables people to deposit small sums at stated times in their own bank (for a building association is really a savings bank in which all depositors are stockholders, and all share pro rata the profits).

Second--By being required to pay small sums regularly stockholders form habits of economy and thrift, which are indispensable to the acquisition of wealth.

Third--It begets in people an ambition to get homes and acquire wealth for themselves and their families.

We have adopted the Building Association plan In the sale of lots in

CROSLEY PARK.

CROSLEY PARK PAVILION.

It is far better to buy good Duluth real estate when you can get it by easy weekly payments than to take stock in a building association for the following reasons, viz.:

First--In a building association, if you fail to pay on the very day the fine imposed goes a good ways toward cutting down your profits.

CROSLEY PARK,

For if you are sick or out of town, or unable to pay for a period of four weeks after the payment is due, no advantage can be taken of you.

Second--Building associations, however well they may be managed, are liable to sustain losses, and in that event all the stockholders bear their share. In buying lots in Crosley Park there is no element of loss to be considered.

Third--A stockholder in a building association does not control his own interest, but is a sort of partner with all other stockholders and subject to the management of other men. If you buy lots in Crosley Park you control your own property absolutely and can sell and assign your contract at any time.

Fourth--The advance in values of Crosley Park lots will be far greater than the profits in a building association.

A FULL COURT CALENDAR

Next Term of District Court Soon to Convene at Duluth.

The Jurors and a Full List of Civil and Criminal Cases.

The fall term of district court, which convenes Monday, promises to be the most important ever held here, both in number and standing of cases, civil and criminal, on trial, and it is probable that the sessions in jury cases will last considerably over a month. The full calendar, which has just been printed, is a book of 150 pages, and shows no less than 180 civil cases, 28 personal tax cases and 8 continued criminal cases. Many of the civil cases will be settled and never come to trial, and more will be set for trial without jury in chambers, but the work of the grand jury will add greatly to the criminal list. Two prisoners are in the county jail charged with murder, and it is unlikely that both will escape the gallows. There are a number of other important criminals.

Of civil cases more than half hinge on real estate in one kind or another, a dozen are against insurance companies that refuse to pay losses, as many more are against the city for damages in street improvements and in other ways, another dozen are against railway companies by parties refusing appraisals of property damages, and for personal injury, as many are against defaulting contractors, some of whom are not liable to appear, others are begun by receivers and against failed firms, and the remaining twenty or thirty for various causes. There are 103 lawyers enrolled in the county bar, and of these about half will be employed in the court.

The grand jury is made up as follows: H. P. Young, R. C. McKinley, Hobart Gilmark, John W. Shellenberger, Eliot Lord, Otto Zeigler, David Brown, Duluth; C. L. White, Tower; M. M. Kinney, John Swanstrom, Geo. A. Rock, Two Harbors; Richard Dowman, Joseph E. Mayhew, H. Mayhew, Grand Marais; R. L. Francis, Grand Portage. The petit jury is composed of the following: W. P. Strickland, James Seville, Jr., W. A. Hicken, M. O. Hall, Wm. Ellis, T. O. Hall, J. W. Marvin, John Huller, Frank Bridgeman, G. G. Hartley, D. A. Petre, Norman J. Scott, L. J. Copeland, Duluth; Silas Robinson, Ole P. Gruben, M. O'Keefe, Tower; Duncan Shaw, Peter Johnson, Wm. Grosse, August Ohland, Two Harbors; Hedley Redmeyer, Daniel McMillan, Jos. TO SUPPLY ORE.

Duluth Iron and Steel Company to Contract for Ore at Once.

Messrs. Griffin and Smith, whose presence in Duluth was noted yesterday in connection with the opening of large and valuable finds of rich iron ores on the line of the Duluth and Winnepeg, are much nearer a basis of shipping ore to Duluth than is generally supposed. They are so confident of their ability to begin shipping soon after the advent of the railway that they have already endeavored to make contracts with the Duluth Iron and Steel company for the supplying of its immense blast furnaces with the needed ore.

As this will be a contract for nearly 200 tons, or about ten carloads per day, and a contract which would, once begun, have to be carried out under any and all circumstances, the faith of these owners of mines in what may be termed the Western Duluth district in their own property would seem very strong.

A BIG PAIR.

Next Two Ships of the American Steel Barge Company to be Monsters.

Both steel vessels to be built by the American Steel Barge company this winter will be begun in a short time at the Rices Point shipyard of the company. These ships are to be constructed on even a larger scale than the 102 and 103, one of which is now in successful commission, while the other will be off the stocks in less than four weeks. As has been stated a large bill of material for the 104 has been ordered of the several steel plate manufacturers in the East who are in the enjoyment of orders from the American Steel Barge company. In addition to this, orders for the steel for the 105 will soon be forwarded and a short time after the 103 is off the stocks, the keel of the 105 will be laid. Thus two great vessels will be under construction during the winter.

While the 102 and 103 are about 260 feet long, the 104 and 105 will be not less than 300 feet in length over all. While the largest ships in commission on the lakes at present have a capacity of about 3000 tons, and in this list the former vessels of this company figure at the head, these new steel freight carriers will each have a much greater freight capacity, the 40 feet additional hold being all 'midships, where it counts. They will be, therefore, by far the largest vessels on the lakes, for while these are longer, wider and higher ships of the old style build there is nothing that will compare with these in carrying capacity. The company will employ between 250 and 300 men all winter, and by spring will have 17,000 tons capacity in the water, all built on Capt. McDougall's patterns and under his direction.

All May Yet be Well.

It is yet probable that, notwithstanding the fact that two property owners ask damages of the city for building the Sixth avenue viaduct, the bridge may be built. The last clause in the agreement between the city and the Union depot Co. relates to the damage question, and in it the Union Depot company guarantees to the city absolutely no liability from a claim of damages asked by owners of abutting property. The city council is considering the advisability of striking out this section of the agreement, and it is backed in this matter by a majority of the business men of this city, who believe there will be no damages demanded anyway. This matter will come up for consideration at the next meeting of the council.

The Henderson Block.

Building Inspector Shanley yesterday issued a permit for the erection of the first two stories of the Henderson block, to cost $18,000, in the rear of the Windsor hotel. The size at present will be 40x40, and only two stories will be erected until the Windsor hotel lease expires next year, when the whole structure will be completed.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

At Lester Park this season thirty-one houses have been erected and twelve more will go up this fall.

Northwestern officials absolutely deny the rumor that the Duluth-Chicago limited will be taken off. They say the report was circulated by rival companies. They are perfectly satisfied with the patronage received.

Mr. C. W. Wells, of the Wells-Stone Mercantile company, has rented the Hawksworth house and will move his family here from Saginaw, Mich., next month, making Duluth his future home. It is said he will build a handsome residence next spring.

D. E. Jones, J. M. Smith, J. A Dewey and Mr. Briggs have purchased lots at Lester Park and will begin the erection of fine cottages at once. Messrs Smith and Dewey will make the park their homes.

Among the officials confirmed by the warehouse commission yesterday were C. H. Barnard, inspector; W. C. Wells and E. Taylor, weighmasters; B. Porter registrar, all at Duluth.

The temperature at Duluth has been kept up to a comfortable standard today, though points south and west of us have been shivering. As noted yesterday there was freezing weather at Minnedosa and the cold wave struck St. Paul last night. Here the weather is just about right.

Piles are being driven for a track along the the side of the two beer storage houses on East Railroad street.

Off the Track.

A Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic special pulled out of the depot this morning, bound for Marquette. It had gotten as far as the unlucky place in the Union depot yard where the Eastern Minnesota train ran off the track, when it, too, left the rails and the engine pulled up short with a broken cowcatcher. All the West End Short line trains have had to run in to the depot on the main tracks.

THE SECRET SOCIETIES.

A Lively Week Among Duluth Secret Society Members.

Masons, Elks, Army Men, Knights of Pythias, Other Orders.

This has been an unusually lively week among secret societies. What with the laying of the corner-stone of the Masonic Temple, the G. A. R. encampment at Milwaukee and the interest in the Knights of Pythias building, the past seven days have furnished enough to keep club members continually on "the go." In another year Duluth will be without a peer in the Northwest in regard to elegant and costly society buildings. Before 1891 the Masonic Temple and the Knights of Pythias hall will be up, furnishing conclusive and ocular proof of unusual energy among the members of Duluth lodges. What city in the country—in proportion to its size—has so elegant a Masonic Temple? What city can show a more handsome or stately structure than the new Pythian hall, or more beautiful architecture than that embodied in the Odd Fellows hall? With these buildings finished the lodges of this city will have invested in their various orders not less than $500,000.

Norris and Wilkinson and Gearhart and Randall and all the rest of the old "vets" who went down to Milwaukee to attend the G. A. R. encampment have returned after having had a great time, although the weather was extremely hot. "It's worth a journey through heat and dust and inconveniences of every kind to see Sherman, Alger, Tanner and the rest again," said one of the ex-boys-in-blue. "No one but a soldier can imagine one tithe of the enjoyment there is in talking over old times. All the old battles reviewed, old friendships resealed and new friends made. It's sad to think that it all must end, some time, and the grand old order become only a memory."

The new lodge of Elks held its second meeting Thursday evening, which was merely a business session because it was impossible to secure a suitable room. The lodge has quite a large number of propositions before it. It is expected that rooms will be fitted for it in the Masonic Temple, and they will probably include rooms for the meetings and a club-room.

With the Masons.

It has been a gala week for Masons, whose work at the corner stone of the new temple has been fully described in these columns. Between 200 and 300 prominent Knights Templar and Masons of the state as well as the grand commandery and grand lodge, were in the city and all were charmed with the hospitality displayed as well as the city shown them. But the joy of the week has not been free from sadness, and yesterday afternoon the Masons buried with ritual honors Brother F. S. Hubbler, of Rices Point, a charter member of Duluth commandary, and an old resident of this city.

The State W. C. T. U.

The programme has just been completed for the three days' convention of the State W. C. T. U. to be held in Pilgrim church, this city, beginning Tuesday morning, Sept. 10. Dr. Kate Bushnell will speak Tuesday evening and Miss Frances Willard the following evening. Much work has been laid out for the different sessions and many papers of interest will be read and practical subjects discussed. This convention is looked forward to with great interest by the members as being one of pleasure and profit and it is expected that the attendance may be large. Among the Duluth people who figure on the program are Mrs. Wm. S. Woodbridge, Mrs. T. B. Hoover, Mrs. C. E. Shannon, Dr. Fannie Holden, Mrs. E. H. Fish, and others, also many well-known workers in the union throughout the state.

Be Merciful to Yourself,

And heed the appeals for assistance put forth by your liver, when the organ is out of order. Among these are distress in the right side and through the right shoulder blade, yellowness of the skin and eyeballs, furred tongue, sour breath, sick headache, and, above all, irregularity of the bowels. The mercy you extend to the afflicted organ is wisely shown by a prompt course of medication with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, most genial of alteratives, and the hepatic gland early reciprocates the deserved attention by resuming its secretive functions actively and regularly. Among the accompanying good results are renewed digestion, freedom from headaches, and a resumption of activity of the bowels. All bilious symptoms disappear, and appetite and sleep improve. Beneficent are the effects of the Bitters in malarial disease, kidney disorder, rheumatic ailments and nervousness.

Smith and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schofield, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fee, Mr. and Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Fred Green, Mrs. B. Laycock, Miss Green, Misses Jennie and Nellie McKay, Miss Waugh, Messrs. Lost.

A solitaire diamond ring between Duluth National bank building and Duluth Boat house. The finder will be rewarded on leaving the same at 58, Fargusson block.

Mr. L. Kilpatrick, formerly with the First National bank of Duluth, and assistant cashier of the First National bank of West Superior, has gone into partnership with Duncan Macleod, formerly teller in Bell & Eyster's bank, the firm will do a general real estate and rental business. These gentlemen are well-known in business circles, and will undoubtedly make a success in their new undertaking. While it is the intention to do a general real estate business, yet they will make a specialty of renting houses, of which they already have a big list. Parties wishing to rent a house would do well to call at their office, 58 Fargusson block, and examine their list.

MATTERS MARITIME.

Chauncey Hurlbut's Repairs---Some Lumber Cargoes---General Port News.

Shipbuilder Napoleon Grignon says the Chauncey Hurlbut will not be ready to leave port until about Oct. 1, and estimates her repair bill will run pretty close on to $7000. She will be put in complete trim by him.

Boston vesselmen are calling the recent cargo of the five-masted schooner Governor Ames, which consisted of 1,000,000 feet of dry lumber, "the largest cargo ever carried by any vessel." This is an error. The figures have been beaten more than thirty times by Lake Superior vessels, and next week the Wahnapitae, a three-spared lumber barge, will take out of this port nearly 2,500,000 feet of partly dry lumber at one load, something she has twice before accomplished. The same boat has brought to this port on two occasions a cargo of 50,000 railroad ties.

"Those Northern Steamship company boats are great vessels," said a prominent vesselman this morning. The Northern Light brought in 740 tons of merchandise on her main deck and could have taken 200 tons more on the same deck. This was a big one deck load and would make almost a full cargo for many large lake craft. Speaking of line boats, this has been a good season for one which promised so many drawbacks, such as sharp competition and low freights, low water, etc., and the lines have all done well."

COUNTY AGRICULTURE.

Reports to the County Auditor of the County's Crops.

While St. Louis county is by no means an agricultural section of Minnesota, yet the county auditor's report for 1889 shows a remarkable energy among St. Louis grangers. Oats is the cereal most raised, and of this the town of Gnesen had 85 acres under cultivation and Hermantown 86½. Hermantown had 1 acre of corn and Fond du Lac 1 acre of wheat. Eighteen acres of barley were grown. But the staple article of the farm is the potato. Canosia raised 1820 bushels; Duluth, 1540; Fond du Lac, 3001; Gnesen, 2342: Hermantown, 7923: Oneota, 1150; Rice Lake, 1140. These seven towns raised respectively 20, 114, 430, 147, 633, 74 and 89 tons of hay. In the county there are 45 apple trees, three of which are bearing fruit. There are also several hundred crab apple trees. About 244 pounds of wool was sheared and 11,516 pounds of butter made. Hermantown is noted above its fellow towns in that it raised eight pounds of tobacco. Considerable honey is hived in St. Louis and in this Hermantown has also the lead, having sold 5500 pounds, taken from seventy-five hives.

All the above from the records. But as the farmer is a suspicious individual and believes the attempt to get crop reports is for purposes of assessment and taxation he reduces his toils about three-quarters. The actual production of farms in the immediate vicinity of Duluth is fully four times the report.

FOR THE CROP YEAR.

Total Receipts and Shipments at Duluth for the Past Crop.

New Corn Route to the North, And Wheat Market Notes.

The crop year of 1888-9 ends Saturday night and The Herald gives its readers today some figures on which they can ponder. It shows the total wheat receipts for the year to have been, estimating two days, 4,974,720 bushels, with total shipments of 5,936,961 bushels. These are the smallest totals of movement since Duluth became a wheat market of importance. Corn in the same year has shown a greater movement to Duluth than ever before, rounding up 1,600,000 bushels received and 1,200,000 bushels shipped. And this corn trade is evidently in its infancy. Duluth expects from the crop of 1889 a movement of three or four times the total of the year now closing, in other words from 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 bushels of wheat and from 5,000,000 to 6,0000,000 bushels of corn.

Such a bad showing as that of this year, which is far below that of Minneapolis, Chicago or other large markets, emphasizes the fact that Duluth is a grade market and handles principally high class wheats. When wheat doesn't sell by grade and there isn't any high class grain, we don't get it.

More Chance for Corn.

Vice-President E. L. Dudley, of the St. Paul and Duluth railroad, came up from St. Paul last night, bringing with him Hon. Loren Fletcher, of Minneapolis, and A. B. Plough, general passenger agent of the road. Mr. Dudley was feeling particularly good over the beginning of the corn and wheat movement from the Southwest over his road. The St. Paul and Duluth has made traffic arrangements with the Minneapolis and St. Louis, a road running from Minneapolis to Burlington, Ia., and tapping some of the finest corn country in the Southwest. This will put the St. Paul and Duluth on a competitive basis with the Manitoba, Eastern and the Northwestern system for corn traffic and will give three leading routes by which corn in large quantities will be shipped to Duluth. The St. Paul and Duluth has also made corn arrangements with the Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City, whose connections in the Southwest will bring vast quantities of corn here.

The Mills.

Northwestern Miller: The idleness of a considerable capacity reduced the flour output. The aggregate production was 86,200 bbls, against 102,240 the previous week, and 145,400 bbls for the time in 1888. Several mills that have been down for repairs are starting up, and the output is not far from 22,000 bbls. The Pillsbury A was started Monday, leaving all three of the Pillsbury mills in operation. Probably over half of the mills are using new wheat. It grinds very freely and helps the mills using it in capacity. It produces a large percentage of middlings, has thin bran, makes a strong and fine colored flour. The flour market is without much life. The domestic trade is beeter than foreign, but it is a good deal made up of small orders. Prices have gradually shrunken away until $4.75 is a common quotation for patents. The stock at Duluth has been reduced to 60,900 bbls, against 135,300 a year ago.

Local Market.

Wheat opened easy this morning and below yesterday. It closed very weak at 1 below the opening. Trading was mainly for September and December, with small business in August and October. Cash 1 hard, old, dull, nominally at 81½; new, sales at 81¾, just at the close at 81. No. 1 northern, new, in demaud at 77; No. 2 northern 73. August, sales early at 81¾, closed weak at 81¼. September opened at 81, ruled steady at that up to noon, when it slumped to 80½, with sales at the close at 80. October opened at 81¼, closed 80. December opened at 81¾, closed 80¼. May opened at 89½, ruled very dull and closed at 85½. Year wheat 80.

A Gentle Sport.

No gentleman admires a pugilist, and it is not stretching the truth very far to say that no gentleman will attend a prize fight. There are gentler sports more in keeping with refined instincts. One of them is fishing. What more enjoyable can be found than an hour with rod and reel when the fish rise well? If you want something of that kind go to White Bear Lake, Lake Chisago, and the trout streams thereabout. They are on the St. Paul and Duluth railroad—the Duluth Short line between St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and West Superior. For information address A. B. Plough, general passenger agent, St. Paul, Minn.

A NEW CABLE RAILROAD.

A Line Projected Between West Duluth and the West End of Duluth.

Articles of Incorporation of the Iron Car Company--- Notes of News.

Another cable road scheme is said to be on the tapis, in which several Cincinnati capitalists are said to be interested. Oneota property is to be boomed on the strength of it and the projectors are quietly acquiring title to all the land they can get hold of. The company is practically formed, but it will not be incorporated until everything is in shape for the rapid completion of the line.

The road has been surveyed to connect the West End with West Duluth, although the headquarters of the road will be the former place. Beginning near Central avenue in the immediate vicinity of the short line depot the cable line will run Northeast as far back as Tenth or Eleventh streets, then turning slightly southeast it will be built through Oneota, Chandler Park, Hazelwood, Bellview and other additions, striking the West End near Garfield avenue. The company has unlimited capital back of it. Among those interested are a Duluth real estate firm, two Cincinnati capitalists, one of whom is a well-known congressman. Articles of incorporation will probably be filed some time next week, as several parties have been advised not to sell their Oneota property before next Saturday.

Mr. Ettenger's Good Luck.

Mr. R. E. L. Ettenger, chief engineer of the Minnesota Iron Car company, has been appointed superintendent of motive power of the American Midland Railroad company, with headquarters at West Park, Findlay, Ohio. This new position will not interfere with Mr. Ettenger's duties for the Minnesota Iron Car company, but will only necessitate his visiting Findlay a few times each year. Mr. Ettenger inherits his remarkable engineering talent from his father, William Ettenger, of Richmond, Va., a gentleman whose reputation as a talented machinist extends through the South. Robert E. Lee Ettenger is 35 years old, and during his life has held many places of engineering trust. His brother, Geo. W. Ettenger, is a large stockholder in the Minnesota Iron Car company, is general manager of the New York Iron Car company, purchasing agent for several Southern railways and the president of the New York Electric company. The position of both these young men has been attained through their own talents and attention to business, and Duluth is proud to number them among its business men.

The Minnesota Iron Car Company.

The Herald is happy today to be able to publish the articles of incorporation of the Minnesota Iron Car company, which will on the first day of October succeed the Minnesota Car company. The new company is to have a capital of $2,000,000, and there are as many more millions available as the company may at any time find itself able to use advantageously in its business. The clause in the articles which relates to the business the company is authorized to carry on is very interesting and very significant of the future of West Duluth, and indeed of the whole region here at the head of the lake. The clause reads as follows:

The general nature of the business of this corporation, and the purpose for which it is established, shall be to smelt iron and other ore, to manufacture pig iron and its kindred products, railroad cars of all descriptions, locomotives, marine and stationary engines and machinery, iron and steel rails and plates, railroad fastenings, bar iron and forgings of all kinds, and castings of iron, steel, brass and other metals, malleable iron, tubes of iron or steel, metals for structural purposes, and all materials necessary for or incident to the production of railroad equipment and construction, and for any other purpose.

It is customary for new corporations to give themselves ample opportunity for possible future expansion in their articles of incorporation. In this instance, however, there is much more practical intention in the list of articles that the Minnesota Iron Car company is authorized to manufacture than is often the case. It might be well for people interested in Duluth to cut this paragraph out and check off the several items it mentions as they come to be numbered among the products of the New Pittsburg. This company becomes, by this reorganization, the manufacturing section of one of the richest and most energetic corporations in the country, and which has a rich and powerful auxiliary in England, in which the Prince of Wales and Duke of Sutherland are stockholders and directors. In all probability the company will be obliged to double its capacity for the production of cars, and will from time to time add to its plant to accommodate the various lines of railroad supply and construction business its organizers contemplate.

West Duluth Notes.

J. A. McKenzie sold a lot yesterday on Central avenue for $3100. The payment was spot cash, the amount being the highest figure yet reached for West Duluth property.

Vice-President Dudley, of the St. Paul and Duluth, informed Central avenue property owners that the railroad company would begin immediately improving the street approach to its depot. This is an improvement that has long been needed, and shows considerable energy on the part of the St. Paul and Duluth.

Senator Whiteman's houses are enclosed and plasterers have begun interior work.

Street-paving and improvement on Central avenue and Second street is practically finished.

Six months ago the West Duluth station was run by one woman, who attended to all the business. To show how badly good business men have been fooled by the growth of West Duluth it is only necessary to mention the case of Vice-President Dudley of the St. Paul and Duluth. He was asked to put a man at the depot but did not believe there would be any need of additional help for a long time. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Dudley was at the depot and the two men busily employed there earnestly petitioned for a third, saying they could not possibly do all the work longer without additional help.

SENATOR WASHBURN.

He is Today Freed from the Complicated Bonds of Business.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 31.—The business connection held by William D. Washburn, United States senator from Minnesota, with the firm of Washburn, Martin & Co. for a quarter of a century past was terminated today, and henceforth Mr. Washburn will exclusively devote himself to the fulfillment of the duties devolving upon him as a member of the senate. The arrangements recently made between James J. Hill, Thomas Lowry, ex-Governor Pillsbury, H. E. Fletcher and other of the senator's friends with the view of extricating him from the financial difficulties in which he was threatened to become involved have resulted much more satisfactorily than was at first anticipated, and the timely settlement of Mr. Washburn's business affairs, long neglected owing to his ardent devotion to politics, leaves the senator still in possession of an ample fortune, although he is not so wealthy as he was a few years ago commonly supposed to be. It was a generally recognized fact that in his late political struggle with his senatorial rival, Mr. Sabin, Senator Washburn's private resources were very heavily drawn upon, and that in seeking to recoup himself for the expenditure which the success of his campaign necessitated he lost still more heavily in subsequent speculations in the market. He was largely interested in milling and banking, and was president of the "Soo" road. By withdrawing from the unremunerative enterprises with which he became connected, and yielding to the timely advice of his friends, however, the senator has been enabled to yet retain a large proportion of his original fortune.

Suing the Pioneer Press.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 31.—On the 10th of April the Minneapolis department of the Pioneer Press published an article under the caption, "A Mad Lover." It charged Charles Albee, formerly proprietor of a hotel at Lake Calhoun, with being infatuated with a widow in a boarding house, alleging that to enforce his attentions he had threatened to shoot her, had pulled an ugly looking knife and declared he would kill her and then himself. Mr. Albee declares that the article is libelous and has injured his reputation and asks $25,000 damages of the Pioneer Press.

A Milling Consolidation.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 31.—An important milling change is announced in the consolidation of the Standard, Excelsior and St. Anthony mills under the name of the Minneapolis Flour Manufacturing company. The incorporators are to be D. Morrison, Clinton Morrison, Samuel Morse, Theo. A. Sammis and H. B. Whetmore. The company will have $600,000 capital stock. The three mills will give the corporation a daily aggregate capacity of close to 3400 barrels, and make it the owner of about the third largest capacity in the country.

Another Hot Wave.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 31.—It was cool in the West yesterday, but yesterday's report showed that the temperature had risen again and more hot weather was to be expected. So sudden and so marked a general hot "spell" is unusual. At Moorhead the rise of the mercury amounted to 14 degrees, at Bismarck 22, at Huron 16, at Assinnaboine 14, at Fort Buford 10, and at Fort Sully 22. In this city yesterday the temperature was 5 or 6 degrees higher than on Thursday, the highest being 87.

The Congregationalists.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 31.—The Minnesota State Congregational association meets at Park church Sept. 17, and continues in session through the 20th. The propram as arranged is very interesting. Most of the second day will be taken up with organization reports of committees on business, finance and printing, ministerial relief, conference with Free Baptists, improvement of public worship, and the other two days will be filled in with papers, addresses and reports.

Fallen Heir to Property.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 31.—Postmaster Ankeny has received a letter from a party living in Flinton, Ont., making inquiries about a lady whose name was formerly Miss Annie York. She has fallen heir to property in Canada and an effort is being made to find her. She lived at one time in Minneapolis, where, it is believed, she was married to a gentleman named Forest.

WILL HE BE LYNCHED?

The Wisconsin Train and Stage Robber Captured at Republic Today,

And It Is Reported That He Admits That He is Guilty.

ISHPEMING, Mich., Aug. 31.—[Special.]—The highwayman who robbed the Milwaukee and Northern and Wisconsin Central passenger trains, and who robbed the stage at Lake Gogebic and murdered Banker A. G. Fleischbein, of Belleville, Ill., last Monday, was caught at Republic this morning, after a desperate struggle. He will be taken to the county jail this afternoon, if not lynched. Great excitement prevails. The robber's name is Halzhay, and he admits his crimes.

How the Robber Was Caught.

REPUBLIC, Mich., Aug. 31.—Reimund Holzhay, the lone highwayman, who has terrorized northern Wisconsin for five months past, robbing trains, waylaying stage coaches and holding up pedestrians, is in custody. He was captured here this morning by City Marshal Clode and Justice of the Peace E. E. Weiser, and will be taken to Bessemer to answer for the killing of Fleischbein at Gogebic on Monday of this week.

Holzhay confesses to all stage and train robberies.

At 7 o'clock this morning Marshal Clode and Justice Weiser were walking down the street from their homes. When near the railroad depot they met a man dressed roughly and apparently anxious to escape attention. The marshal was struck by his close likeness to the description of the Gogebic stage robber, and immediately stepped in front of the man, saying, "I want you." The stranger whipped his hand to his hip pocket but before he could draw a pistol was felled by Marshal Clode's billy, which stunned him. He was then taken to the village jail, recovering consciousness on the way. At the jail he was searched and three revolvers, three gold watches, four pocketbooks and other articles were found on his person. One pocketbook bore the name of Reimund Holzhay, the robber's name.

He broke down under examination and acknowledged committing the robbery of the Milwaukee and Northern train at Ellis Junction last May and the robbery at Lake Gogebic on Monday last.

Holzhay came here last evening and put up at the Republic house. Police officers in all the towns up here had been furnished with a description of the robber, and when he entered the Republic he was at once placed under surveillance on suspicion that he was the man wanted for murder and robbery.

The Bessemer authorities were telegraphed to for further information, but up to an early hour this morning no response was received from them.

Marshal Clode resolved not to wait for word from them, and to make the arrest, being fearful that if he delayed longer the men might escape.

Among the pocketbooks found on Holzhay was one that he took from Fleischbein, the man whom he killed and robbed when he held up the stage at Gogebic, and which contained letters and papers bearing Fleischbein's name. Another pocketbook evidently belonging to W. G. Decelle, 408 Sibley street, St. Paul, was recovered. There was also a 14-karat hunting case, stem-winding gold watch, the case of which was made by the American Watch company, movement being wheeler and numbered 991,934. The man admits that he took the watch from Fleischbein.

It was some time before Holzhay would admit his identity, but finally, when confronted by the evidence of his own pocket-book, he acknowledged his identity.

Labor Day in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 31.—Extraordinary preparations have been made here for the great Labor day demonstration, which will be inaugurated at an early hour on Monday morning. It is estimated that there will be at least 10,000 men in the line of march. The movement looking to the establishment of an eight-hour day has been more earnestly and strenuously supported here during the past year than in any other state in the Union, and the various labor organizations are confident of its proximate success.

O'Connor's Work.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The noted Canadian oarsman, William O'Connor, has taken up quarters near Twickenham and has gone into training for his coming match with Searle, the Australian champion. They are matched to row for $5000 and the championship of the world. The event, which is regarded with unusual interest in boating circles, will be witnessed by the Oxford and Cambridge university boat crews, whose course on the Thames has been chosen for the contest.

No Compromise Yet.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 31.—No settled compromise has yet been effected between the Window Glass Makers association and the manufacturers, and as the summer shut-down ends today it is believed that a strike is imminent. The manufacturers show no disposition to resume work until the workers withdraw their demand for an advance, and they further assert that they cannot grant the increase of price insisted upon by the men and hold their trade. Should a strike or lock-out result some 6000 men will be thrown out of employment.

THE SCOURGE OF FIRE.

How It Has Brought Disaster to Portions of the Northwest.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 31.—Those who have never traveled over the section of this country known as the Northwest can have no idea of the vast area which prairie and timber fires have covered.

Starting away up in British Columbia in Koutenai county four weeks ago, owing to the parched condition of the country (no rain of any consequence having fallen for ninety days) fire traveled with great rapidity, passing south through Montana into Idaho, extending into Washington and Oregon on the West, then south again into Wyoming and Colorado. Montana perhaps has suffered most, as the fire ran along through the prairie country to the Dakota line, crossed the main divide of the Rockies.

But if prairie fires are disastrous, forest fires are doubly so. Granville Stuart, one of the best authorities on Montana, estimates the loss by these fires in Montana at $100,000 a day. Thousands of acres of virgin timber land have been denuded, and thousands of cords of wood destroyed.

BY THREE VOTES.

Narrow Escape of Robert Gray from Lynching by an Alabama Mob.

JASPER, Ala., Aug. 31.—Robert Gray, in jail here on a charge of criminally assaulting Miss Mamie Saunders, escaped lynching by three votes. A mob numbering 100 had been organized to take Gray from jail and lynch him. Some of the relatives of the young lady met the mob outside of town and begged them not to lynch Gray, as he had not been fully identified as the guilty man. After much parleying the mob agreed to take a vote on the question and abide by the decision of the majority. Two managers of the election were selected, and an empty cartridge box was used for a ballot box. When the votes were counted it was found that a majority of three were opposed to the lynching, and the mob dispersed.

THE GREAT STRIKE.

Probability That it Will be Settled Today Or Very Soon.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Conferences still progress between the strikers and the employers. John Burns, in an address to the men this morning, said that victory was nearer than it had been deemed possible a few hours ago. The men along the lower reaches of the Thames were coming out, and the belief becoming general that the end was near.

No settlement of the strike is possible today. The dock companies express their willingness to consider further authorized proposals from the men.

Mr. Burns, in terms suggestive of the possibility of some compromise, has asked and obtained the consent of the strikers to authorize their leaders to agree upon terms which the leaders might think it desirable to accept.

The Ontonagon and Brule River Railroad.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The commissioner of the general land office has received a reply from the officers of the land-grant-subsidized Ontonagon and Brule River railroad company in northern Michigan in regard to the disputed question of the completion of that railroad. The company desires to know how proof may be offered that the road has been completed. Commissioner Stone informs them to make their proofs to suit themselves and the general land office will consider the evidence as furnished. It is claimed that this railroad company is now enjoying a grant secured from the government, and that an effort will have to be made to dispossess it of the lands secured under the grant. The forfeiture bill passed by congress during the latter part of the last session covered lands adjoining all parts of this road not completed.

Wants the Tax Taken Off Tobacco.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 31.—Commissioner of Internal Revenue Mason is in favor of repealing the internal revenue tax on tobacco. He says: "The whole internal revenue system cannot be abolished, because it would reduce the income of the government too greatly. If the tax on tobacco was removed there would be a consolidation of revenue districts, and fewer collectors would be needed. The reduction in number of collectors, I imagine, would be about 20 per cent. More than this percentage of deputy collectors could be dispensed with. The business of the office would be greatly simplified, as the internal revenue taxes would be all collected at distilleries."

A Northwestern Train Smashed.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—An outgoing passenger train on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad was run into from the rear by a wild engine near Elmhurst about midnight last night. It was rumored that a number of lives had been lost, but the train despatcher says no one was badly hurt. Two sleepers and one or two other cars were badly smashed.

Bad Forest Fires.

PORT HURON, Mich., Aug. 31.—Port Huron is surrounded by forest fires, and considerable damage has been done, with a promise of still more disastrous results if the drought, which has lasted two months, should continue.

The Jury Being Selected.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The proceedings today in the Cronin trial make it more and more apparent that the selection of the jury is to be a matter involving weeks. Both sides are most searching in their questions, and many jurors who at first questioning appear to be quite eligible prove upon more minute inquiry to be wholly incompetent under the law.

A BEAUTIFUL INTERIOR.

The Bower of Beauty in Which Thespis Will Hold Sway.

Manager Haycock's Bookings for Most of the Winter Season.

Mr. Oscar Cobb, architect of the Temple opera and Masonic temple, arrived in Duluth yesterday, bringing with him plans for the decoration of the theater. In point of unique and striking ornamentation no theater in this country will approach it. Everything pertaining to beautifying the auditorium and other interiors is a new creation, used in no other temple of amusement in America. The decorations will be Mooresque—in keeping with the architectural features of the exterior—relieved by Eastern and medieval ornamentation. In color, orange buff will be principally used, while the warmer tints and burnished metal effects will give a beauty seldom seen in any interior. One great peculiarity is the use of burnished steel and brass pieces, that fit with even surface the light-tinted decorations, and on whose mirror-like surfaces the electricity will play with great brilliancy. The under treatment of the proscenium boxes, etc., will partake of the Elizabethean style. In the entire decoration the architect has gone to several styles, selecting those most appropriate. By this means the strongest possible contrast has been arrived at in decorative effects. And in this ornamentation the electricity plays a great part, making the light and shadow a portion of the relief. The boxes and balcony lines and projections find their best effect in solid relief treatment. On these the ornaments are built out by the use of papier mache and stucco, giving the appearance of carved and incised work.

In conjunction with this feature will be considered the carpets and upholstery, which will be carefully selected so as to harmonise with the various styles. Special patterns will be designed in order to carry out this plan and a committee from the Temple Opera company, with Mr. Cobb, will go to Chicago to place the orders. In regard to the theater Mr. Cobb says:

"There will be no more handsome place of amusement in America. In the lower auditorium will be placed a velvet carpet, in the balcony a body Brussels and tapestry and mattings in the galleries and boxes. The windows, encore doors at the side of the stage, the arches and the boxes will be draped with portieres, lambrequns and hangings of damask, velvet and sateens. One beautiful and unique feature will be the line of stained glass rose windows over the proscenium opening and over the tops of the side boxes. These will contain portraits of the most prominent actors and actresses of past and present. They will be illuminated behind by incandescent electric lights. This part of the decoration is possessed by no other theater in the world.

"The interior hall and lobby woodwork will be in antique oak. The doors, deeply paneled, will be hung with brass hinges and bronze ornaments. The auditorium will be finished in the same effects as the boxes and ceiling. Another thing—this is the first theater in the world to be absolutely lighted with electricity, with no provision made whatever for gas. Gas light is injurious to ventilation and unsafe in many other ways, therefore no pipes will enter this building. The seats will be of a new patent and will be fitted with put-a-dime-in-the-slot-and-out-will-come-a-pair-of-opera-glasses appliances. Only a few places have this improvement.

"The stage is the most complete of any where only traveling companies are played. All dressing rooms will be heated by steam and be furnished with hot and cold water. In every detail the theater is up with the times and contains numerous features possessed by no other house, and I have built 175 theaters in my day."

And not only will the Temple Opera house be complete in its details, but its entertainments will be in keeping with the place. Manager Haycock has secured many attractions that have not yet been booked in St. Paul or Minneapolis, all at the head of the procession. The following list gives the companies that will appear here during the coming season:

CITIZENS, THINK ON THESE THINGS.

The mayor has issued his call for a special city election on the 23d of September to determine whether or not the citizens of Duluth will accept the provisions of the act of the legislature providing for a system of parks for the city. It is to be hoped that all citizens who believe in the future of the city will not only appear at the polls on that day and vote, but that they will in the meantime carefully consider the question in all its bearings. The importance of a system of public parks to a city cannot be overestimated. It is a question that has passed beyond the pale of discussion in nearly all the cities which have manifested a progressive spirit. In many of them the fact that parks are necessities has been learned after a very costly experience. Chicago, for example, was eight years deciding to establish parks, and when the affirmative vote was finally secured in the state legislature the city paid ten times as much for the land needed as was at first asked.

There can be no question regarding either the desirability of parks or of the desire of the people of the city for them. The only point which admits of discussion is that of expediency. Ought the city to take the burden upon itself at the present time? It is quite right to look at this phase of the question seriously and question it sharply. What is the burden sought to be imposed upon the city? The legislative act which authorizes the establishment of a park board fixes with exactness the maximum limit of indebtedness which the city may assume. It shall not issue bonds the annual interest upon which will exceed the sum of $12,500. This might allow of about $300,000 being made available for use if the bonds could be placed at as low a rate of interest as is now believed can be done. These bonds may run fifty years before payment, but not longer than that. This amount will not probably do much more than secure to the city the property which is included in the already famous boulevard—the magnificent drive now partially opened from Chester brook to Twenty-fourth avenue west, a distance of about five miles, including the drive along the Chester brook ravine; and it would certainly be a small enough beginning to make. When this property is secured to the city the roadway can be built and abutters assessed to defray the expense. It is a magnificent enterprise, if none of the other plans for parks be considered. And it is an enterprise which appeals with peculiar force to the business sense. It would doubtless pay a handsome dividend if it were to be undertaken as a private venture. During the brief time the boulevard has been open to carriages, even in its present crude and unfinished state, it has attracted the attention and admiration of every visitor to the city and has become the pride and glory of all our citizens. Who can claim that what shrewd business men might undertake as a money-making scheme cannot be safely undertaken by the city, when the element of public benefit and sentiment is added to the most convincing dollar-and-cent argument?

This election which the mayor has called will furnish the citizens of Duluth their first great opportunity to demonstate their faith in and love for this city upon a question which is not altogether a question affecting strictly business considerations, but which will nevertheless affect the future of the city in a more lasting and powerful manner than will the decision upon anything that has recently come before them. It is one of those crises in the history of cities which demands to be met in a liberal and patriotic spirit, and we are convinced that Duluth citizens will so regard it if they once give themselves time to seriously consider it.

The warning beacon fires at Seattle and Spokane have not been fruitless. When a fire breaks out in Tacoma that threatens to sweep the city, there are new fire engines to check the spread of the flames and these engines are promptly on hand. Tacoma is wide awake and it is a good thing for her that she is.

Congressman McKinley's point against an extra session is well taken. He opposes the calling of the session on the ground that it would only have about four working weeks, too short for real service, and that if by chance the democrats should control it, the President would be saddled with blame for lack of prudence. The party and the country will generally agree with Major McKinley, that the regular sessions of congress are enough in these days of peace, and sometimes too much.

The only one of the United States which is really on the down grade is Nevada, and more oddly still this is self-confessed just at the time when the Big Four are entering the Union with such high spirit and promise. As a territory the silver state was a star of the West, but she over-reached her future in becoming a state "to escape the deadfall of her territorial courts," as her first attorney-general publicly declared. With the decline of her big bonanza in the Comstock mines, her population and product have been falling off distressingly with no rooted hope of a change for the better. Now her people are seriously inquiring how they can escape or divide the obligations and cost of statehood. Outside her senators, counterbalancing the state of New York's representation with more than 100 times her population, it is doubtful whether anybody wants to keep up the show of dignity with such insignificant backing. We do not want to see a star drop from our flag, but it is better to let the star drop of her own accord than to flicker out helplessly.

HE GOT THERE.

[Munsey's Weekly.]

The theater that night we attended
Sans chaperone, in a coupe;
As Betty was deeply offended,
We didn't see much of the play.
The trouble began in the carriage;
She vowed she would never give way,
That she never would dream of marriage
With such a fiance.

She said when I pressed for the reason
'Twas a kiss that she saw me bestow
On my cousin—a bud of the season—
Whom Betty, by chance, didn't know.
It did look rather suspicious,
At a ball—in a corner—lights low.
Still, at most it was just injudicious,
Not criminal, no!

She didn't know all my relations,
We've not been engaged quite a week,
So the cause of her recriminations
Was a perfectly nature pique.
I tried with a manner persuasive
My absolute pardon to seek,
But her answers, I found, were evasive—
And so was her cheek.

Then at last I assumed the offensive;
Her trust, I proclaimed, was my right,
I was wounded my manner was pensive,
And I mourned for my life's early blight.
So with sighs that my bosom was rending,
And tears that obstructed her sight—
Well I'm not going to tell you the ending,
But—I kissed her good night.

A Wise Man

Has said "Once I was young but now I am old, but never have I seen the righteous forsaken nor his seed begging bread." The seed of the righteous are today not exactly begging bread, but they are begging their grocers to buy Unrivaled Baking Powder which makes good bread. Twenty-five cents per pound.

A Picnic for the Boys.

Instead of paying $45 and $50 for a custom suit, and as high as $14 for a pair of pants our boys will be able to order a first class suit of clothes from $25 up, and a pair of pants from $7 up, made up in the best of style, first class trimmed and a perfect fit, in fact they will not let a garment leave their store unless perfect. That is what makes them so famous throughout the state of Wisconsin and gives them such an immense trade, they live and let live, and intend to follow up the same principle here. Their store is on 307 West Superior street, and will be the largest and best stocked tailoring establishment in Duluth.

But see! He starts! What heard he then?
That dreadful shout! Across the glen
From the land-side it comes and loud
Rings through the chasm!
It is his wife. She says, "O John,
Our Quaker Oats are nearly gone;
And I forgot, when at the store,
Be sure to stop and get some more."

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, causing distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet efficiently. It tones the stomach, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, banishes headache, and refreshes the mind.

Distress After Eating Sick Headache Heartburn Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would have a faint or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble was aggravated by my business, painting. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS

Have enabled thousands of laboring men and people of ordinary means to become land owners and capitalists. What a blessing they have been to such people in all our Eastern cities! It is the correct theory for the following reasons, viz.:

First--It enables people to deposit small sums at stated times in their own bank (for a building association is really a savings bank in which all depositors are stockholders, and all share pro rata the profits).

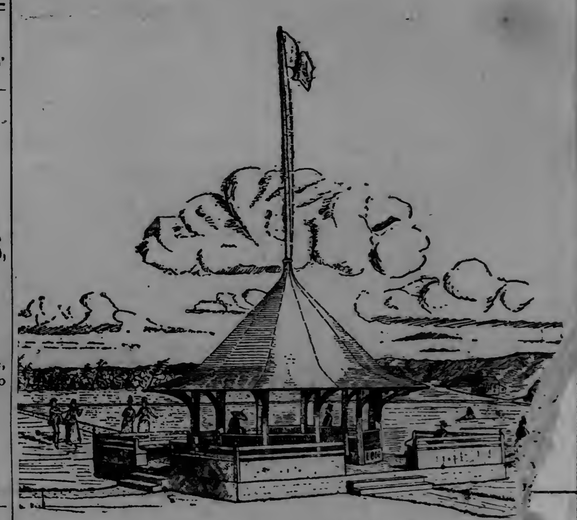
Second--By being required to pay small sums regularly stockholders form habits of economy and thrift, which are indispensable to the acquisition of wealth.

Third--It begets in people an ambition to get homes and acquire wealth for themselves and their families.

We have adopted the Building Association plan In the sale of lots in

CROSLEY PARK.

IF A PERSON WANTS A HOME, LET HIM BUY ONE OR MORE LOTS IN CROSLEY PARK AND THEN BORROW MONEY OF A BUILDING ASSOCIATION TO BUILD A HOUSE AND HE IS FIXED.



CROSLEY PARK PAVILION.

It is far better to buy good Duluth real estate when you can get it by easy weekly payments than to take stock in a building association for the following reasons, viz.:

First--In a building association, if you fail to pay on the very day the fine imposed goes a good ways toward cutting down your profits.

This is not the case if you buy lots in

CROSLEY PARK,

For if you are sick or out of town, or unable to pay for a period of four weeks after the payment is due, no advantage can be taken of you.

Second--Building associations, however well they may be managed, are liable to sustain losses, and in that event all the stockholders bear their share. In buying lots in Crosley Park there is no element of loss to be considered.

Third--A stockholder in a building association does not control his own interest, but is a sort of partner with all other stockholders and subject to the management of other men. If you buy lots in Crosley Park you control your own property absolutely and can sell and assign your contract at any time.

Fourth--The advance in values of Crosley Park lots will be far greater than the profits in a building association.

THINK OF THESE THINGS AND BUY
BUY BEFORE ANOTHER ADVANCE.

THE LABOR DAY PARADE

PYTHIANS CELEBRATE.

A Large Gathering of Knights of Pythias Last Night.

Yesterday was the twenty-ninth anniversary of the organization of the Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias. Last night the Duluth divisions of the Rank of the Lily celebrated the event by a parade, inspection and supper. The divisions, headed by Walkers band, which played unusually fine marching music, tramped with military precision and and faultless step west to Sixth avenue west where they were to meet the Superior divisions of the order. After a turn they countermarched and paraded along Superior street to the hall, the bright uniforms making a handsome effect.

Lieut.-Col. J. K. Shaw, Col. Radcliffe, both of St. Paul, Maj. Keane and others were at the head of the procession. A banquet was held at the Castle hall after the march.

READY FOR THE GRAIN.

Elevators at Head of the Lake Prepared to Handle the Crop.

Now that the Northwest's new crop of wheat is fairly started toward the seaboard, and consequently being received in large proportion at Duluth, it will be interesting to know that the elevators at the head of the lake are all in excellent shape for the handling of the immense crop. During the inactive season just passed, every warehouse has been thoroughly overhauled and placed in perfect condition. Upward of 1100 feet of new belting has been used in repairs, several new cleaning machines have been added, and although a number of changes have taken place in the working forces of the different houses, yet the old hands are still on deck in large numbers, and it is almost a foregone conclusion that the rapid grain handling records of previous seasons will be broken this fall.

Elevator H is expected to show the superiority of its equipment, and it is common talk by the attaches of that house that they will "double discount" the record of 1400 bushels per minute from eight spouts made by E in loading the W. H. Gratwick two seasons ago. A good deal of money has been expended on new spouts and chutes, and every engine and boiler has received a careful overhaul. New planking and extensive repairs and additions to several docks have been made, and taken altogether fully $50,000 has been expended in furbishing up the houses and docks.

With nearly empty bins and a big crop to arrive assured the prospect is fair for an equal of the total handling record for the season of 1887-8. Provision for the corn crop has been made and in every house a number of bins have been set apart for the reception of this cereal as soon as it shall arrive in large quantity. A hole of about 19,000,000 bushels capacity now exists here which will probably see a vast quantity of grain emptied into and out of itself before the close of navigation and will likely be completely filled during the winter by wheat, corn and oats. The Great Northern annex, a practically new house, having never had a bushel in its bins, is ready for the season's work.

A Thousand Cars in One Lot.

The Griffiths, Marshall Grain company of Duluth and Minneapolis has lately bought 600,000 bushels of corn of last year's crop and has made arrangements for shipping it to Duluth via the Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City and St. Paul and Duluth roads. This amount will fill 1000 cars, averaging 600 bushels to the car, and will be no little aid to the winter business of the St. Paul and Duluth road. This jag of 600,000 bushels of corn has already begun to arrive, and will all be handled by the Lake Superior and Union Improvement elevators. It is but a small part of the corn to be handled in Duluth this year.

THE PRICE LIST.

Prices of Many Vegetables and Fruits in Duluth Today.

Fruit is getting scarcer as the season advances, but still some of choice Michigan, Missouri and California growth is yet to be received. The following list gives prices for the week: Melons, 30 cents; musk melons, 15 cents; peaches, 40 cents dozen; grapes, 75 cents a basket and 20 cents a pound; blackberries, 15 cents; bananas, 40 cents; plums, 12½ cents; pears, 40 cents; oranges, 60 cents; lemons, 40 cents; apples, 40 cents peck.

The market still holds many choice varieties of vegetables and the following prices will show them to be much cheaper: Cucumbers, six for 25 cents; onions, 30 cents peck; potatoes, 40 cents; new onions, 15 cents dozen; corn, 15 cents per dozen; tomatoes, 40 cents peck; yellow tomatoes, 60 cents peck; celery, 40 cents dozen; cauliflower, two for 25 cents; radishes, 15 cents per dozen; egg plant, 15 cents each; carrots and parsnips, 40 cents peck; Hubbard squash, 20 cents; cabbage, 60 cents dozen; wax and green beans, three quarts for 25 cents; peas, 8 cents quart; turnip, 80 cents bushel; sweet potatoes, twenty pounds for $1. The apple crop in the East and in Michigan is said to be in a bad way and the harvest will be considerably less than last year, while the price will be higher.

The Language School.

Prof. Henry Cohn has closed his German classes for the season, and will depart for his winter home in a few days. He is greatly pleased with the reception given him in Duluth, and hopes to return next summer to inaugurate his proposed summer school of languages. He has received assurances that warrant him in expecting not less than 300 pupils, and the Duluth board of education has promised to co-operate so far as to furnish school rooms at a nominal cost.

High Time in the Capital.

It must have been funny to see President Harrison with baby McKee on one arm and a basket on the other at the head of a mob in Washington the other day. But it was true if the following from The Washington Post can be credited:

"Great excitement prevailed here yesterday, which continued all night and has not entirely quieted down yet. This ebullition of the people was not the mutterings of a revolution, as one would infer if it had occurred in Paris, for President Harrison, Secretary Blaine and a number of the heads of bureaus were foremost in the mob. Each one with a basket, in all the simplicity of republican institutions, and joining in the clamor with characteristic vim. Neither was it a public expression of enthusiasm at the defeat of the Boston baseball club by the home team. It was just this: An enterprising grocery firm had bought a carload of the celebrated Quaker Rolled Oats, and the turnout was caused by everybody trying to get a package before the supply was exhausted."

Be Merciful to Yourself,

And heed the appeals for assistance put forth by your liver, when the organ is out of order. Among these are distress in the right side and through the right shoulder blade, yellowness of the skin and eyeballs, furred tongue, sour breath, sick headache, and, above all, irregularity of the bowels. The mercy you extend to the afflicted organ is wisely shown by a prompt course of medication with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, most genial of alteratives, and the hepatic gland early reciprocates the deserved attention by resuming its secretive functions actively and regularly. Among the accompanying good results are renewed digestion, freedom from headaches, and a resumption of activity of the bowels. All bilious symptoms disappear, and appetite and sleep improve. Beneficent are the effects of the Bitters in malarial disease, kidney disorder, rheumatic ailments and nervousness.

CAUTION

W. L. Douglas' name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all Shoes advertised by him before leaving his factory; this protects the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If your dealer does not keep the style or kind you want, or offers you shoes without W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on them, and says they are just as good, do not be deceived thereby, but send direct to the Factory for you can get what you want by return mail, postage paid. Dealers make more profit on unknown shoes that are not warranted by anybody; therefore do not be induced to buy shoes that have no reputation. Buy only those that have W. L. Douglas' name and the price stamped on the bottom, and you are sure to get full value for your money. Thousands of dollars are saved annually in this country by the wearers of W. L. Douglas' Shoes. In ordering by mail state whether you want Congress, Button or Lace, London cap toe, plain French toe, or narrow cap toe, and be sure to give size and width you wear. MORE ENERGY IN MINING.

Pioneer and Zenith Iron Mines to be Worked More Vigorously.

Several leading officials of the Pioneer mine at Ely, including President J. A. Humbird, of Hudson, Wis., have just returned from a visit of inspection to the mine. It is in good condition for shipping ore but as yet only two cargoes have been sent by lake and a little more by rail. The visit was to decide whether or not to go ahead much more vigorously and push the mine to the fullest development at once. This was practically decided to do, though no former action has yet been taken, and the Pioneer mine will soon be busily engaged mining and shipping much more than heretofore.

A special meeting of the Zenith Iron Mining company is called for Sept. 10 at The Spalding. It is to consider the advisability of putting in money for further active development of the mine, to prepare it for shipping it quota of ore next year. It is more than probable that the stockholders will decide on active operations. While the Pioneer is ready to ship, in fact has shipped, the Zenith adjoining it, is as yet only partially developed. Machinery will be put in and the mine made ready for an active business next year.

Building Associations.

The September number of The Building Association News, "devoted to the increase of ownership of homes in Duluth," is just issued. It is devoted chiefly to the so-called National associations which the editor endeavors in all his columns to show as irresponsible, expensive and bad in every way for the borrower and stockholder, bad for everyone in fact but the officer who takes out 15 to 17 per cent for "expense," while the legitimate local associations charge but 2 per cent for expense. He certainly makes out a strong case, well backed up with convincing figures, and it would be well for any intending to invest in building and loan stock to read the paper and investigate the disadvantages of the national or outside companies as compared with the companies local at Duluth or elsewhere.

ABOUT MR. HILL.

The Herald's News Substantiated by a Dispatch to a Chicago Paper.

Yesterday The Herald announced that President J. J. Hill of the Manitoba road, would, it was rumored, resign his position at the next directors meeting. It also said that the road had lost money of late, that Mr. Hill had compromised with the directors by remaining as president, without salary, and that he would now be superseded by a salaried official. This has been denied, as it was certain to be, and the denial was accompanied by some rather nasty charges against The Herald, which are repeated about twice a week in the same refined and delicate manner. That The Herald merely gave the news is evidenced by a telegram in The Chicago Tribune dated from Minneapolis and referring to this same matter, which is as follows:

"Rumors of a change of management of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba railroad were given semi-official indorsement today by a gentleman having close knowledge of the road's affairs. According to this report J. J. Hill will resign the presidency of the Manitoba system at the next election of officers, which is called for the middle of September. The Manitoba road has not made money for some time, and when, at the last directors' meeting, this fact was pointed out to Mr. Hill, he acknowledged the fact, and to the half-expressed desire that he step down and out agreed to compromise. As a result of this compromise he has been for the last year the president of the Manitoba, but has received no salary for his services. The road continued to lose money, however, and the directors, it is said, concluded to dispense with his services and place a salaried president in his stead. The new slate, as quietly announced today, is at variance with the one formulated a month ago, when it was intended to make Mr. Manvel president."

The article in The Herald yesterday did not discuss causes, did not assume to reflect in the least upon Mr. Hill's ability or honesty. It simply gave the facts, some of which had been in its possession for a long time. That the Manitoba road wishes to change its policy and that Mr. Hill desires to retire from its presidency are facts which cannot be construed to reflect upon that gentleman in the least. The Herald stands by its news of yesterday, and will not allow the jaundiced views of any sycophantic scandal-mongers to force it into a position of antagonism to Mr. Hill, either as a railroad manager or as an honorable and high-minded gentleman.
